National Champions Go Their Separate Ways

BY PAT PURCELL

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Remember these names:
Tom McCauley
Matt Wanner
Tom Wiker
Joe DeLong
Eugene Hess
Bob Barley

These young men brought national honors to Lancaster County as the Lancaster County Dairy Bowl team. The team, coached by Dale Olver, Penn State dairy science instructor, was actually two teams which competed in 4-H contests and Holstein contests.

McCauley, Wanner, Wiker and DeLong became the 1989 National Holstein Senior Dairy Bowl champions in Minneapolis at the contest held during the national Holstein convention. They qualified for the national competition when they became the Pennsylvania Holstein Dairy Bowl Champions.

Wiker, Wanner, Hess and Barley made up the team which became the National 4-H Dairy Bowl champions of 1988 in Louisville, Kentucky. They were also state champions.

McCauley, Wiker, Wanner and Hess took second place in 1988 at the National Holstein Dairy Bowl Contest held in San Diego, California and were also the state Holstein champions that same year.

As national champions, the members are now excluded from future competitions, but as they pursue their educations and careers, on and off the farm, the seeds of learning which were cultivated during their dairy bowl team days will continue to produce high yields long after their dairy bowl days are over.

Confident, knowledgeable, poised, and composed described the team which was victorious in the national bouts, but it was not quite the case when team members

PMMB Extends $1.05 Through May

BY KARL BERGER
Special Correspondent

The Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board (PMMB) has given another boost to the fortunes of Mid-Atlantic area dairymen by extending its current $1.05 per hundredweight premium on Class I milk through May 31, 1990.

The move strengthens ongoing efforts by the Middle Atlantic Cooperative Milk Marketing Agency (MACMMA) and the Regional Cooperative Marketing Agency to bargain for over-order premiums throughout the region, according to dairy leaders.

In a decision announced August 23, the three-member board determined that higher prices are needed to maintain the supply of milk for local fluid use, according to spokesman Tom Kugel. Various

Corn Smut...Oops...Maize Mushroom Offers Opportunity To Farmers

BY LOU ANN GOOD

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) — If your sweet corn crop is peppered with corn smut, don't discard it. The corn fungus abhored by farmers for many years can put cash in your pocket.

Ears with the fungus are considered a food delicacy in many upscale restaurants, and New York buyer Christiana Arnold is buying all she can find.

Arnold is convinced that corn smut will grow in popularity and offers an alternative cash crop to farmers.

She said, "Of course it will not achieve widespread popularity by referring to it as corn smut." She is educating farmers to call it maize mushrooms or the Mexican truffle or Cuitlacoche. But in its raw stage, the silvery gray fungus that grows on corn is best known to farmers as corn smut.

"It's really a maize mushroom," Arnold explains as she breaks off a piece of the fungus and eats it raw, "because it grows on corn and tastes similar to mushrooms."

East Petersburg farmer, Dave Landis, feeling adventurous, also breaks off a piece and nibbles on it. "It doesn't have much flavor," he remarks.

Arnold agrees. She explains that for best results, the corn maize should be cooked several hours before serving to develop its flavor.

Victor Lefever, a Manheim farmer, isn't adventurous enough to taste the maize mushroom, but he

Hog Is E-Town Fair Supreme Champion

BY LISA RISSER

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — When the dust settled Thursday night at the Elizabethtown Fair, a 246-pound hog exhibited by first-year showman Travis Donough was the supreme champion animal.

The decision was a tough one for judges Rep. Sam Hayes, Dennis Grumbine, Mike Firestine, and Irvin Myers. According to Hayes, the foursome based their decision on "which animal on this day best represents its species? Which is as close to ideal as possible."

Each of the men judged one of four animals, a hog, lamb, steer, and Holstein. Hayes was the sheep expert; Grumbine, a hog producer and owner of Evergreen Tractor, examined the hog; Firestine, a Polled Hereford breeder and with the Lebanon Valley National Bank, studied the steer; and Myers, herdsman for Em-Tran Inc; judged the dairy cow.

Competing against nine-year-old Travis was his five-year-old

Acres Corn Update: Corn futures prices reversed today and lost from 2-1/4 to 2-3/4 cents on local selling and reports of beneficial rainfall last night. This morning was pressured by last night's rainfall and reports of cash price protection. Spread trading was active with most interest seen in the Dec/September. Further pressure was attributed to reports of slack buying interest. September closed 2-1/4 cents lower at $2.36 after trading in a range from $2.35-1/2 to $2.39.

Acres Soybean Update: Soybean futures prices lost steam today and ended the session from unchanged to 6 cents lower. Initial pressure this morning was exerted by reports of beneficial overnight rainfall and scattered price protection. A rally midday was initiated by locals and professionals and helped to boost the November to $5.99-1/2. When outside buying interest faded at these levels, prices lost ground on long liquidation. Further pressure was attributed to spillover from slumping corn prices. November settled 4-1/2 cents lower this afternoon at $5.91-1/2 after trading in a range from $5.90 to $5.99-1/2.

Acres Wheat Update: Wheat futures settled mixed this afternoon with the front two options gaining 1 and 1-1/4 cents while the deferreds dropped from 1-3/4 cents to 2-1/2 cents. This was another day of narrow range trading with the nearbys lifted late in the day by last minute commercial buying. This came on ideas that a tender was forthcoming from Egypt for 400,000 metric tonnes. Further support was linked to cash market firmness. Spread trading was a featured item today with the Dec/Sep active. September settled today at $3.91-3/4 after trading in a range from $3.90 to $3.93-1/2.

Acres Cattle Update: Live cattle and feeders closed higher this afternoon after another slow session. Buying was linked to a continued firm tone in the cash markets and by light commodity fund short-covering. Aggressive pro selling this morning pressured and kept futures locked in a narrow range. Light buy-stops were triggered above yesterday's highs with fed sales light to moderate today with prices fairly stable. Some support came frim ideas that retail beef demand would be on the rise with projections for increase move-

Trucklot buying interest was light and unaggressive on all items but yellow boneless skinless breast which were in tight supply; white product on the other hand was fully adequate and slow in clearing. Whole breasts both line run and rib on were in heavy supply and discounted to stimulate interest. Legs and leg quarters were adequate at unchanged prices. Wings were ample and building at some points.

National Egg Market
August 23, 1989

The market tone was fully steady to firm in instances. Shell egg movement varied as to class of product. Heavier weight nest runs were usually in the best position while cartoned product was attracting the least interest. Supplies were also in an irregularly balanced position but generally confidently held. Breakers bid lower for breaking stock and in several areas adjusted schedules to avoid working with higher priced raw materials.

Eastern PA & NJ Poultry
August 23, 1989

Light type hens traded in a wider price range but were mostly 1 cent higher than last report. The trade sentiment was unsettled. Offers from producers were short of buyer needs. Several flocks were booked to move off farms next week at prices to be determined, and some bids were still not covered. Processors operated full schedules but most report some line time available through early September. Supplies of canner product were adequate for the fairly good demand.

Delmarva Broiler Fryer
August 23, 1989

Movement of ready to cook whole fryers was generally fair today and about as expected for mid-week delivery. Supplies of 2 1/2-3 pound sizes were tight, other sizes were adequate. In the parts complex, supplies of cutlets were short of immediate needs, whole breasts were fully adequate to ample, and dark meat items were adequate. Less than trucklot asking prices were steady at 54-62 cents. Live supplies were adequate. Average live weights ranged desirable to heavy. Today's slaughter schedules were moderate. The trade sentiment ranged barely steady to steady.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC

AUG. 28-SEPT. 3, 1989

Pineapple season in the Bahamas.

Aug 28, 1922, the first radio commercial is heard on WEAF in New York . . Aug. 28, 1828, birthday of Leo Tolstoy Average length of days for the week, 13 hours 12 minutes Aug 30, 30 B C , Cleopatra commits suicide by permitting an asp to bite her Sept 2, 1924, theatregoers cheer Rudolf Friml's operetta Rose Marie and its song, "The Indian Love Call" The course of true love never did run smooth.

Ask the Old Farmer: What I never could understand is why people live in New England when they could move into a climate like ours N P, El Dorado

Not a bit of it! We run clear of fog sometimes for months, and our clams are not made of rawhide

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

New England: August ends with showers and cool temperatures, then September starts the same. showers Warmer temperatures coming for those who wait

Greater New York-New Jersey: Sunny and mild, then showers to end the eighth month September begins with rain and cooler temperatures

Middle Atlantic Coastal: A few showers at the month's end, but milder Then it's a showery September at first, heavy in the west; continued mild

Piedmont & Southeast Coastal: Showers are heavy in the east; it's cloudy and cool September is cool, too, and showers continue for a couple of days

Rosenthal Lehigh Valley presents
AN AGRICULTURAL SEMINAR
What's ahead for grain and meat prices in 1989? Will we see $12.00 Soybeans, $4.00 Corn and 80¢ Cattle?
At our Free seminar, we will fully discuss the current conditions and future prospects for grains and livestock. What effect will this year's grain harvest have on world prices? Will we have $5.00 or $8.00 soybeans, $1.50 or $3.50 corn, $3.50 or $5.50 wheat, $70.00 or $80.00 cattle, $35.00 or $55.00 hogs?

Commodities to be Discussed:
• Soybeans
• Soybean Meal
• Soybean Oil
• Corn
• Wheat
• Oats
• Cattle and Feeders
• Hogs and Bellies

Topics to be Covered:
• Hedging and forward pricing
• Strategies and trading objectives
• Money Management of a futures and options account.
• Using options which offer UNLIMITED profit potential with LIMITED risks.

An excellent opportunity for farmers, dealers and investors to learn about grain and livestock futures and options.
• Our only business is commodity futures and options on futures.
• Same location and principals for over twenty years.
DATE: Wed., Sept. 20
TIME: 7:30 P.M.
PLACE: Holiday Inn, Exit 28, Rt. 81 Grantville, Pa. (Next to Penn National Race Track)

☐ I plan to attend
☐ I do not plan to attend - please send me grain and livestock information and your Market Letter.

OPINION

An Alternative

Few of us would be so naive to believe that because we live on a farm or in a rural area our young people don't experience the same problems as some of the troubled youth from the more urban areas.

We'd like to believe that on the street corners of our small towns, or on the steps of the local hangout or inside the homes of neighbors, families and friends, our young people are entertaining themselves with harmless fun.

We'd like to think that when they go out with their friends that at least some of what they have been told by parents and teachers or seen on TV or read about the tragedy of drug and alcohol abuse has been absorbed. We'd like to think that when they find themselves in a precarious situation, surrounded by their peers, being pushed to try whatever is on hand, that they will have the courage to 'just say no' even if it means being humiliated, embarassed or even ostracized from the group.

We'd like to think that our children, our grandchildren, our sisters, our brothers, our nieces and nephews, and all the young people we know would never take part in any of this debilitating abuse which seems to be plaguing youth and adults alike across the country.

We are half way through the fair season. Parents and 4-H leaders are midway through a season when most of their time is spent carting often times reluctant animals and young people across the county and across the state. They spend hours either in the hot sun or pouring rain holding animals for the next class. And sometimes those efforts of parents and leaders seem unappreciated.

But when you see young people putting hours into brushing and clipping their steer or dairy heifer or sheep, when you see them take some of the abuse which a 1,200 pound Angus-Chianina or 125-pound ram can deliver, when you see a teenage girl give a hug and a consoling word to her tenth placed Jersey heifer, that's a big thank you.

Thanks to the efforts of parents and 4-H leaders and friends of 4-H these young people are doing something constructive with their time. They are learning to care for someone other than themselves. They are learning how to take pride in what they do and pride in themselves.

They are learning how to win and how to lose and to do both gracefully.

We are not so naive to think that our children growing up in a rural environment will not experience the peer pressures that other young people do, but, we believe, with the help of parents and 4-H leaders and all those who work so hard to organize the shows our kids have an alternative.

Keep up the good work.

NOW IS THE TIME

By Jay Irwin
Lancaster County Agriculture Agent

To Be Safe During This Busy Season

We are entering one of the busiest and most hazardous times of the year... silo filling and corn picking time. Blend into that time wheat and barley planting and the last cutting of alfalfa. This means a lot of farm machinery will be on our highways during semi-dark or dark hours.

Slow moving vehicles such as farm equipment traveling on highways presents a real traffic hazzard. The motorist must recognize that a tractor traveling at 10 to 15 miles per hour is almost standing still compared to a 55 mph car. Most highway drivers have never driven a farm machine on the highway and simply do not realize how slow they do travel.

Proper identification and warning is real important. Let's keep alert during this busy fall season both on the highway and in the fields.

To Consider the Need for Extra Silage

If you need more forage this winter consider harvesting more corn silage and using it as a partial substitute for hay, haylage or ryelage in the ration. The extra silage could also be sold as a valuable cash crop. To accomplish this, you may need additional storage, perhaps in the form of a bag or stack. If so, do you have all your supplies and is your custom operator fined up now so you'll be ready when the time comes. Also consider how you will remove the silage from this storage. Will it be used to refill present structures, or will you be feeding it out daily. This could determine where to locate the storage. Remember, when silage is transferred, and goes through a second fermentation, there is some loss of feed nutrients. Thus, it may be more desirable to feed out of the storage on a daily basis.

To Consider Newspaper for Bedding

Many communities have a paper disposal problem. An alternative to dumping waste paper into landfills is to use newspaper as bedding material for dairy cattle, livestock, poultry and small animals.

Some communities are separating, shredding and baling paper. At the farm, these bales are usually put through a bedding chopper or a bale buster to end up with paper particles that are small enough to work through gutter gratings, and small enough to prevent animals from tracking it around. Some farmers place bundles of tied paper into bedding choppers and have been quite satisfied with the results. For more information, call the Lancaster County Solid Waste Authority at 717-397-9968 or Penn State Cooperative Extension Dairy Agent, Glenn Shirk at 717-394-6851.

This sorghum-like grass is a problem on many fields in this part of the state. There are cases where nothing is being done to control this weed; for those I would remind you that Johnsongrass is listed as a noxious weed in Pennsylvania. In corn there is little that can be done at this time of year except cut the seed-heads off and burn them. It'll require treatment at planting time.

However, in other fields such as small grains, where the growth of Johnsongrass reaches 2½ to 3 feet... in the boot stage... the plants may be sprayed with Roundup. These plants are very heavy seed producers; a few plants allowed to go to seed this fall will mean hundreds of plants next summer. Johnsongrass is fast growing and will crowd out most farm crops. We urge landowners to make every effort to eliminate Johnsongrass from their farm. The 1989-90 Agronomy Guide lists control information.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

COMPENSATIONS

Background Scripture: Ruth 4.

Devotional Reading: Revelation 3:7-13.

Perhaps you have noticed in reading the Book of Ruth that God is rarely mentioned in this story. He is mentioned casually a few times by Naomi and once by Ruth -- "your people shall be my people, and your God my God"-- but it is only when Naomi returns to Bethlehem that God is really brought into the story: "Do not call me Naomi, call me Mara ("bitter"), for the Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me. I went away full, and the Lord has brought me back empty. Why call me Naomi ("pleasant") when the Lord has afflicted me and the Almighty has brought calamity upon me" (1:20,21). God becomes very real in the story only when Naomi bitterly complains about her losses.

Before you judge Naomi too harshly, put yourself in her shoes: wouldn't you be bitter if you had lost, not one, but two sons and your husband in a rather short interval of time? Naomi was blessed with a wonderful daughter-in-law, but her losses were so great that she could not allow herself to appreciate that. You and I ought to be able to understand that, in that we often fail to count the blessings we have because we are too distraught over the blessings we do not have.

HOW THE MATTER TURNS OUT

Note that none of the resolution of the problem seems to have anything to do with God either. It is Ruth's decision to glean in the fields and it is Naomi's advice on how to handle Boaz that appear to change their fortunes. No one has a vision from God or hears a heavenly voice. It is Boaz's admiration for and later his attraction to Ruth that turn Naomi's bitterness into joy. Even the problem of the kinsman who had the first right of refusal to Ruth's hand is solved without divine intervention.

But, just as Naomi felt free to complain about the Lord's treatment of her, so she freely gave him the praise when it seemed that the fortunes were turning: "Blessed be he (Boaz) by the Lord, whose kindness has not forsaken the living or the dead!" (2:20). Naomi was delighted and thankful to God that Boaz was showing exceptional interest in Ruth. And when, at last, Ruth is married to Boaz and they have a son, the women of Bethlehem say to her: "Blessed be the Lord who has not left you this day without next of kin; and may his name be renowned in Israel! He shall be to you a restorer of life and a nourisher of your old age" (4:14,15).

THE PRESENCE OF LOVE

So, although God is mentioned very little in this story, still he is a very important part of it. Just because his name was not frequently invoked, doesn't mean that the principal characters were unmindful of Him. Neither is the word "love" mentioned in the story but one time: when the women of Bethlehem speak of "your daughter-in-law who loves you, who is more to you than seven sons..." (4:15). Yet, love is very much present: in the commitment of Ruth to Naomi, in the attraction between Ruth and Boaz, in Naomi's appreciation of Ruth, and in everyone's assumption that the good fortune of Naomi, Ruth and Boaz is the result, not of blind chance, but of the love of God. And, although the word "love" is not mentioned, who can fail to see the love when the writer says "Than Naomi took the child and laid him at her bosom, and became his nurse"? (4:16).

Like Naomi, there may be many times in our lives when we have cause to feel bitter. But let us never become so hurt that we fail to see the compensations which God will provide for us, if we will accept them.

ment next week. Feeders closed from unchanged to 15 higher on spillover from live cattle.

NEXT DAY OUTLOOK: CASH PRICES - steady FUTURES - steady

Acres Hog Update: Live hog futures settled from unchanged on the June option to 82 higher on the October. Initial support this morning was attributed to the continued discount of futures to cash and improved packer demand. Late commission house fund related buying, tied to short-covering, fueled prices further this afternoon. Gains were held in check by midday product weakness and light positioning in advance of today's USDA Cold Storage report which showed frozen bellies at 96.426 million pounds. This compares with average pre-report estimates of 96.0 million pounds and was viewed neutral by the trade. October live hogs closed 82 higher this afternoon at $41.47 after trading in a range from $40.62 to $41.50.

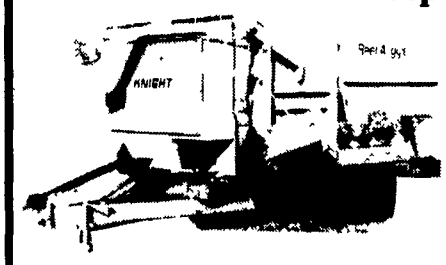
KNIGHT
Reel Auggie
2000 Series
A new concept in TMR Mixers



The Mixer/Blender/Feeder that handles your TMR ingredients including long stem hay. Pictured is the RA2250.

Reel Auggie Mixing Chamber
The reel turns slowly and gently lifts material into the two blending augers. The lower auger is notched and moves the material forward The upper auger, which moves the material rearward, features replaceable knives which assist the blending of long baled hay or other tough roughage materials.

Advantages of the Reel Auggie Design
* No more mixing by force and pressure
* Blending long hay, other roughages, and by-product materials.
* Reduced mixing time with lower horsepower requirements.
* Reduced material breakdown, fluffier material consistency faster, more even unloading.
* Power chute optional in tow and truck mount applications.

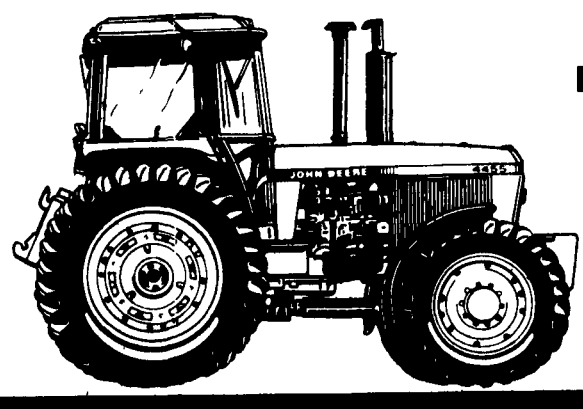
GOOD DEALS from a Good Dealer
JOHN DEERE

Buy a new John Deere tractor now and the interest you pay can go down, but never up

Now through September 30, we're offering money-saving financing options on all new John Deere 55 Series Tractors, from 105- to 200-hp. Stop in today and own a new John Deere for less.

- Low zero-capped variable rates as low as 8.5 percent APR. Your rate can go down so you pay less, but it can never go higher than the starting point, OR
- Choose a finance waiver and pay no interest until March 1. (Interest will begin to accrue March 1, 1990.), OR
- For cash purchases, you'll receive hundreds of dollars in discounts.



Note: Availability of John Deere financing subject to approved credit.

Glories Come To Maryland Holstein Enthusiast

BY SUE CROW
Maryland Correspondent

FULTON, MD — Matthew Iager went to the National Holstein Convention this year with the expectations of learning more about the industry and it's policies. Little did he know that he would come home as one of the six Holstein Association's Distinguished Junior Award winners.

His work, which led him to this trip, started back in Fulton, Maryland, with two January calves given to him by his father Charles, for his first 4-H project. Now Matthew is a senior and his herd consists of 31 head, 18 of which he bred himself with an average classification score of 83 points. His herd is housed at the farm, Maryland Maple Lawn, which belongs to his parents, Charles and Judy and his uncle.

A march junior calf, MD-Maple-Lawn T T Etta brought Matthew the glories which most people just dream about. In 1985 Etta had her most outstanding reign. She captured 4-H and open supreme champion at the county fair; 4-H champion at the district show; 4-H grand and supreme champion at the state fair; first place 4-year-old and Maryland Best Bred and Owned at the open show of the state fair. But the crowning glory came when she captured Honorable Mention Junior All-American that year.

Etta has over 120,000 pounds of lifetime milk production and is classified Excellent 90. She is a potential Gold Medal Dam when her daughters freshen. Matthew has six heifer calves from her, two being twin Starbuck heifers.

Living on a 1,100-acre registered Holstein farm between Baltimore and Washington, D.C. has the constant pressure of housing developments nearby. But that doesn't seem to bother Matthew or his two brothers as they have managed to continue the family farm into its fifth generation. Not only is there the usual farm work and crops to maintain, but there is also a 50-year-old turkey operation in which the entire family is involved.

Each year 10,000 turkeys are raised to be fresh-killed and sold retail at the farm for Thanksgiving and Christmas. The tom turkeys are frozen for restaurant deliveries for the nearby cities. This location to the nearby suburbs has also enabled Matthew and his brothers to have a profitable produce stand at which they work in their spare time. Many vegetables have been entered at the local fairs as well as used as 4-H gardening projects each year.

Since 4-H has been a part of Matthew's youth, he has experienced many new avenues of life. Not only has he served as a leader in the respective levels in the Howard County 4-H Dairy Club, but he has been in many contests as well. In the junior dairyman contest held in conjunction with the Maryland State Fair and the Eastern National he placed high. Matthew was also a member of Maryland's first-place Dairy Bowl Team which won the National Holstein Dairy Bowl Contest in Indiana.

The Howard County 4-H Dairy Club was first in the nation in 1981, and 1985 in the Hoard's Dairyman Judging Contest. He placed seventh in that last year. For the past two years the club has been High Honorable Mention, while his family placed first for two years in a row in the Family Division.

The experience has given Mat the opportunity to learn more about himself and his ability to work with others. It has also enabled him to pursue another direction--dairy judging.

After many years of practice and judging hundreds of classes, he reached his goal of making the state team. At Harrisburg, representing Maryland, he was high individual in Oral Reasons while the team placed fifth. At the National Contest the team went to three points away from a trip to Europe. Mat hopes to make the collegiate dairy judging team and later to make the Approved Judges List.

Not only has judging helped to build his own character, but it has taught him a lot about what to look for and breed into his own cattle. His responsibilities have increased on the farm as he has gotten older and he has been able to draw from his past experiences.

The show string is one area where he and his brothers, Michael and Mark are solely responsible. After he joined 4-H, the showing tradition which was started in 1951 by his father, was left to be carried on by the boys. The fitting and showing areas are now areas where Mat helps younger 4-H'ers at the various shows.

School has played a larged part in Matthews development. He is listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and "Outstanding High School Students of America", on the National Honor Society, and is on the Honor Roll. He plays percussion in the concert and marching bands and is on the local little league baseball team.

In the fall Mat plans to attend Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture in Doylestown, Pennsylvania where he has been awarded a 4-year Honors Scholarship. After college Mat hopes to enter Maryland-Virginia School of Veterinary Medicine.

The concern for the health of his own as well as the farms cattle has lead held to pursue the goal of becoming veterinarian. The 4-H motto, "To make the best better," is still part of his life in all his projects.

This is evident as he is now serving as the vice-president of the Maryland Junior Holstein Club. His leadership abilities continue to grow as do his experiences.

NON-TOXIC CROPS
WANTED
AT A GOOD BONUS PRICE.

Especially corn, wheat and soybeans to make poultry feed for broilers (as well as other meat) for a large N.Y. buyer for the demand by big chain stores for toxic free, unpolluted meat.

Consumers are fast wising up and demanding food that is fit to eat before they get cancer and other pains considered incurable, except by naturpaths. Therefore start preparing your soil for the premium price without delay.

LOW INPUT FARMING

You read this phrase in farm papers recently. We had this kind of AG PROGRESS for a dozen years already. There is no use spending thousands and thousands of dollars for research, increasing the tax. Our biological materials and fertilizer last long, doesn't dissapate, releases nutrients already in the soil, and extracts them out of the air. Therefore our customers have very low input farming after the first year, and get more nutritious, more disease resistant, and larger crops than their neighbors - up to 250 or 300 bushel corn and 90 bushel soybeans per acre, and don't need to spray alfalfa. Also extremely high sugar brix and protein in crops, which is better than bought protein. Customers report their cows are doing so good, so free of problems on the organic feed. It's because NATURE makes a better balanced feed than man can. Their knowledge is limited and prone for mistakes.

Ask us about the 2nd Annual Environmental Field Days and exhibits in Lancaster Co. in mid-Sept., 4 days. One speaker Dr. Calahan will speak on "Why Insects Attack Plants, and Why Not Nutrient Rich Plants". Another will tell why weeds are less a problem organically and how to control them naturally thru right fertilizer and better cultivators.

There is much to learn before the people perish (Prov. 29:18)

One of our good fertilizers lasts 4 or 5 years or more without adding any. Apply it now before the greatest trouble the world has ever seen, coupled with a great depression being very close, then you can survive better. Apply as soon as crops are off, to condition the soil for next year with micro organisms, soil bacteria and millions of earthworms - free fertilizer factories, which make our customers rejoice. Top crops with free fertilizer.

Colored Breeds Shine

BY VAL VANTASSLE
Berks Co. Correspondent

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — A drizzling rain may have kept Ronnie Milsap fans away from the Kutztown Fair Tuesday night but it couldn't slow the area's farm families down. Parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins lined the show ring to watch the youngsters compete in the fair's Colored Breeds Show.

Randy Balthaser, Bernville R.D. 1, had a banner evening. His Brown Swiss aged cows Windmill Balison Gilda and Victory Acres Weslley Nadie were named the Grand and Reserve champions for the breed. His senior calf, Northkill Creek N-Oreo was the reserve junior champion for the open show with Northkill Creek Custom Hazel, an intermediate calf, getting the reserve honors in the youth division.

While Randy took home the ribbons it was his younger brother Jason that got the real prize. His junior two-year-old Northkill Creek ESP Nifty gave birth to a heifer named Nexus just an hour after the show had ended. It was quite a birthday present for Jason who turned 14 the same day.

Pinesedge Farm had the junior champion of the open show. Sam Yoder, better known as a promoter of the Milking Shorthorn breed, was very pleased with the honor. "It's the first Brown Swiss we ever bred. She's kind of spoiled," he explained.

The Vail family of Myerstown also had a good daya t the fair but instead of ending with a calf it began that way as daughter Jill's three-year-old Brown Swiss also gave birth to a heifer named Lindsey. Later in the evening Jill's mom, Karen exhibited her 4-year-old, Ayrshire, Timberlawn Starbright's Roxy who was honored as the breed's grand champion. Son Jed had the junior champion, a junior calf.

Chris Blatt was also busy picking up ribbons with his reserve grand champion, and reserve junior champion in the open show as well as the grand and reserve champion in the youth show.

The Hoch Family was waiting for a calf but Blossom, a perky little Jersey, waited until the next day to arrive. In the meantime Denise Hoch won the Jersey grand championship with her aged cow, Irish Creek Deni M. Giggles. John Koinski followed with his junior two-year-old, Irish Creek Stone Chocolate.

Junior honors went to Jennifer Neiman and her junior yearling, while Suzanne Dietrich's intermediate calf was the reserve.

Susan, Amy and Daniel Hollenbach dominated the Guernsey breed. Susan's 9-year-old, Almira of Mountview, was the grand champion while her dry cow Blue Mtn. View Admiral Angie, was chosen as the reserve. Amy's junior yearling was the junior champion followed by brother Dan's intermediate calf.

Pinesedge Farm also had a number of Milking Shorthorn winners including all the champions and reserves of the open show. Pinesedge Lassy Nilla, a dry cow, was named the champion of the event.

In the youth division Dwayne Brensinger's junior calf took top honors followed by an intermediate yearling belonging to Eliot Reimert. Both animals were bred by Pinesedge Farms.

Denise Hoch's aged cow, Irish Creek Deni M. Giggles, topped the Jersey breed at the Kutztown Fair. John Koinski owned the reserve, a junior 2-year-old named Irish Creek Stone Chocolate.

Dave Smith of Annville judged the event:

Bushels Better.

Ask for these varieties:

2555

- Early-maturing; exceptional yield potential.
- Strong straw; good test weight.
- Excellent Spindle Streak Mosaic and Soil-Borne Mosaic Virus tolerance.
- Slow reaction to powdery mildew keeps the disease from progressing and generally does not affect yield.

NEW! 2548

- Very high yield potential.
- Short plant height and excellent straw strength make this a good variety for intensive wheat management.
- Better drought tolerance than 2551 and 2555.
- Offers very good protection from stem and leaf rust and leaf blight.

Pioneer customers save automatically on wheat seed.

Maryland Dairy Cattle Leasing Program

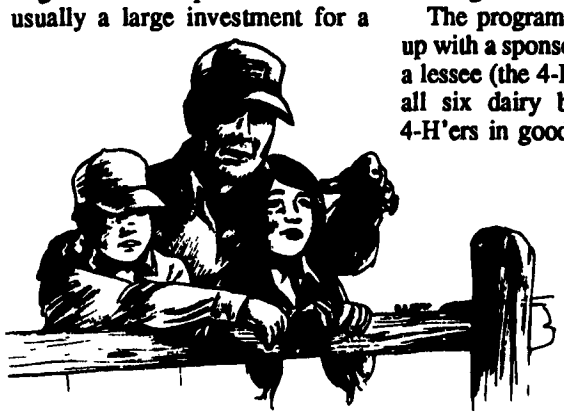
Maryland Correspondent

KENNEDYVILLE, MD — Ever find yourself in the position as a parent regarding the projects your 4-H'er chooses to pursue as being out of the question for one reason or another.

Take for example, working with registered dairy animals as a 4-H project. Now if you live on a working dairy farm or if there is one in the family or even if you own some land, this type of project is not one which would cause any major problems. However, if you don't have a farm background or don't have the facilities to house an animal, this causes real problems for your child. Money might also be a problem as it is usually a large investment for a project which might only last one year.



The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service has come up with a way to solve all of these problems and not be a burden to the 4-H'er, parent or the animal. It's their 4-H Dairy Cattle Leasing Program. It started a few years ago in Queen Anne's County and has blossomed into a full statewide program this year.

Its objectives are to help develop character, knowledge, and a sense of responsibility in the 4-H youth in areas where it is not previously possible without living on a farm. The opportunity to work with registered dairy animals was open to farm youth coming from non-registered dairy farms also.

The program was basically set up with a sponsor (the farmer) and a lessee (the 4-H'er). It is open to all six dairy breeds and to all 4-H'ers in good standing in their 4-H or dairy clubs.

The only written requirement is a project record book which the 4-H'er must keep on each animal to be turned in to the club leader at the end of the project year. A maximum of two animals can be leased in one project year. It is open to all 4-H'ers who did not own or exhibit any dairy animals as a project the previous year.

A list of specific responsibilities are listed on a Lease Agreement which can be found at the extension offices throughout the state. A fee of $1.00 is charged and the contract must be signed by both parties and is filed at the extension office prior to April 1 of the project year.

The agreement can be broken before the end of the project year, if the lessee does not fulfill his responsibilities, or if there are changes in the farming operation.

The 4-H'ers can show these animals in any of the any of the Maryland 4-H shows for the contract year. The show expenses are paid by the 4-H'ers, but the premiums and awards are also kept by the 4-H'ers. The sponsor can also enter and exhibit these animals as well, but only in the open shows.

The leased animals must come from herds within the county where the lessee holds active 4-H club membership. The animals are housed and maintained at the sponsor's farm with the farmer retaining ownership as stated on the registration certificate.

The state has 14 youths participating in the program with 22 animals. This summer one animal won the junior champion rosette at a Jersey show.

is enticed by the profit of supplying the mushrooms to Arnold. On Thursday, he had 200 ears that he sold to Arnold for 50 cents a piece. For his healthy sweet corn, he gets about 15 cents an ear from a local grocery.

"Hey," Landis said, "You gotta get what you can off the farm. The smut...oops," he corrected himself as he cast a mischievious glance at Arnold, "the maize mushroom may become an alternative crop."

But supplying the mushrooms is no easy task. First the ears containing the fungus must be spotted. Maturity is reached about one week before corn maturity. It must be hand picked to prevent damaging or busting to the mushroom. Silk should remain intact. Ears must be stood on end vertically and kept refrigerated, not in plastic but wrapped in paper, if not used within 24 hours.

Determining why some ears grow the fungus and others do not baffles scientists, but it appears that the heaviest smut infection occurs when rainfall is light during early stages of growth followed by moderate rainfall as the corn approaches maturity. Last year, which was a drought year, many farmers were plagued by the fungus. Corn grown on soil high in nitrogen and organic matter frequently shows more smut than corn grown on soil well balanced in fertility.

Older seed strains of Silver Queen corn seem more susceptible to the fungus while new varieties have become more resilient to the disease. The fungus is more prevalent on plants mechanically injured by hail, insects and detasseling.

Lefever said his field's outer rows had a higher percentage of the fungus than that found in the middle of his 30-acre corn field. He attributes the difference to the fact that his corn sprayer damaged the outer rows.

Smut can be found on the tassels, ears, kernels, stalks or leaves of some corn. Arnold wants the part that grows on the kernels as the corn also is used in cooking.

As the galls enlarge, they are glistening, greenish or silvery-white. Later the inner tissue darken due to spore formation. If the black color has developed, the product is too old for use. The white outer membrane remains intact until the gall ruptures. A single smut gall of medium size contains more than 200 billion spores.

Arnold, who grew up in Mexico, remembers eating the delicacy during her childhood. She said, "There are more than 2,000 distinct Mexican dishes. This area is familiar with about 15 of the cheapest and easiest to prepare. I'd like to raise the standard of Mexican food by introducing some of Mexico's incredible, unique dishes."

As an anthropologist, who researches regional dishes, Arnold and her New York company, El Aficionado, Ltd., provides specialty ingredients necessary in the preparation of fine Mexican food. She is pleased that the exotic maize mushroom is slated to be featured at the New York Culinary School on December 12.

She said, "If it takes me years to convince farmers that the maize mushroom is a viable cash crop, I'll be there. There's a large middleclass Hispanic population spending a potential $24 million a year that should be exploited by the American farmer."

Arnold wants to break farmers from looking negatively at the maize mushroom as a fungus instead of as a cash crop. She'd like to make it as easy and profitable as possible for farmers and the person buying the product.

Last year, Arnold purchased 50 pounds from farmers and this year 3,000 pounds. "I could have sold tons if I had it," she said. Arnold is looking for suppliers who have at least 200 to 300 ears available for each pick up. Call (212) 477-8947.

Because the maize mushroom must be picked up within 24 hours or refrigerated, Arnold is experimenting with renting cold storage space in pickup areas. She said if farmers would band together and have a pickup point, it would be most favorable. The ears stay fresh under refrigeration for five days. Although ears can also be frozen and do not lose their flavor, most restaurants prefer them fresh.

Lefever said, "Picking the maize mushroom is time consuming. There's a lot of labor involved. After the first picking I had to throw away almost half of the ears, but it gets easier each week because I now know what to look for and how to handle the ears."

Lefever also grows soybeans, alfalfa, and boards heifers on his Manheim farm. He operates Fink

French Fries, which appears at Farmer's Markets and fairs. On a good day he fries 900 to 1,300 pounds of potatoes.

Arnold, who markets the ears to the Quilted Giraffe in New York, said the restaurant charges $12 to $15 for a maize mushroom entree. It can be used as a complement to vegetables, a base for sauces, a filling for meat and fish, a soup or fried in lard or vegetable oil. One creative chef is making a truffle-like ice cream with the mushroom.

For those interested in the exotic Mexican food, try the following recipe.

Souffle of Cuitlacoche

½ pound pumpkin or squash blossoms, stems and stringy sepals removed ½ pound maize mushroom
3 tablespoons safflower oil
1 onion finely chopped
2 small chile poblanos (roasted, peeled and minced)
2 sprigs of epazote, stems removed and minced
Salt to taste

Remove the mushroom from the cob and chop it roughly and set aside with the pumpkin blossoms. Heat oil and saute onion and garlic until transparent. Add the mushrooms, blossoms, chiles, epazote and salt. Simmer over medium flame until the liquid and the blossoms evaporate. Cover and store the mixture for one hour in the refrigerator.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

Getting children ready for school is a reality in many families and for others it is only a memory. By the end of August it is time to buy new shoes, shirts, pants and dresses for school. Often one wondered where the money would come from for these purchases.

In reading my diary of twenty years ago, I'm amazed at the time that was put into 4-H projects. There was always a meeting somewhere or a project to be finished. As a leader I put a lot of miles on our station wagon hauling members to see educational sites. And the day before the final round-up was very busy arranging bouquets of flowers, preparing geology projects and finishing furniture to be shown. But those purple rosettes and other ribbons seemed to make it all worthwhile. The longer they were in the clubs the more they learned about things like public speaking and how the vegetables were to be displayed in order to win.

Twenty years ago our oldest daughter was in Europe and the oldest son had a job at the shore. But that still left four at home to help their parents. That year I had bushels and bushels of tomatoes. Some were sold and many were canned.

The men were building at the barn so there would be room for more calves. And our youngest daughter ran her bicycle off a ledge and into a glass stormdoor. It took ten stitches to close the wound.

The peaches that I bought to can cost less than half of their present day price. And, the grocery bill for six was the same as it is for two today. At that time we made ice cream in our freezer quite often and ate lots of pies that our girls baked for us.

On top of all this activity was the big job of helping to move my parents from one 10-room house to another 10-room house -- and they insisted on taking most everything with them. No wonder that I lost ten pounds that summer as I ran from one job to another.

Benefit Sale For Brain-Injured Child

A benefit sale will be held on September 2, for J. Daniel Fisher. The six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher was hit by a truck on June 22.

Since then he has been hospitalized for brain injury and has remained in a partial coma. To date, hospital and rehabilitation bills are more than $100,000.

The benefit sale will be held at the Aaron Beiler Farm, New Holland, along Route 23, 1 mile from Good's Furniture. Chicken barbecue, baked goods, subs, crafts, produce, quilts and other items will be sold.

To donate items or for more details, call (717) 354-6066 and ask for Rebecca.

Kutztown Holstein "All In The Family" Show

BY VAL VANTASSLE
Berks Co. Correspondent

KUTZTOWN (Berks Co.) — Daview Pete Ginger, a big 3-year-old belonging to Jeffrey Davis of Leesport won her second Berks County grand championship Monday night at the Kutztown Fair Holstein Show.

Ginger, recently named the grand champion of the Berks County 4-H show, was also accredited with the best udder in the event.

"She is a very correct animal who carries herself well. She is in milk and is obviously milking well. She has a super rear udder attachment," said Judge Donald Welk of Strasburg.

Ginger was closely followed by Quarry-Field Lot Chastity, a big growthy sr. yearling owned by Gary and Martha Heffner. Martha was happy but surprised by the placing. "I knew she was big, but I didn't expect her to do as well as she did. That's why I had Naiomi (Herbert) leading her during the junior champion judging."

Chastity also had sentimental value to Heffner. "Her dam was part of my dad's herd. We bought her and bred her and Chastity was the result," Heffner explained.

In the youth division Ginger was named grand champion followed by Erica Davis' Daview Elevation Ballerina. Erica also had the reserve junior champion, intermediate calf named Daview Judge Beezus. "She's the nicest intermediate I've ever had," Erica said enthusiastically.

Ag Progress Alumni Luncheon

BY JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

ROCK SPRINGS (Centre Co.)— Linking research to extension, and thus to the grassroots farming community, is a forefront goal for Penn State's College of Agriculture, according to the college's dean, Dr. Lamartine Hood.

Dean Hood reviewed highlight accomplishments and goals of the College of Agriculture during Tuesday's Alumni luncheon at Ag Progress Days. Several hundred alumni and guests turned out for the luncheon, including Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture Boyd Wolff.

A better coupling between education and research at the College will stimulate necessary agriculture feedback into research studies and help focus on topical and timely issues, he added.

According to Dean Hood, fall enrollment in the College of Agriculture is about 1900 students, down some 40 percent from enrollment a decade ago.

"That is showing a lack of understanding of the careers available in and related to contemporary agriculture," related the Dean.

Declining Ag College enrollment largely spurred founding of the Governor's School for Agriculture, an intensive summer-session for about 70 selected high schoolers from across the state. Majority of this summer's "graduates" of the Governor's School were presented at the luncheon, with many of them assisting with Ag Progress Days activities.

State funding of agriculture extension by the Pennsylvania legislature has increased in the past two years, in contrast to reduced extension budgets in many states across the country. Strong financial support has enabled addition of 55 extension agents and 20 new faculty members, including three 4-H curriculum materials specialists and graduate assistantships in extension.

area farm groups and dairy cooperatives testified to that effect at a day-long PMMB hearing August 9.

Board members Leon Wilkinson of Avon, Pa., a dairy farmer, and J. Robert Derry of Indiana, a former dairy industry official, voted for the continuation. The third member, Paul O'Hop of Moscow, Pa., did not vote, Kugel said.

This is the second time the board has decided to continue the premium, which was originally implemented September 1, 1988, in response to financial pressures created by last year's drought. In February, the board voted to continue the extra charge—which is tacked onto the minimum farm milk prices PMMB sets in each of its six regions—through August.

The action appears to signal a greater willingness to divorce local farm milk pricing from the levels set nationally. Significantly, the nine-month extension is three months longer than both the original order and its first continuation. Moreover, the extra $1.05 charge will occur during a period when milk prices in the nationwide federal order system—propelled by a rapidly rising Minnesota-Wisconsin price series—are expected to reach their highest level since the early 1980s.

In asking for the continuation August 9, the representatives of local farm groups cited the negative impact that wet weather earlier this year had on crop production, particularly of forages, and argued that area farmers continue to need higher prices than those set by federal orders. Mel Eckhaus, an official of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association, said witnesses presented by that group cited the reduced quantity and quality of this year's hay crop. Another witness noted that farmers in 34 Pennsylvania counties already are eligible for emergency feed assistance because of federal disaster declarations.

Even area milk dealers embrace this argument, according to Earl Fink, executive vice president of the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers.

"We think it (the PMMB premium) is necessary. With the heavy rainfall this summer coming on top of last year's drought, the farmers are faced with a real tough feed situation," he said.

Fink noted that statewide milk production in July dropped five percent from the July total a year ago. (Production in June was down four percent in Pennsylvania and seven percent in Maryland, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures.) With schools slated to reopen soon, the local supply-demand situation will be "real tight," Fink added.

Dealer acceptance of farmers' arguments of the need for higher returns continues to provide MACMMA, the over-order bargaining agency in Federal Order 4, with the key to its success. Laura England, a spokesman for Atlantic Dairy Cooperative, one of MACMMA's members, said of the dealers, "They're still very cooperative."

The PMMB's authority to establish minimum farm milk prices extends only to in-state dealers that buy milk produced in Pennsylvania. However, its pricing orders have established a standard throughout the Mid-Atlantic region. Since last September, when the $1.05 premium first went into effect, MACMMA, for instance, has charged all Order 4 buyers the same $1.05 over-order price.

The result has been extra income for producers. On average, Pennsylvania farmers realize about half of the $1.05 in their milk checks, according to Jim Fraher, an economist for Atlantic who testifed at the August 9 hearing. Because the premium applies only to Class I milk used for fluid products, the actual amount any particular farmer sees varies with the Class I utilization percentage of his particular market, Fraher noted.

Free Country Music Shows At Maryland Fair

TIMONIUM, MD — Lee Bradley, a high-spirited contemporary country music singer/songwriter and World Champion Tobacco Auctioneer Bob Cage will be the featured performers on the R.J. Reynold's Caravan at the 108th Maryland State Fair.

Bradley, an exceptional entertainer, is well-known for his smooth ballads, and hard driving contemporary country tunes.

Cage, who will perform from September 1-4, has been a tobacco auctioneer for 33 years and won the 1984 World Tobacco Auctioneering Championship by outchanting 63 other professional tobacco auctioneers. Cage's voice is currently used by the Smithsonian Institute demonstrating the art of tobacco auctioneering.

The R.J. Reynold's Caravan, a traveling sound stage, will not only feature free country music shows and auctioneering demonstrations, but a walk-through exhibit inside the Caravan that traces the history of the tobacco crop's production and manufacturing processes.

The 1989 Maryland State Fair runs from Saturday, August 26 - Monday, September 4, at the Timonium Fairgrounds. For further information on the R.J. Reynold's Caravan contact Deidre Dyre at 919/741-7644.

Red Rose FFA Chapter Plans Ag Career Day

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — The Lancaster County FFA Red Rose Chapter is planning an Agricultural Career Day for all students enrolled in vocational agriculture. The purpose of this career exploration event is to introduce vocational agriculture students to the many career and college opportunities which are available to them. The students will range in age from seventh through twelfth grades.

The Career Day will be held on October 25th in the Ephrata Recreation Center next door to the Ephrata Junior High School.

Three Field Days Set At Doebler's Hybrids

JERSEY SHORE (Lycoming Co.) — The Doebler family will conduct tours and show off new Extra Performance hybrids at three separate hybrid corn field days two miles west of here in early September, it is announced by Ted Doebler, president of Doebler's Hybrids.

Field days will be held between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Sunday, September 3; Saturday, September 9 and Sunday, September 10, he said.

The Doebler farm is located 1,000 feet south of the Pine Creek exit of Route 220 between Williamsport and Lock Haven in Clinton County.

"A free lunch will be served each day and growers will see 2500 acres of our hybrid seed crop," Doebler reported. Star attraction, he said, will be a new 82-day Extra Performance single cross being released this fall.

Visitors also will have a chance to study research plots and modern drying and handling facilities, he said.

A new controlled storage warehouse for carryover seed is in the early stages of construction, it was added. The newest model IBM replacement computer also will be demonstrated.

Supreme Champion Rematch Likely

HARRISBURG (DAUPHIN CO.) — Excitement is already building over the possible rematch at the 1989 Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show next month between "C-Renvale Prestar Della," the 1988 Supreme Champion, and the Five other breed champions that competed for the title last year.

In making the announcement, show president Obie Snider notes that the 1988 champs must again win their breed shows before being eligible for the supreme champion contest.

The PA All-American will be held September 25-29 at the Farm Show Complex, Harrisburg, with the face off of the six breed champions scheduled for approximately 1 p.m., September 29 in the large arena.

"The supreme champion contest was started in 1988, and quickly became the focal point of the All-American. The quality of the finalists will not be surpassed anywhere," Snider says.

The 10-year-old "Della" is an Excellent 97 Holstein from Lylehaven Farm, East Montpelier, Vermont. No Black and White has ever classified higher.

"She'll be at the All-American if she keeps milking the way she is right now," says farm general manager Bob Fitzsimmons. And that's an understatement.

In late July, Della was working on another 30,000 pound record. The big Canadian import tested 5.2%, which would put her close to 1600 pounds fat over the 365-day route.

But Della's competition isn't going to silently fade away, Snider points out.

Ayrshire hopeful is "Beaver Creek's Chad's Julie" which won grand champion honors at the 1988 All-American for Maple Dell Farm, Woodbine, Maryland, and is now owned by Magic Meadows Farm, Charlotte, Vermont.

"We hope to show her," says new owner David Harford. She freshened in June and is milking 80 to 90 pounds a day.

Julie's 365-day record as a senior two-year-old was 18,124 pounds milk and 736 pounds fat.

Zimbabwe Farmers Sample Farming American Style

BY LISA RISSER

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — "The cost of farms is terribly high; about the only way young people can get farms is by inheriting them."

Sound familiar? Well, Americans aren't the only people who find the cost of farming getting higher as the cost of livestock and food they produce remains the same or drops.

Two Zimbabwean farm couples recently explored the problems experienced by farmers worldwide with their Lancaster County counterparts.

The Alcocks run about 3,000 head of Sussex-Afrikaner crossbred cattle on 27,000 acres. Steers are sold as 800 to 1,000-pound three-year olds that dress at about 520 pounds.

Mike and Elsie Jahme purchased their 550-plus-acre coffee and tea farm in 1984. They were able to do so only through a bit of creative financing.

"The owner gave me the title (to the farm) so I would have collateral to buy the farm," explained Mike. "And I paid him back over a period of time. It takes trust."

The Jahmes and Denise and Arnie Alcock were in Pennsylvania for about two weeks, staying with farm families in Westmoreland and Lancaster counties. They took a side trip to Ag Progress Days, where both couples were impressed with the quantity and quality of equipment available to American farmers.

"The mechanization was fantastic!" exclaimed Mike, who was particularly interested in the forage equipment and skid steer loaders. Elsie, however, wanted to bring a garden tractor home to mow their four-acre lawn.

"We don't have the choice or availability in Zimbabwe that Americans have," commented Arnie. Many times it takes up to six months for Zimbabwe commercial farmers to receive a part or piece of equipment, and some of what they receive isn't as high a quality as they'd like.

Some of the farm equipment that the farmers receive comes in the form of an aid package. Every six months 200 tractors are brought into the country and dispersed among the nation's 4,500 farmers. About 70 percent of the tractors received are 60 to 80 horsepower John Deeres with the remainder being Deutz.

In order to ensure that they have parts available, many Zimbabwe farmers plan ahead. "You have to think very hard on what may break down or what chemicals you may need," said Mike. "You have to try to predict shortages."

Arnie agreed and added, "Sometimes you take things that come available even if you don't need it right then."

The Jahmes stayed in Lancaster County with Barb and Larry Weaver of New Holland, while the Alcocks stayed with Ken Connie Rutt of Quarryville. On Monday Mike lent the Weavers a hand during tobacco harvesting.

"It was the hardest I've (physically) worked in a long time," laughed Mike.

"I've never seen him sweat so much," joked Elsie.

The Jahmes grow about 50 acres of tobacco as a cash crop. The harvesting methods in Zimbabwe differ than those in Lancaster County, however. Instead of cutting the stalk, Mike's workers harvest one to three leaves per plant, depending on maturity, about once every eight days. Each plant yields about eight to 10 reapings.

Both the Alcocks and Jahmes manage employees, with the Alcocks supervising about 20 workers and the Jahmes supervising 300 workers regularly and another 400 to 600 seasonal workers.

Because the families operate their farms more as managers, they were impressed with the industriousness of American farmers, who do the physical work and farm management themselves.

"What impressed me most is the diversification of the farmer," said Arnie. "He's not just a dairy man, he mixes feed, is an inventor of machinery, and has ideas to make things better."

The two couples also found American farm families to be close

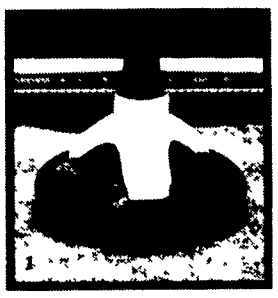
INTRODUCING CHORE-TIME®'s NEW H2 FEEDER

A New Way To Feed Broilers And Turkey Poults

H2 Broiler Feeder With Flood Gates Open, Fills Pan With Overflow Onto The Paper For Quick Starts With Minimum Waste.



H2 Turkey Poult Feeder Has Feed Chutes To Fill Pan Without Any Spillage Onto Shavings.

Pan Hangs On Cone For Easy Cleaning.

- OUR 10-YEAR WARRANTY on the auger and 5-year warranty on the pan says it all - WE STAND BEHIND IT!
- ALL-PLASTIC FEEDER consists of 3 simple, rugged polypropylene parts for permanent corrosion-proofing. Pan easily removes for clean-out and hangs from feeder for drying and storage.

FEED WINDOW (when Feed Gate is open) automatically floods pan with feed to attract chicks from day one. Saves labor — no more hauling and scooping feed into feeder pans!
ROLL-FORMED TUBE is galvanized inside and out for rust-resistance.
LARGE DOME discourages growing birds from getting into pan.
MINIMAL FEED STORAGE within dome means fresh feed quickly to all birds.
SELF-LEVELING PAN — a patented Chore-Time feature — cuts feed waste and bird bruising since pans can swing.
EASY-TO-ADJUST FEED LEVEL lets you set feed opening to allow for different types of feed you might decide to use.
UNIQUE PAN SHAPE and low pan height is ideal for chicks, with no grill to obstruct eating. Pan has 13-inch diameter.
BUILT-IN HIGH CONE evenly distributes feed in pan, prevents stale feed buildup in feed level tube.
DOUBLE FEED-SAVER LIP on pan limits raking and billing and helps you save every bit of precious feed.

Quality Abounds At Bedford Fair Junior Dairy Show

BY KAREN HICKS
Bradford Co. Correspondent

TROY (Bradford Co.) — The 1989 Bradford County 4-H Dairy Round-Up was held Tuesday, August 15, at the Troy Fairgrounds. The Mt. Pisgah Raiders 4-H'ers were the top Club Herd winners, with the Leona 4-H Club taking second. Judges for the type show were Jim Wright of Tully, N.Y.; and Robert Yonkers of State College while Richard Plotts of Clinton County judged fitting, David Dunbar of Lehigh County Extension judged showmanship; and Edward Pruss of Wayne County judged both.

Braund Valley Farms exhibitors were the grand winners in the roundup, capturing senior, grand, reserve senior and reserve grand champion honors in the Holstein breed show.

Braund Valley Citamatt Inez, exhibited by Jill Sheeley, a Mt. Pisgah Raiders 4-H'er was the senior and grand champion cow. Sheeley's cousin, Jeremy Braund, showed the reserve senior and reserve grand champion, a dry cow named Braund Valley Ned Boy Arlene.

Aaron Braund, Jeremy's brother, was awarded the junior champion holstein ribbon for his senior calf, Braund Valley Sultan Jocelyn, and Jill Sheeley. Another ribbon for the junior reserve champion Holstein with Braund Valley Can Am Caress, a junior yearling.

The senior champion Guernsey award was given to Jon Brackman, an East Canton 4-H'er, for Leroydales Fashion Donella, a three-year-old. Brackman also garnered the junior champion and reserve senior champion awards with Nedrow Farms Utopias Becky, a senior calf.

Udder Threads 4-H earned the Good Housekeeping Award. Amy Packard, Leona 4-H, won the best bred and owned Holstein prize for her three-year-old, Pack Herd Blond Banner.

Ayrshire Boy and Girl Awards were presented to Jason Slater and Jennifer Hutchinson. Master fitter and showmanship awards were given to Jeremy Braund, Amy Packard, Terry Shafer, Jennifer Hutchinson, Alyson Dalia, Traci Cook, James Jenkins, Amy Avery, Rossa Bristol, and Teresa Murphy.

FARM MANAGEMENT

Employee Training

By Alan W. Strock
Farm Mgmt. PSU Coop. Ext

Why Bother ? ?

Having carefully inventoried the need for labor, researched the legal, tax, and record keeping requirements, formulated the job description, actively recruited qualified candidates, interviewed and hired the person for the job, the next task is to train your energetic new employee.

Training is something you pay for, directly or indirectly, whether you do it or not. An ongoing training program should offer self improvement and timely follow-up, and encourage employees to perform at their optimum level.

Employees who are challenged and supported in their development reach full potential early and are able to improve productivity, and ultimately, the farm's bottom line— PROFITS.

So to answer the question, "Why bother?" well, because it may make you MORE MONEY than anything else you do.

Do You Expect Too Much ? ?

Farmers often hire unskilled workers and expect immediate skilled performance without providing any real training. If an untrained employee is hired, make sure he/she is properly instructed, adequately supervised, and encouraged during the training period. Insufficient training often leads to conflicts and misunderstanding, then to open and heated disagreements and finally to early dismissal.

It is critical to determine the relevance training has to job performance. The employer must pinpoint the barriers that prevent newly acquired skills and knowledge from being fully utilized and overcome those barriers. Managers should improve their ability to help employees transfer training experiences to new or improved job skills.

Is Your Farm A Nice Place to Work? ?

Employees with real potential will not remain on any farm that doesn't help workers to improve themselves. They must think your business is a good place to work, and they need to maintain a positive attitude about the employers commitment to their personal growth.

Manager commitment to employee training should provide more than skills they can presently use on the job. The employer should also give them freedom to plan and develop new responsibilities, and offer appropriate training to perform the higher level tasks.

Questions to Answer and Evaluate

Should you even have a training program? What is the best method of training employees? Who should be doing the training? What kind of training is needed? How will outside training be reinforced on the job? How can the training program be made to work? How can the effectiveness of training programs be evaluated so farm management and/or ownership will realize their worth? What rewards will be attached to the training activity? Will the rewards be monetary, verbal praise, fringe benefits or others?

The Key To Successful Training

For training to be effective, the employer must make every effort to enlist the participation and support of the employee(s) in the training-development process. Candid meetings and/or informal discussions should be held with employees to determine the skills and knowledge training needed, who will be trained and by whom, and how the training results will be measured.

When employees participate to this degree, they are more likely to "buy in" or assume "ownership" of the program and feel compelled to make it work.

How Do I Train ? ?

Once the need for training has been identified, you must then decide who will do the training, and how the training will be done. Some training can be done off the farm as in community adult education programs. Examples: welding or tractor safety course at a local vocational center or high school.

The employer will often pay for the cost of the training and even provide time off from the job. Outside training is most effective when the principles learned during training are reinforced when the employee returns to the job.

The second approach and the one used most often, is for the training to be done on farm. Many farm employers report that they feel inadequate in the role of teacher or trainer, yet they are very accomplished at the task they are attempting to teach. Perhaps the key to success in this situation is a systematic approach to training.

Effective Training Techniques

The following steps should help you become a more effective trainer for even the most basic jobs:

1. Determine your exact training objectives. List exactly what tasks, skills, and knowledge that are going to be taught, then plan to teach them in a logical order.

2. Prepare to instruct. Put the workers at ease and try to make them comfortable as they prepare to learn the new skill or task. Make sure that all the materials necessary for doing the job are on hand and that the work place is set up in a manner conducive to learning. When possible, pick a less busy day so you will take the time required to be a teacher.

3. Take time to show your unique methods and be very specific in your training. Provide periodic supervision until the job/skill is mastered by observing the employee while he/she is doing the job, by coaching the employee through the correct steps and by correcting errors immediately. Be sure the employee has ample opportunity to ask questions and that he/she understands the job.

4. Follow-up. Allow the employee to work independently, and be sure he/she knows who to go to with questions and/or problems. Periodically check, evaluate, and encourage your employees in their progress. Perhaps the greatest challenge facing you is to invest sufficient time to make the process work. Time invested in preparation for training, the training itself, and the follow up can have a big payoff later.

Evaluation of Training Program

Because training and development are so costly and important, they should be done correctly. First, training needs must be defined and assessed. Employee training is an attempt to improve current and future performance by increasing an employee's ability to perform through education.

The need for training is determined by the employee's initial job performance. Training needs equals desired performance level (present or future) minus actual present performance. If there are no performance deficiencies, and none expected, then training is not needed. This all sounds very time consuming and expensive, but equally time consuming and expensive are the hours and money spent attempting to correct jobs done poorly. - Next week: Motivating Workers

Dairymen Inc. Meets

INTERCOURSE (Lancaster Co.) — Some 275 members and guests of District 14, Middle Atlantic Division, Dairymen,Inc., turned out August 3 at the Harvest Drive Restaurant for an update on the cooperative's milk marketing business.

Special speaker for the annual district meeting was James McDowell, Jr., chief executive officer of Dairymen, Inc. The dairy cooperative has more than 5,000 member-producers in the Middle Atlantic and Southeast areas of the country, with corporate headquarters in Louisville, Kentucky.

"For any co-op to be successful, it must meet the economic needs of the members," McDowell told Dairymen members. "Expect to see significant changes in your cooperative in the near future, toward a marketing organization geared to serve the next generation."

Dairy cooperatives, he added, have traditionally looked to within for financing of the business. Instead, cooperatives must look toward new ways to finance their businesses.

"Marketing is even more important than production," said McDowell. "Yet we don't spend close to what is invested in a farm in selling the product." Dairy cooperatives, he suggested, must look to added-value type milk products as the market money-makers of the future.

Reviewing recent rapid increases in the Minnesota-Wisconsin milk prices, McDowell predicted continuing increases through the fall months. With no milk powder or cheese in Commodity Credit Corporation stocks, the government has gone to purchase of cheese on the open market for use in donation programs.

The Dairymen CEO warned, however, that the dairy industry must not get "greedy," and seek support price increases as was done in 1980. That, he noted, brought the industry "nothing but trouble."

"When you take a long-term business, like dairy, and put on a short-term fix, you're in trouble. The guys who paid the bill were dairy farmers," said McDowell.

With 1990 Farm Bill proposals already under discussion, McDowell expressed concern that resulting legislation "will get in our pockets one way or the other." Not too much is wrong with the current legislation, he believes, noting that it has been market-oriented and supply stable.

While supply management proposals have surfaced from some areas of the country, McDowell compared quota systems to those levied years ago on the tobacco industry. As world markets for tobacco products expanded, buyers sought supply from other countries, where production was not limited.

"And that," said McDowell, "could happen to the dairy industry."

During the business session of the meeting, members re-elected incumbent director Gene Kilby, Peach Bottom R1, to his second three-year term on the division board. District 14 of Dairymen's Middle Atlantic Division includes members in Lancaster, Chester, Lebanon and Berks counties.

Achieving Lancaster County 4-H'ers Honored At Special Banquet

BY LISA RISSER

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — After hours of hard work completing projects and chasing dreams, Lancaster County 4-H'ers received special recognition from their peers at the 4-H Achievement Night last Friday.

Highest accolades went to Frank Bentrem of Elizaabethtown who was named outstanding 4-H'er. He assumed the position in a special ceremony where Stacey Goss, last year's outstanding 4-H'er passed on her title.

Bentrem is an active 4-H'er and participates on the county senior air rifle team. He led his teammates to the state championship in this year's Achievment Days competition. He also is the state individual senior air rifle champion.

Also honored were the honor roll winners. The award is given to both junior and senior 4-H'ers who have been achievers in their clubs and in their projects. The three senior 4-H'ers who beat out nine others for a coveted spot on the honor roll were Brian McLaughlin of Quarryville, Kim Kettering of Manheim, and Lisa Bentrem of Elizabethtown.

The members of this year's junior honor roll are Lynette Leaman of Manheim, Heather Ranck of Strasburg, Sandy Whiteside of Oxford, and Jill Harnish of Christiana.

Entertainment for the night was provided by five 4-H'ers who competed in the county-wide talent contest. Kandi Mullen of Solanco performed an animated rendition of Little Orphan Annie to become the winner of the contest for the second year in a row.

Taking second place was the duet of Kim Kettering and Marji Shenk of the Saddle Cinches club. The two girls sang "Mountain Skies." Kim McLaughlin from the Solanco rabbit club took home the third-place honors. She played the "Starlight Waltz."

The night's other contestant was Nathan Buckwalter who sang "I Can Love."

This year's blue form winners were Kim Kettering, Jami Krause, Eric Wenger, Brian McLaughlin, Paula Loeffler, Kim McLaughlin, Stacey Goss, Kandi Mullen, Jessica Hill, and Kerry Freese.

Those receiving 4-H scholarships were Stacey Goss, Kerry Freese, Eric Rotenberry, and Tina Mowrer.

Other 4-H'ers who received recognition were Steve Wagner of the Kids and Kows Dairy Club, grand champion showman at the Lancaster County 4-H Fair; Sharon Harnish of the Boots and Saddles 4-H Club, reserve grand champion showman; the Gold Ribbon project winners; the tractor-driving contest winners; the participants in 4-H Achievement Days including the champion senior air rifle team and champion junior archery team; and Conestoga Valley Community Club, the volleyball tournament winners.

Brian McLaughlin of Quarryville was one of three senior 4-H'ers in Lancaster County who were named to the Senior Honor Roll. The others, named during the Lancaster County 4-H Achievement Night last Friday, were Kim Kettering of Manheim and Lisa Bentrem of Elizabethtown.

Frank Bentrem of Elizabethtown was named Lancaster County's Outstanding 4-H'er. He will represent 4-H at various events and explain the organization and its purpose to the public.

knit. "It's very refreshing," stated Mike. "We're so spread out that we don't get together as much as we would like."

"Everyone's self sufficient, and there's not the need to get together," Elsie added.

While in Lancaster County, the two families visited the Farm & Home Center, the Penn State Southeast Research Farm in Landisville, J. Harold Esbenshade's computerized poultry farm, Pennfield Feed Mill, and Longwood Gardens. Next week the Jahmes plan to fly to California and tour the West including such places as Las Vegas, San Francisco, and the Grand Canyon. The Alcocks will fly to Chicago and head southward.

and coach Olver, first came together a few years ago. That confidence came only after long hours of study and work.

When Olver became coach of the Lancaster Dairy Bowl team two years ago, he was the Progeny Analyst with Atlantic Breeders and his team members, according to Olver, were in their 'formative years' and nervous about competing. Also, this young, inexperienced team from Lancaster were not favorites to win and were not considered a threat by opposing teams. That changed.

"I remember the first time we competed was at the state 4-H days and our team had some very close first rounds. In the first competition we thought we had lost by just a few points, then the person who was asking us the questions found one more question to ask us. We got it right and we won," said Eugene Hess. "That was the most exciting competition I've ever been in. The next round we tied, but we won in the buzzer round. It was enough to get the adrenalin pumping."

Hess is the son of Homer and Dorothy Hess in Marietta and he is a 1988 graduate of Lancaster Mennonite High School. He works for his father on their farm and works parttime on two neighboring farms.

Lancaster took third place in that first contest, but that small victory gave them a needed boost. Some poise and composure followed. Suddenly opposing teams were no longer discounting them and Olver said Lancaster somehow now became the favorites to win.

"There was very little that would rattle them after that," said Olver. "At the beginning they were inexperienced, but they worked hard and as they studied they became more and more advanced and the team just grew in confidence."

Tom Wiker and Tom McCauley were added to the team and they took first in the state Holstein competition and then took off for San Diego, California, site of the 1988 National Holstein Convention. Here they took second place at their first national competition.

It was an exciting trip. The team visited Beverly Hills, Los Angeles, and, of course, the beaches. They had other exciting trips, too, to Minneapolis and Louisville. Thanks to the support and generosity of team sponsors and members of the dairy community, trip expenses were covered for the entire team.

"Thanks to the support and understanding of the members' parents, the trips and our championships were made possible," said Olver. "Parents were very understanding and took over the farm work to give the guys the time they needed to study and to be away from the farm. We owe a big thanks to them."

All that studying did take a lot of time, all members agree on that.

"It took an awful lot of time," said Wanner. "One week we practiced three times. We did a lot of practicing."

Wanner is the son of Alfred and Carolynne Wanner of Narvon and he is a senior of Pequea Valley. He is enrolled in the academic program and through his studies in the gifted program is able to also major in the vocational-agriculture program.

"Most of the stuff we had to learn was eye opening," said Wanner. "You read about it and then see how you can use it on your farm. There are a lot of things that I've learned to do differently or to think about differently."

Tom Wiker is the son of Lester and Leah of Holtwood. He is will be a sophomore at Penn State University in the fall and will be attending at University Park campus and majoring in dairy science.

Wiker agrees, being a member of the dairy bowl team took a lot of reading and studying.

"I learned things which I can use on the farm. A lot of it was basic information, things you should know," said Wiker. "I had a lot of fun, it was work, but we did have a lot of fun. I also learned I like to travel."

Wiker plans to pursue a career in genetic development.

Joe DeLong is the son of Joseph and Ruthann DeLong of Quarryville. Joe has been in partnership with his father at Pillar-Pride Holsteins for two years. He graduated from Solanco High School in 1987.

When DeLong joined the dairy bowl team in late 1988 he was way behind the rest of the team members and he had a lot of catching up to do. His first competition after joining the team was the state Holstein contest.

"I learned so much that I use working on the farm now especially about animal health, diseases, feed recommendations and balancing the ration," said DeLong. "I don't pay much attention to it, but daily I know I think about things a little differently because of what I learned. I'd encourage others to join because it's definitely a lot of fun and you learn a lot."

According to Olver, each team member had his own area of specialization. Tom McCauley's was reproduction. Apparently he is planning to follow in his father's footsteps. McCauley's father is Dr. Alan D. McCauley owner of Em Tran, Inc. of Elizabethtown. McCauley also may have a future in creating names for anatomical oddities. At a loss for the correct answer, when asked for the medical term used for extra teats, McCauley answered, "extrus teatus". The correct answer is super numerary for those who may find themselves on a dairy bowl team someday.

McCauley will be entering Penn State University in the fall as a freshman.

Bob Barley, son of State Rep. John and Jane Barley of Conestoga, is a junior at Penn State University, majoring in dairy production, with a minor in business. Bob joined the team for one year, just prior to the 4-H competition in Louisville and he served as an alternate for the national Holstein contest in Minnesota.

Bob learned a lot being on the team which helped him in his studies at Penn State also.

"I had a class in Animal Science and studying for the class helped me with the dairy bowl and studying for dairy bowl helped me with my class so it worked it real well," said Barley.

Bob plans to go into dairy farming fulltime after graduation. Presently his family is involved in beef production after enrolling in the dairy termination program.

Barley remembers best his first experience at the national 4-H competition. "In Louisville we didn't expect to win and no one else expected us to win either," said Barley. "In Louisville everybody was cheering for us and we won. It was great because we went to the contest hoping just to do well and we won."

But in Minnesota the scene was different. Their reputation for winning had preceded them and the other teams perceived them as a threat and rightfully so. Again, they won, but this time without a cheering section.

Two years ago this inexperienced and less than confident team came together to learn and to have fun. Team members agree they did both. Their efforts made them the number one team in the nation in 4-H and Holstein dairy bowl competitions.

What they learned while studying for competitions they are already putting to use on their farms or in their college studies. Most importantly, they learned that hard work, long hours, perserverance and determination are the steps to success.

Good training for tomorrow's leaders in the dairy industry. Remember their names. They may be retiring from dairy bowl competition, but they are just entering the race.

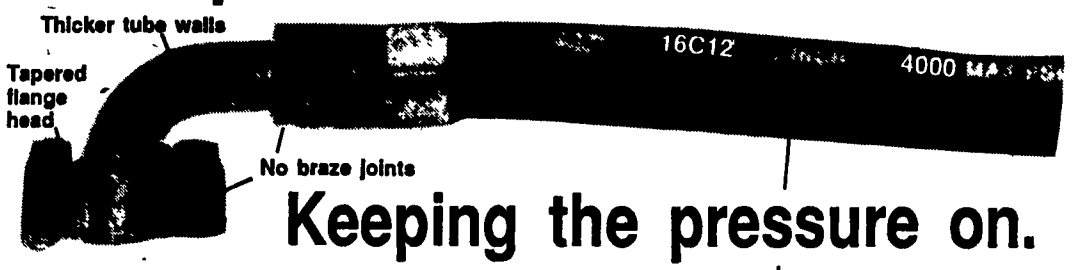
Gates Hydraulic Couplings Are Superior

Wire Braid Hose
Gates couplings for wire braid hose are non-skive, through-the-cover permanent. Many competitors rely solely on the compression of the rubber cover and tube between stem and ferrule for coupling retention.

Features:
- Ferrule serrations bite through the cover making contact with wire reinforcement
- Machine-fit locking collar between ferrule and stem
- Low profile finished crimp

Benefits:
- Safety; better holding power and reliability
- Smaller finished crimp; streamlined assemblies; easier to plumb
- Absorbs more punishment and last longer



Keeping the pressure on.

Gates FL Flange,*
a solid, one-piece flange coupling.

Features:
- No braze joints
- Tapered flange head design
- Thicker tube walls

Benefits:
- Better reliability
- Better stress resistance
- Eliminates possible leak points
- Better vibration resistance

* for spiral hose

Gates C12 Hose

Features:
- Up To 4000 psi W.P.
- +250°F (120°C) temperature capability
- Field crimpable
- No hose tube skive

Benefits:
- Simplifies system design
- Full performance at high temperatures for longer hose life
- Quick, tailor-made assemblies
- Less downtime
- Easy to assemble
- Reduced chance of hydraulic system contamination and failure

Sturgeon Wins 4-H Days Judging

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre) — Thad Sturgeon of Lawrence County was the high individual in the 1989 State 4-H Achievement Days Dairy Cattle Judging Contest held August 8 at Penn State. Thad totaled an outstanding 532 out of a possible 550 points, including 143 out of 150 in oral reasons. Finishing second with 529 total points was Troy Koenig of Bernville, Berks County. Completing the top ten individuals were Corey Gesford, Susquehanna County; Tom Barley, Lancaster County; Miriam Kelly, Blair County; Tom Wiker, Lancaster County; Matt Wanner, Lancaster County; Terri Hill, Lebanon County; Angie Lang, York County; and Matt Curley, Susquehanna County. Sturgeon, Loenig, Gesford, and Barley will be invited to represent Pennsylvania at the National 4-H Contest to be held in Madison later this year.

In team competition, Lancaster County scored an easy victory with 1549 out of a possible 1650 total points. Lancaster also won oral reasons with 407 out of 450 total points. team members include Tom Barley, Tom Wiker, Matt Wanner, and alternate Matt Welk. Susquehanna County placed second with 1519 points, with team members Corey Gesford, Matt Curley, Cathy Pavelski, and alternate Tara Naylor. The York county team of Bridgette Boyer, Angie Lang, Matt Reheard, and Annie Rauhauser placed third, followed by teams from Lebanon and Lawrence counties. Lebanon's team included Terri Hill, David Lentz, Duane Nolt, and Stephanie Wagner, while Lawrence's team was made up of Thad Sturgeon, Nicki Bozlinski, Matt Lawrence, and Maggie Whiting. Lancaster County will have the opportunity to represent Pennsylvania at the Pennsylvania All-American Judging Contest at Harrisburg in September.

Seventy-eight contestants from twenty-six counties participated in this year's contest. They judged eight classes representing five breeds and presented oral reasons for three classes.

Westmoreland Wins

In spirited competition, the team representing Westmoreland County placed first in the State 4-H Dairy Bowl contest held August 8 during State 4-H Achievement Days. Team members Todd Frescura, Jason Frye, Wade Johnson, and Renee Miller defeated a team from Columbia County in the final match. Columbia's team included Gretchen Farr, Richard Shuman, and Tony Snider.

Placing third was the group from Perry County. Jennifer Hummel, Colleen Kretzing, and Michelle Smith were one place better than another fine team from Somerset County which included Jennifer Welch, Matthew Welch, and Thad Will.

This year's contest attracted eighteen counties. By virture of their victory, the Westmoreland team has the opportunity to represent Pennsylvania at the National 4-H Dairy Quiz Bowl contest to be held in November at Louisville.

E-Town Steer Champions Are Veteran Winners

BY LOU ANN GOOD

Deb Wolgemuth's BMW won the grand champion trophy at the Elizathbethtown Fair steer competition on Wednesday night. She named her Angus-Chianina steer BMW because "it's the closest thing I'll ever get to a real BMW."

Winning isn't new to the 16-year-old who won the top placing in steer competition last year at the same fair.

The daughter of John and Thelma Wolgemuth, Mount Joy, has shown for six years in 4-H competition. BMW was not sold at Thursday night's champion sale. Deb plans to show her in October at the 4-H roundup and district show.

Greg Harnish bid his 1,200 pound purebred Angus a sad goodbye at the Elizathbethtown Fair Sale on Thursday night. Harnish said that his reserve champion Ned "is probably my last steer here because I plan to attend Penn State and major in ag economics next year."

Harnish, who has been showing steers in 4-H and in FFA for years, said that Ned has been fun to raise and work with because he has a nice temperament. The Angus was sired by Top Gun and purchased from Jan Waltz, Manheim.

Greg Harnish bid his reserve champion steer a sad goodbye at the E-town Fair on Thursday night. Harnish, who is heading off to college, said the 1,200 pound purebred Angus is probably his last steer at E-town competition.

brother, Ryan, who showed a market lamb. This was the first year Ryan competed in the lamb show by himself. Hayes judged the lamb to be a smooth animal that carried thickness over the dock area. "It's a fine animal," said Hayes. "It's not easy for a market animal to beat breeding animals (to be the supreme champion lamb)."

Another competitor was Deb Wolgemuth, who led out an Angus-Chianina steer named "Beemer." This is the second year in a row for Deb to appear in the supreme champion competition. Last year she made a bid for the title with another steer, Harry. "The steer is a correct-type animal and it carries a lot of muscling," commented Firestine. "I can find very few faults."

A home-town girl, Danielle Ayers, exhibited the fourth entry in the contest. Her summer yearling heifer, Rose, is a straight, smooth kind of Holstein with wonderful legs, according to Myers. "It's unusual to have a yearling beat a cow, but she was better than them."

Plenty Of Supreme Quality At Elizabethtown Dairy Show

BY PAT PURCELL

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — His name was synonomous with "Sexy" and "Quiet". Sexy refers to one of the finest Holstein cows in Pennsylvania, Queen Star Sexy and quiet refers to the owner and exhibitor of the champion, Thomas McCauley. McCauley was hnored with the supreme champion title for three years in the six years of showing at the fair.

McCauley and Sexy will not take home the supreme champion trophy. McCauley and Sexy were not in the ring when the grand champion was selected. For the first time in since 1982, McCauley did not compete at the Elizabethtown Fair. McCauley is in State College preparing for the start of his freshman year at Penn State University.

However, Irving Myers, a Jersey breeder formerly of Illinois and now the herdman at Em-Tran, Inc. in Elizabethtown, had no trouble filling the void left by Queen Star Sexy at the Elizabethtown Fair Dairy Show. Actually two exceptional dry cows presented Myers with his most difficult decision of the day. He eventually made both of these mature cows his grand and reserve grand champions.

Joe Wivell's 4-year-old and and the 8-year-old owned by Susan Howes were two lovely bodied cows, said Myers. The difference in age made little difference in the desirability of these two dairy animals. Both had the size and scale, dairyness, with the correct fore and rear udder attachment and teat placement. However, a slight advantage in the udder tipped the scales toward Wivell's Donegal-Creek Chairman Greta, the dry cow class winner.

"I must go with the cow today with her wedding dress on. SHe has the advantage today," said Myers.

As a 3-year-old she produced 18,000 pounds with a 4.0 percent test. She was due to calf in 10 days with her third calf. The Elizabethtown show was a first ever for Greta. She is a VG-87. Howes 8-year-old took the reserve grand title. Howes graciously accepted her reserve championship, as it is a custom which McCauley began, for the grand champion owner to treat everyone in the dairy show to a milkshake at the fair stand.

Danielle Ayers captured the junior and grand championship in the junior show. Her champions was an impressive senior yearling, C Brye Ayer Typemaker Rose. Rose was a bargain at $700 the price Danielle and her father paid for her in Canada last year. Joe Ayers selected Rose because she was six inches taller than the rest of heifers and she stood taller in many ways throughout the show, too. Myers selected this beautifyl senior yearling as the supreme champion of the show.

"This is a big, powerful heifer. And I don't usually do this, but I'm going to have to go with her for my grand champion. I can't say enough about her she's tall with a lot of style and moves exceptionally well on those hind feet and legs," said Myers.

Ayrshire

The Ayrshire junior champion was exhibited by Angie Spickler of Mount Joy. This first place intermediate calf clean cut on top and tight in the crop area, carried out well on the hind feet with good size and scale. The reserve junior champion was the intermeidate yearling heifer calf shown by Heather Becker of Gap, another exceptional junior animal. Both became the grand champions of the Ayrshire breed show with no entries in the cow classes.

Guernsey

Brothers Nab Top Market Hog, Lamb Titles At E-Town Fair

For $4.10 a pound, Ryan Donough sold his champion Hampshire to LeRoy Fox, owner of Fox's Market.

At the E-town Fair, Travis Donough sold his grand champion hog for $5 a pound to Frank Groff of Groff's Feed Mill.

BY LISA RISSER

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — The Donough family was a joyful one this week as nine-year old Travis and five-year-old Ryan took the championship titles in the market hog and market lamb shows.

The sons of Ed and Larue Donough of Manheim, the brothers competed with each other in the drive for the supreme champion animal of the fair. Travis, in his first year of showing hogs, won that contest with his hog, Posie. Frank Groff of Groff Feed Mill, liked what he saw in Posie and purchased the gilt for $5 per pound.

Posie, a 246-pound Yorkshire crossbred gilt, beat out more than 100 hogs to appear in Thursday night's supreme championship showring. Among them was Kelly Peters' 237-pound crossbred hog, Stickum. Stickum was judged to be the reserve grand champion hog.

When Kelly looked over piglets, she wanted a black hog with a white belt. The one she chose, Stickum, was small and scrawny and not really of champion quality, or so her aunt and uncle, Larry and Norma Baum, believed. But they were proved wrong when the "late bloomer" blossomed about a month and a half ago.

Hatfield Packing appreciated Stickum, paying $2.90 per pound for the animal.

In the market lamb competition, Ryan's Rainstorm, a homebred Hampshire wether, triumphed over Malinda Schildt's Dorset cross. Ryan's parents didn't expect the 120-pound Rainstorm to do well, but were pleasantly surprised. The lamb was purchased at Thursday night's sale for $4.10 per pound by Fox's Market, represented by Leroy Fox.

Malinda, the 13-year-old daughter of Bonnie and David Schildt of Elizabethtown, named her winner Holstein, because it resembled a Holstein cow to her. The middleweight champion was selected as reserve grand champion based on his build, length of loin and leg size. Malinda showed Holstein's twin, which was named lightweight champion.

Fox's Market again was top bidder at the lamb auction and bought Holstein for $2.90.

Hatfield Packing purchased Kelly Peters' 237-pound reserve champion hog for $2.90 a pound at the E-town Fair Sale on Thursday night.

Bill Fox of Fox's Market paid Malinda Schildt $3 a pound for her 107-pound reserve champion sheep at the Elizabethtown Fair.

Dairy Cornucopia — Little Known?

Dairy Cornucopia - Little Known?

"A Horn of Plenty", a dairy cornucopia that few people outside of selected professional circles know about, is the Northeast Dairy Practices Council. The Council is a vast source of constantly updated information and guidelines about almost anything that has something to do with milk and how to make profits or prevent their loss. Thanks to the untiring and painstaking efforts and guidance of Cornell scientist Dr. R.P. March, bulletins on a long list of important topics are constantly revised by many cooperating scientists and practitioners. Presently, these bulletins, known as the "NE Dairy Practices Guidelines," fill three fat ringbinder volumes of loose-leaf issues that are available to anyone on request.

The NE Dairy Practices Council covers and assumes responsibility for the 15 North Eastern and Mid-Atlantic States reaching as far as Kentucky and Ohio on the South and Western ends. These bulletins deserve to be widely distributed among dairy farmers, veterinarians and associated businesspersons.

I have recently read two veterinary magazine reports that underscore the need for much wider distribution of "NE Dairy Practices Guidelines," and much more careful application of correct dairy practices to avoid profit losses on the dairy farm. One report was about Salmonella in California, on dairy farms specifically, where we may not suspect it primarily. A prevalence of 16 percent salmonella was determined with 11 percent resistance to antimicrobial drugs, or 832 and 556 dairy farms, respectively. In comparison, an earlier California study covering 1974 to 1983 had not found any antimicrobial-resistant salmonella then, specifically testing also for the dry chloramphenicol. Calves and calf feces were the best source for finding salmonella on dairy farms, especially scouring calves. Some farms had more than 70 percent calf mortality! The conclusions of the study were that inappropriate treatments of excessive diarrhea and other problems facilitated evolution and persistence of types of salmonella that are drug resistant, while poor nutrition, poor sanitation and poor disease control practices predisposed the dairy farms to develop salmonella infections in the first place.

This report led me to conclude that items such as the "NE Dairy Practices Guidelines" deserve wider distribution and use. For example, five recent issues are on the topics:

1. Troubleshooting High Bacteria in Milk on the Dairy Farm.
2. Emergency Action Plan for Outbreak of Milk Born Illnesses.
3. Control and Eradication of Milk Born Diseases.
4. Solution to High Cell Count and Abnormal Milk Problems.
5. Cleaners and Sanitizers.

These topics cover typical problems on every dairy farm and every dairy farmer must know what to do about these problems, without creating new ones, such as that salmonella situation in California.

The other magazine report that made me think of the need for better use of the "NE Dairy Practices Guidelines" is from Canada, where an increasing outbreak of mastitis due to Nocardia bacteria has been noted recently. It now has been reported that this increase probably is due to inappropriate dry cow treatment with neomycin, which appears to predispose cows to the invasion of drug-resistant Nocardia bacteria.

Anybody not familiar with "NE Dairy Practices Guidelines" or without access to them through their county dairy Extension office can obtain copies from their state dairy Extension office from me, or directly from Dr. R.P. March, for a small charge, 150 Riley - Robb Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 14853 (phone 607-255-2471).

Sundae Wrestling At Allentown Fair

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh Co.) — There has been Sunday wrestling at the Allentown Fair already, but never "Sundae" wrestling! The gooey ice cream treat makes its debut in the ladies wrestling ring this year as a follow-up to the traditional bouts in mud and jello.

It's always standing room only when the wrestlers grapple in goo as a free attraction at the upper end of the midway.

This year, WZZO-radio personality Stosh has been the first to be challenged to a Banana Split battle.

The first bouts are in mud on Preview Night, Tuesday, August 29 at 7 and 9 p.m. The remainder of the week the matches are three times daily at 4, 7, and 9 p.m.

Jello replaces mud on Friday and Saturday, September 1-2 and "sundae" wrestling premiers Sunday and Monday, September 3-4.

Melons To Brighten Any Occasion

These cantaloupes are not just spectacular centerpieces, they also are consumable delicacies. Chef Harvey Rosen recently demonstrated melon garnishing in several Philadelphia-area grocery stores. He said, "Melons can set the theme for birthdays, anniversaries, dinner parties and other happy occasions."

BY LOU ANN GOOD

DOYLESTOWN (Bucks Co.) —If you're looking for a spectacular centerpiece, try a melon.

A melon can be carved into a basket, ship, fish, dove, baby buggy, hearts, love birds, parrots, turkey and other creative shapes.

Harvey Rosen, a leading authority on food presentation, said, "Watermelon and cantaloupe can be dressed up to set the theme for birthdays, anniversaries, dinner parties and other happy occasions."

He has authored a comprehensive series of garnishing books, "Melon Garnishing," "How to Garnish" and "Apple Garnishing."

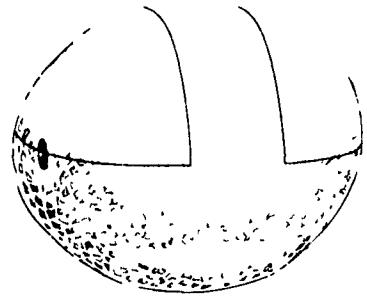
In his book on melon garnishing, Rosen offers more than 30 themes for sculptures and centerpieces, including love birds for anniversaries or engagement parties, a baby buggy for a baby shower, a melon ship with "Happy Birthday" written on the sail, and swans to add elegance to a dinner party.

"You can pick almost any theme and build on it with a melon carving. The advantage of using watermelon and cantaloupe is that they are not just centerpieces; they are consumable delicacies," says the chef.

Melon sculptures can be created easily with help of a v-shaped food decorating tool.

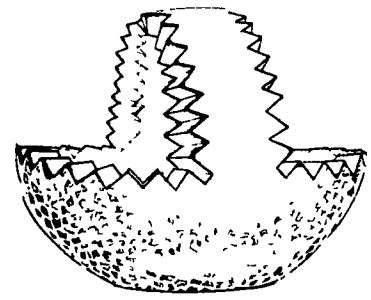
Buying and storing tips

To begin, choose firm melons for carving. Cantaloupe should have a slightly golden undercolor and netting that stands out prominently and covers the entire melon. The stem end should be smooth, well-rounded and slightly soft when ripe. A ripe cantaloupe also will have a distinctive, sweet aroma. One sided of the cantaloupe may be slightly bleached from resting on the soil. Avoid cantaloupe with irregular shapes, scuffs, bruises, soft spots, or a dull green background color. Unripe melons require cool, but not refrigerated temperatures. Ripe melons can be refrigerated, but should not be held at extremely cold temperatures.

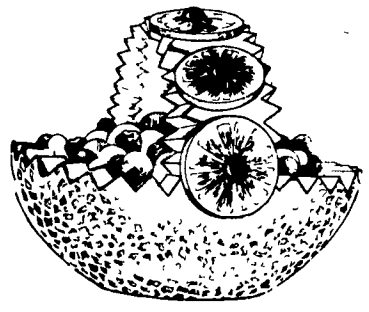


MELON BASKET

Select a round melon. To provide a stable base, cut a thin slice from the bottom of the melon. Draw the lines of the basket on the melon before you start cutting. Draw one line horizonally around the center of the melon. Draw the handle by drawing two lines a few inches apart at the top of the melon.



Cut an X through the rind in the sections to be discarded to reduce the chances of splitting. Use a v-shaped food decorating tool to make the zig zag pattern along the edges. Insert the point of the tool at least half way into the melon along the line that was just drawn. Continue making v-shaped cuts along the line being sure they connect. Be careful not to cut through the handle.



When the cutting is completed, lift the top quarter sections off carefully. Use a knife to remove the pulp of the cantaloupe from the rind. A melon ball scoop may be used to rform balls to fill the basket. Also fruits such a s grapes, cherries, strawberries, pineapple and various melons may be used to fill the melon, if desired. Decorate the handle with citrus slices, melon balls and cherries attached with toothpicks to give the basket a professional touch.

What's New Under The Sun

At The Flower And Vegetable Gardens

BY LOU ANN GOOD

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Ever wonder how new plant varieties receive a stamp of approval?

Visit Penn State Trial Gardens where new plant varieties are grown for testing. The judges compare their results with other trial gardens located across the U.S. This determines whether or not a plant does better in cold or warm climates. What does best in one climate or soil type may not do as well in another.

The growing patterns, plant health, and vegetable flavor are rated throughout the different stages of plant growth.

Research entries are interspersed among the garden flowers, vegetables, and bedding plants that include All America Selection Trials and America Rose Selections.

These entries are coded but the college does not know the name of the company that developed them in order for them to give an unbiased report.

Vegetable Gardens

Dr. Peter Ferretti, professor of vegetable crops, explained that vegetables not only need to taste good but also the plant must be vigorous. Beans plants do not pass the test if their stalks have a tendency to collapse.

Ferretti is impressed with the purple bean that grows at the top of bean bush so that it doesn't get dirty on the ground. As soon as it is cooked the purple beans turn green. The beans are good for eating and in flower arranging.

Some bean plants offer good flavor, long pod, but poor bush stand. This shows that something is wrong with seed quality. Another variety is tender and juicy, but not flavorful.

Ferretti also tests vegetables taste by cooking them in a variety of ways. He discovered that Tender Bead broccoli offers the best flavor when microwaved and a good flavor raw unlike other varieties, which have a skunky flavor."

In the gardens, Jalapeno peppers are grown that offer a sweet, spicy flavor without being too hot to be eaten raw.

The market demand for specialty and gourmet vegetables continues to expand from their publicity as nutritional vegetables. A scallop squash that can be eaten

The Summer Pastel collection is a dwarf yarrow with the mature plant reaching about 2 feet tall and 18 inches wide. They flower in four months from seed. The flowers provide an improved color range of pinks, apricots, cream, reds, lavenders, purples and pure white. Superior performance except does not dry as well as the tall yarrow.

Melons To Brighten

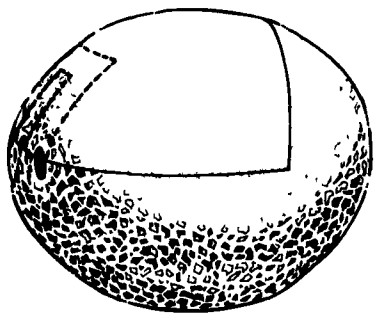
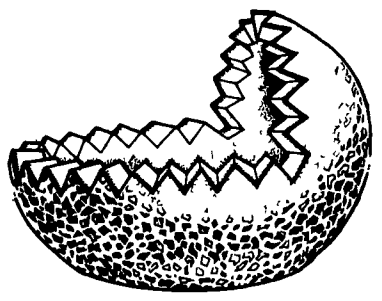
MELON BUGGY

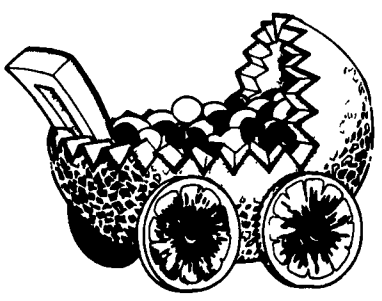
Slice a thin section from the bottom of the melon to provide a stable base and draw the pattern as shown. Use a sharp knife to cut out the section which is used to make the buggy's handle.



To make the handle, use a knife and cut the end section as shown and remove the pulp from the rind. Use a v-shaped food decorating tool to make the zig zag edge along the side.



Remove the top section of the rind and hollow out the inside. Use this to make melon balls. Attach the handle, skin up, with toothpicks. Attach wheels made from citrus slices to the melon with toothpicks. Fill the shell with melon balls or fruit salad.

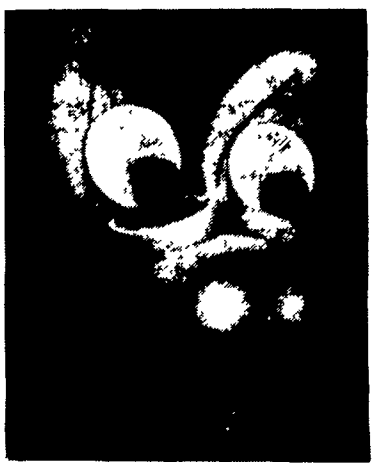


Nutrition-packed melons

The sweet flavor of cantaloupe often fools consumers, particularly dieters, into labeling cantaloupe as a fattening food. Actually, the melon is low in calories, averaging 50 calories in a one-quarter melon serving, and packed with nutrition—all its own serving bowl.

The same-size serving provides the following percentages of the U.S. recommended daily allowances:

Vitamin A-100%, Vitamin C-110%, Thiamine-2%, Niacin-8%, Vitamin B6-8%, Folic Acid-15%, Magnesium-6%, and two percent of calcium, iron, phosphorus, zinc, copper and pantothenic acid. Compared with other fruits, cantaloupe is second only to watermelon in nutrition. Oranges, grapefruit, bananas, and apples score lower than cantaloupes.



This is the season to experiment with melon sculpture. On being a farm wife -And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Those little buggers are at it again.

Silently, stealthily, steadily, they work. Their diligence is untiring and their attention to detail, unceasing.

What a shame that their mission, their devotion, their undaunted hard work goes so unappreciated and so unrewarded. In fact, their lot in life clashes in direct cross purposes with one of mine.

A spider batallion has marched on invasion through the house. In every nook, every cranny, every corner, their encampments have been established and their territorial claims marked with filmy webs.

Webs drape from high corners above the living room curtains and hidden in the shadows of the shower. They collect dust above the cattle ribbons on the office bulletin board and climb down the chain of the light above the kitchen table. Tiny ones appear to anchor the bird-identification handbook to the bookshelf edge, and family photographs to the shelf overhang above them.

Whether their presence is a symptom of the expected in a hundred-year-old-plus farm house, or Nature's commentary on my housekeeping, I've not yet really decided. (Better we not pursue it.) And while the spiders and we peacefully cohabit the place year-round, their annual move into webspinning high gear heralds a fact of life hard to accept, in this summer that hardly seems to have been a summer at all.

Except that, through the heavy dews and hazy cloudcovers, drizzly showers, foggy-meadow mornings and misty moonlights, the march of the seasons rolls on.

And the spiders know and hustle in preparation.

Our country roadsides already hint at the same inevitable conclusion. Sumac bushes are dotted with precocious leaves of red-orange. The sky-blue blooms which dot the spindly stems of wild chicory look weary and ragged, while the distinctive lacy-white, saucer-like flowers of wild carrot fold together like umbrellas in slow-motion collapse.

Cattails around the little pond have poked velvety brown seedpods above the green clumps of graceful foliage. A pair of mallards, green and great blue herons, and a flock of more than a dozen Canada geese have become regular visitors to the ponds, birds which usually arrive as the hours of daylight imperceptibly dwindle.

Lowest leaves on stalks of early corn are already beginning to turn a tell-tale brown, even while adjacent fields are just shooting tassels and embryonic ears. Slips of paper bearing prices for varieties of barley and wheat replace earlier notations on the bulletin board about beans and herbicides.

The word "plow" has again begun slipping into dinnertable farm conversation, between continuing debates over whether the hay will or will not get dry enough to bale.

And daily we check the hatchlings in the martin house on the edge of the manure storage. Now making short flights from their multi-sectioned nesting "condo" to the power line, the maturing babies are preparing for the many-thousand-mile trip south to their winter territories. We will miss their cheerful singing, aerial acrobatics, and relentless pursuit of myriads of mosquitos for lunch.

A favorite cartoon strip recently captured in four small frames my feelings on the rapidly-passing seasons.

Grimmy, the cagey dog belonging to cartoon character Mother Goose, danced along in two frames, singing the words "Summertime, summertime, sum-sum-summertime." In the third frame, he stopped dead, and with a look of dismay watched a leaf flutter to the ground. "Not yet!" screamed a frustrated Grimmy in the final cartoon frame.

"Not yet!" I want to echo.

There seems to be no stopping the spiders ..... whether we're ready or not.

MICROWAVE MINUTES

By JOYCE BATTCHER

Cold food tempts the appetite on sweltering August days. But, preparation of cold food often calls for cooking. The solution: Use your microwave to make the cooking cool and quick.

Pasta salad is an inviting main dish for a sizzling day. However, the pasta needs to be cooked, and conventional preparation can be anything but cool. For small amounts of pasta, microwaving is ideal. There's no boiling water steaming up the kitchen. Instead, the small amount of boiling water is contained in your microwave. Microwave time is about the same as conventional cooking time, but convenience and coolness are the big pluses.

Microwave the water tightly covered to speed cooking. But, once you add pasta, leave the cover off — or you'll be cleaning up the boil-overs after a while. You may add salt to the cooking water, but salt readily isn't needed in Tuna and Vegetable Pasta Salad (below) because of the other seasonings.

Cook pasta until just tender — not soft. Quickly drain, return pasta to the casserole and add the first ingredients. Combining carrots with the hot pasta will slightly tenderize them. Quickly adding the oil, vinegar and Italian seasoning lets the hot pasta and the warm carrots soak up the flavors. The other vegetables and tuna are added when the salad is cool to keep the vegetables crisp.

Cold soup is refreshing on a hot day, but usually the vegetables must be cooked to make the soup. Cold Zucchini Soup (below) is easy to make and cool to microwave. About 5 minutes of cooking time in the microwave is all it takes — and you're not standing by the hot burner stirring all the time.

Use your food processor to slice the raw vegetables and puree the cooked vegetables. If you have time, let the cooked vegetables stand, covered, before pureeing. They'll soften and the soup will be smoother. Drain vegetables before processing, but save the liquid to add back to the soup. You may use the blender for pureeing — a smoother puree will be the result.

For dessert, what's more refreshing than a homemade frozen pie with fresh fruit? But, a homemade frozen pie usually calls for a graham cracker crust, and that calls for 10 minutes of oven baking. Again, microwaving is the cool way. It takes 2 minutes or less to micro-bake that crust. Yes, you could buy a prepared crust — if you don't mind the extra fat and sugar that are loaded into it. By using less crumbs, sugar and butter, a delicious-tasting crust — but one much lower in calories and fat — can be made. Proof is in the eating, so be sure to try Frozen Yogurt Pie (below).

A frozen yogurt pie from a gourment pie shop or deli costs about $10. Microwaving your own crust in about 2 minutes, softening frozen yogurt in about 2 minutes with your microwave's help, and putting the two together gives you the same pie for about $3.

Tuna and Vegetable Pasta Salad

1 cup uncooked pasta (nuggets, elbow macaroni or twists)
1 carrot, sliced paper-thin
¼ cup olive or vegetable oil
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
1 cup sliced unpeeled zucchini or cucumber
1 cup sliced green pepper
1 can (6½ ounces) chunk tuna in water, drained
Salt and pepper to taste

Fill microwave-safe 2-quart casserole half full of water. Cover with lid or plastic wrap. Microwave (High) 6 to 8 minutes or until water boils. Add pasta and stir. Microwave (High), uncovered, 4 to 8 minutes or until pasta is al dente (cooked, but not soft). Drain in colander and immediately pour pasta back into casserole. Stir in carrots, oil, vinegar and Italian seasoning. Let stand 10 minutes to cool and flavor through; then stir in remaining ingredients. Serve immediately or chill before serving. Makes 4 large servings.

Hint: Cooking time for pasta varies according to size: Tiny rings need about 4 minutes, elbow macaroni or small twists (rotini) about 6 minutes, and larger nuggets (radiatore) about 8 minutes.

Each serving: 281 calories, 16g protein, 15g fat, 24g carbohydrate, 198mg sodium, 28mg cholesterol.

Cold Zucchini Soup

3 cups sliced unpeeled zucchini
1 small onion, sliced
1 tablespoon olive or vegetable oil
1½ cups rich fat-free chicken broth*
½ teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon lemon juice
Salt and white pepper to taste

Place zucchini, onion and oil in microwave-safe 2-quart casserole. Cover with lid or plastic wrap. Microwave (High) 5 to 7 minutes or until tender.

With food processor or blender, puree cooked zucchini and onion until smooth. Pour back into casserole; add broth and seasonings. Microwave (High) 2 to 3 minutes or just until hot. Do not overheat. Refrigerate several hours or up to 2 days. Stir well before serving. Makes about 4 servings or 3 cups.

* Use homemade chicken broth or 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken broth and ¼ cup water. For either, refrigate; then skim off chilled fat. Or use 2 salt-free or regular-chicken bouillon cubes (or 2 teaspoons instant) and 1½ cups water.

Hint: If time allows, let vegetables stand, covered, 10 minutes after cooking. This makes a smoother soup.

Variation: Instead of curry powder, add ¼ teaspoon dried basil or thyme leaves before cooking vegetables.

Each serving: 50 calories, 1g protein, 4g fat, 4g carbohydrate, 290mg sodium, 0 cholesterol.

Frozen Yogurt Pie

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
1 quart frozen fruit yogurt
Fresh fruit

For crust: Melt butter in microwave-safe 9-inch pie plate, add crumbs and sugar, mixing well with a fork. Pat firmly in bottom and onto sides of pie plate. Microwave (High) 1½ to 2 minutes, or until set. Cool well before filling.

For filling: Soften frozen yogurt by microwaving on Defrost or Medium Low (30 percent power, about 200 watts) 1 to 2 minutes or until soft, but not melted. Stir and spoon into cooled crust, gently pressing into crust bottom. Cover and freeze until ready to serve. Before serving, top with fresh fruit. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Hint If using part of a large carton of frozen yogurt, remove amount to be softened to a microwave-safe dish before microwaving.

Each serving — 1/8th of pie: 200 calories, 4g protein, 6g fat, 34g carbohydrate, 180mg sodium, 15 mg cholesterol.

Healthier Ethnic Foods

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.)— Hot peppers, jicama, ginger root, bok choy; rye, pumpernickel, pita; pierogis, tamales, egg roll. Do you recognize these foods? Now more than ever, supermarkets and restaurants carry a stunning variety of ethnic foods, especially Italian, Chinese and Mexican. But selecting entrees low in fat and salt requires knowledge of the ingredients and preparation methods used for these dishes.

Dr. Lynne Brown, assistant professor of food science at Penn State, offers some helpful guidelines for selecting healthful and lower calorie, fat and sodium dishes from Italian, Chinese and Mexican menus.

Brown warns that Italian foods can be high in fat, especially if cheese is used. "Northern Italian dishes typically contain butter or cream sauces while southern Italian dishes feature olive oil and tomato-based sauces. Avoid fettucine Alfredo, lasagna, cannelloni, antipasto and buttery garlic bread. They're all high in calories -- cannelloni is over 800." Brown leaves plenty of good choices for lower calories and fat. Pasta primavera, cioppino (seafood soup), seafood or red sauce pasta, minestrone soup, plain Italian bread or breadsticks and fruit ices for dessert make a delightful and healthy meal.

Not all Chinese food is low in fat, Brown cautions. Meats often are deep-fat fried. "Don't be afraid to ask your waiter how a dish is prepared."

Satisfy Your Appetite With Casserole Fare

In a hurry? Try a tasty, easy-to-make casserole. Depending upon your schedule, you might need a casserole that can be prepared the night before and shoved into the oven 30 minutes before serving time. Or, you might need, a casserole that takes only minutes to prepare but hours to bake while you complete your errands.

Whatever your need, one of these recipes is guaranteed to fit your schedule and your taste.

QUICK MACARONI CASSEROLE

1 cup uncooked macaroni
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1½ cups milk
¾ cup diced lunch meat, OR ¼ pound dry beef or hamburger
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 quart string beans, cooked OR 1 quart peas, drained
3 tablespoons diced onion
2 hard boiled eggs

Mix and pour into casserole. Refrigerate overnight. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees.

Ag Progress visitors enjoyed the great taste of homemade ice cream during the Ice Cream Churn Off Contest on August 16.

The all-American treat, made in many tastes and flavors, was judged by the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Association, Mid East UDIA, and the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program.

J. Loren and Wanda Yoder placed first in competition. The Yoders and their family from Belleville were featured last week in Lancaster Farming. This husband and wife duo enjoy cooking, farming and promoting dairy products together.

Try their award winning recipe that's loaded with protein, calcium and vitamins A and B2.

HOMEMADE ICE CREAM

Pour into heavy bottom 6 to 8 quart saucepan:
1 quart and 1 cup milk
1 can evaporated milk
1 quart cream
2 cups sugar
3 eggs, beaten

In another bowl, mix:
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoon cornstarch

Stir in:
1 cup milk

Combine the two mixtures in the saucepan and cook until thickened. Cool. When ready to churn, add 2-quarts raspberries, which have been cooked and strained. For chocolate flavor: omit the fruit and add 1 cup brown sugar and 1 can chocolate syrup.

Flower And Vegetable

raw or browned in butter with brown sugar rates high on the judges charts, but will it do well on the market? Ferretti said, "Generally people are hesitant to try new vegetables.

Flower gardens

Flowers are tested with full sunlight and under a mesh that cuts sunlight 50 percent.

Growers are currently developing impatiens that grow as well in sun as in shade. This year impatiens are doing as well in full sun as in partial shade.

"It's been an ususual year," said Dr. Robert Fortney, associate professor of floriculture. "If next year is hot and sunny, we might get different results."

In hot sun, disease in many flowers such as pansies does not take control like it does in wet, cloudy weather.

The gardens show that tuberous begonias do well from seed and more adaptable to shade and sun than those grown from bulbs.

Mary Meeker, crew group leader for the flower gardens, said, "Summer pastels is a pleasant surprise." The Summer Pastel collection is a dwarf yarrow with the mature plant reaching about 2 feet tall and 18 inches wide. They flower in four months from seed. The flowers provide an improved color range of pinks, apricots, cream, reds, lavenders, purples and pure white. They offer superior performance in the garden, but Meeker said her experiments show that Summer Pastels do not dry as well as the traditional yarrow.

Using flowers and vegetables from the Trial Gardens, Mary Meeker arranged artful displays of flowers.

Fortney suggests that home gardeners rotate flowers every three years to eliminate problems with disease and insects.

A performance record of all plants and flowers is available from Penn State.

Among the more common flower varieties are Amaranthus from Calcutta, India, which shows the beauty of colored foliage.

Fortney said, "The U.S. does not do as much with colored foliage in landscaping as many other countries." He expects their popularity to grow as gardeners become more familiar with colored foliage.

Roses

Roses go through evaluation in test gardens across the U.S. These gardens evaluate roses that are unnamed. Dr. Charles Heuser, associate professor of horticultural physiology, said, "Out of a group of 50, only one to three are selected for marketing. The remainder are destroyed."

The roses are evaluated in two-year cycles to show how they weather the first and second winter.

In roses, gardeners look for novelty, color when in bud and in open bloom, bud and flower form and their aging quality. Aging gracefully refers to self-shattering petals that fall off rather than brown on the plant. Fragrance is also noted. Are stem clusters long enough to put in vase? Is the plant habit compact with lots of foliage. Does the color of foliage show gloss or do yellowing leaves detract from the rose. Is it disease resistance? Judges also add their personal opinions such as "I hate salmon-colored roses." If too many have similar complaints, the rose is eliminated.

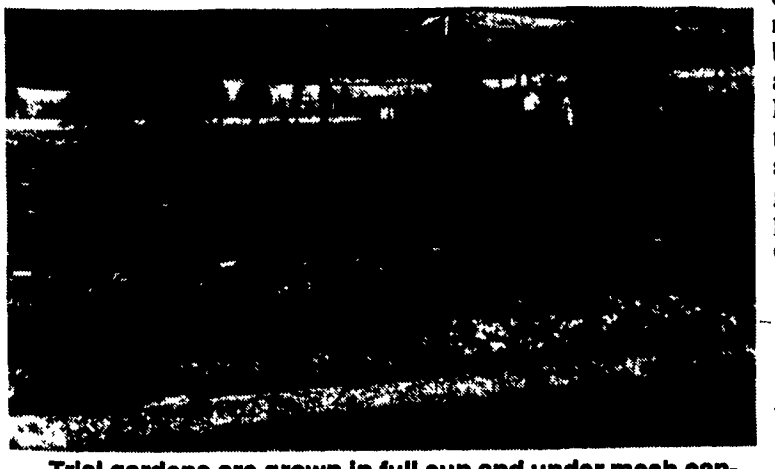
Scores are tallied and sent to the All American selections for ranking.

For growers or gardeners, the bottom line is the performance. The All America Selection Winners have been thorougly tested across the U.S. and have proven superior quality.

The Penn State Flower and Vegetable Trial Gardens are operated by the Department of Horticulture, College of Agriculture and were established in the early thirties for the purpose of evaluating new varieties of plant materials. Individual seed companies and plant breeders provide seed testing and contribute financial support.

The gardens are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. except Thursday morning for spraying.

Convincing people to try new vegetables is difficult, but Dr. Peter Ferretti, professor of vegetable crops, thinks the scallop squash, which can be eaten raw or cooked, should be used for more than color in the market place.



Trial gardens are grown in full sun and under mesh canvas that cuts the sun by 50 percent.

Identify garden diseases

If you wish for a gardener to identify diseases or pests that are destroying your plants, do not despair. Your Penn State County Extension Agent will do just that. If he cannot identify it, he will provide a kit that includes a specimen sheet. Send the completed sheet with a speciman of the infected plant to Penn State University. The diagnosis accuracy depends upon the information you supply, the plant material selected and the condition of the specimen when it arrives at the clinic.

Penn State identifies the problem and sends a letter and a fact sheet that explains how to control the problem.

Often gardeners do not differentiate between plants with insect and disease problems. "You must identify the problem before treating the affected area," John Peplinski, coordinator of the Plant Disease Clinic, said. "It doesn't do any good to spray a diseased plant with an insecticide."

Removal of Crayon From A Load Of Wash

I occasionally receive a phone call from a consumer faced with the horrible experience of a load of clothes coming out of the washer or dryer laden with red, green, blue or black marks. This unfortunate situation is the result of a crayon which was overlooked in the pocket of one of the articles. Crayons melt in the dryer and transfer onto almost everything in the wash load.

One of the most effective methods for removal of such stains, according to the International Fabricare Institute of America, is to first hang the garments up and allow them to dry completely. The use of a dry-cleaning solvent will very often remove the stain, and it may be cost effective to have the entire load of clothes cleaned in a coin-op dry-cleaning machine. Another possible method is to pretreat the stains with one of the popular spray and wash products as they do contain some solvents. However, if the articles are extensively stained, it would be best to have them cleaned in a coin-op and then possibly later rewashed for the most effective method of removal.

Collision Damage Waiver Not A Must

Collision damage waiver (CDW) on a rental car - do you need it? It can add $10 to $14 each day to your car rental fee and may not be necessary.

Driving a rental car exposes you to personal property and liability risks. The collison damage waiver agreement assures you the car rental company will pay for damages to the rented car. However, you are probably protected through your automobile insurance. If you are already covered, the CDW is an unnecessary expense, because it is double insurance.

Check with your insurance agent to determine the collision and liability coverage as applied to rental cars. When you know what protection is available from your policy, it reduces the possibility of overpayment for a rental car.

Read the fine print in auto rental contracts; most say you are liable if you drive recklessly, abuse the car, drive under the influence of drugs (including alcohol) and/or fail to lock the car.

Some credit card companies protect their card holders when they charge the car rental with them. Check your credit card information to see if you have this coverage available to you.

Larger car rental firms cover fire or natural occurrence damage while small rental companies may not.

The confusing nature of rental car insurance is requiring regulator action. The collision damage waiver's future is probably limited. Illinois and New York have passed laws placing a cap on charges a rental car consumer must pay for auto damages. Other states are considering similar legislation.

ANSWER— Edwin Liebenow, Holmdel, NJ, would like to know how to prepare naked, edible pumpkin seeds.

ANSWER — Josephine Rudy, Hummelstown, requested a recipe for chocolate chip cookies that stay moist and don't harden after they are baked. Thanks to Jean Wingert, Mercersburg; and Jo Evans of Boyds, MD; Cindy Eshleman, Jonestown; for recipes and to K. Miller, Dever, DE, who suggests using a regular cookie recipe except substitute ⅓ cup fructose for 1 cup white sugar. Fructose may be found in health food stores if your supermarket does not carry it.

Chocolate Chip Cookies

½ cup butter, softened
½ cup margarine, softened
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, room temperature
2¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups chocolate chips
1 cup chopped pecans, optional

Cream butter, margarine, sugars and vanilla until light and fluffy. Add eggs, beat well. Combine flour, baking soda and salt. Slowly beat into creamed mixture. Stir in chips and nuts. Drop by teaspoonsful onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes. Cool 1 minute before removing from cookie sheet. Store in airtight containers.

Chocolate Chip Pudding Cookies

2¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup butter, softened
¼ cup granulated sugar
¾ cup brown sugar
1 4-ounce package vanilla* flavored instant pudding
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1 12-ounce package chocolate chips
1 cup chopped nuts, optional

*Can use chocolate pudding instead of vanilla for more chocolate flavor.

Mix flour, soda, butter and sugars, pudding mix and vanilla in a large bowl. Beat until smooth and creamy. Beat in eggs. Gradually add to flour mixture, then stir in chocolate chips and nuts. (Batter will be stiff). Drop by rounded teaspoon onto ungreased baking sheets, about 2 inches apart. Bake 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 7 dozen.

ANSWER — Grace Ikler wanted a recipe for dill pickles in a 10-gallon crock. Thanks K. Miller, Dever, DE, for sending one.

Crock Dill Pickles

1 peck cucumbers

Wash well. Place in 4 gallon crock with grape leaves and dill weed. Boil together 10 minutes in 6 quarts water, 3 cups vinegar, 1½ cups pickling salt, and 2 tablespoons alum. Cool. Pour over cucumbers. cover pickles with a plate and weight down so pickles remain covered with brine. Cure for at least 10 days in a cool place.

ANSWER — Josephine Rudy, Hummelstown, requested a recipe for moist bran muffins. Thanks to Jo Evans, Boyds, MD; and to Terry Lerew of Gardners, for sending the following recipes.

Bran Muffins

2 tablespoons oil
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup milk
1 cup all bran cereal
1 cup flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
Pinch of salt

Combine oil and sugar. Add milk and all bran. Let stand 10 minutes. Stir in flour, baking powder and salt. Grease muffin cups. Bake for 20 minutes in 400 degree oven.

Bran Muffins

3 cups all-bran cereal
1 cup boiling water
1½ cups honey
1 cup oil
2 beaten eggs
2 cups buttermilk
2½ cups whole wheat flour
2½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

Pour boiling water over bran and let stand while mixing other ingredients in a large bowl. Add water and bran mixture. Bake 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

*Mixture can be stored in refrigerator up to six weeks.

Contributor writes: "My children request these often. I use a gem pan and bake for 10 minutes to have warm muffins for a fast breakfast before school."

ANSWER — Norman E. Hartman, State College, requested a recipe for funnel cakes. Thanks to Jill Senkarik, Absecon, NJ; and to Lillian Horne, Shirleysburg, for answering. Lillian writes that she belongs to the Firemen's Ladies Department and this is the recipe they use for Homecoming Festivity where they make 250 funnel cakes a night.

Funnel Cakes

3 eggs
2 cups milk
¼ cup sugar
3 to 4 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons vanilla

Slightly beat eggs. Add milk, sugar and vanilla. Stir. In separate bowl, measure flour, salt and baking powder. Add to liquid mixture and stir.

Fry in hot fat by pouring a small portion into a funnel while moving funnel in a circular motion. Drain and dust with confectioners' sugar.

ANSWER — Josephine Rudy, Hummelstown, requested recipes for casseroles and main dishes using zucchini. Check page B6 in the "Home On The Range" recipe section for some readers' favorites.

BAKED BEANS WITH PORK CHOPS

40-ounce can dry lima bean
½ cup catsup
½ cup dark corn syrup
¼ cup brown sugar
4 or 6 pork chops
Salt

Soak dry beans in salt water for approximately 6 to 8 hours or overnight. When ready to cook, drain off salt water. Add fresh water and boil for ½ hour or until soft.

Drain beans again, saving approximately 1 cup liquid. Add catsup, sugar, syrup and liquid. Mix well in baking dish. Place raw pork chops on top of beans and salt them if desired. Bake in oven at 325 degrees for approximately 1 hour or until browned. Turn pork chops over on other side for approximately 1 hour or until brown and able to cut them with a fork. Serves 4 to 6.

Contributor writes: "This dish has become known as my specialty! I have yet to take them to a covered dish supper and not bring home an empty casserole dish."

SPANISH RICE

1 pound ground beef
1 medium onion, chopped
1 large green pepper, chopped

Brown in electric skillet. Pour off all grease.

Add:

2½ cups peeled, mashed ripe tomatoes
½ to 1 cup water
1 cup uncooked rice

Simmer 20 to 25 minutes until rice is tender. Add more water if necessary. Stir often. Serves 4. Optional: Sprinkle grated parmesan cheese over rice before serving.

Note: This is good for those who need to restrict salt intake.

State Grange Junior Royalty Chosen

The 1989 Grange Junior Princess and Prince recently were crowned at a summer meeting. Melanie Berger, left, is princess and David Teufel is prince.

HARRISBURG — Shirley and Marvin Berger and John and Natalie Teuful are four very proud parents. On July 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the State Junior Grange Camp, their daughter and son were chosen as the new 1989-90 Junior Grange Royalty of Pennsylvania.

Melanie Berger will be a 14-year-old ninth grader at Kutztown High School this fall. In high school, she plays field hockey and basketball and will be trying out for a spot on the majorette squad. She has also been very active in her nine years of Junior Grange. She has served as Pomona, Ceres, Chaplain, Lady Assistant Steward, and Master in Virginville Junior Grange. In the County, she was chosen as second runner-up for Berks County Mini-Princess, and then went on to become County and Regional Junior Princess.

Along with her Grange and school activities, Melanie enjoys playing the piano and babysitting. She may be busy, but she is thrilled to have been chosen as the new princess. Her older sister, Melinda, has been a great influence on her Grange work, and Melanie would like to follow in Melinda's footsteps.

David Teufel is a five-year member of Schnecksville Junior Grange in Lehigh County. He, too, has accomplished a great deal for the Junior Grange. Assistant Steward, Lecturer, and Gatekeeper were his former offices, but his biggest and best accomplishment came at National Grange in Redding, California, where his artwork was chosen as Best of Show.

David is in ninth grade at Troxell Junior High School where he plays a mean game of soccer and is a member of the newspaper staff. Church Youth Group activities are also a part of his busy schedule. However, in his spare time, David likes to relax by enjoying his artwork, computer and swimming.

Both Melanie and David were honored to be chosen to represent the Junior Granges of Pennsylvania for the next year. During their reign, each one expresses a desire to increase the membership of the younger Junior Grangers as well as travel with the State Secturer, Hedy Chaffee, "spreading the Personal Touch" about the Junior Grange.

Ideas For Summertime Fun

BY LOU ANN GOOD

How many times this summer have you said, "I'm bored."

Well, stop complaining. Here are some ideas for summertime fun.

•Decorate a brown paper bag with colored paper, magazine pictures or crayons. Label the bag: "I'm bored bag."

Write activities to do on slips of paper. Some ideas might include:

•Read a book
•Practice piano
•Ride my bike
•Go fishing
•Count my dolls
•Arrange my baseball cards
•Write a letter
•Build a tunnel in the sand.
•Form a barn and animals out of clay.
•Prepared a skit using my puppets or stuffed animals as the actors.

Put the slips in the bag. The next time you are bored, pull out a slip of paper and do the activity that is listed.

For more ideas on how to keep busy, call or write the Lackawanna Cooperative Extension office at 200 Adams Avenue, Scranton, PA 18501 (717) 963-6842 for a free booklet "101 Plus Ways To Keep Kids Busy."

What shall it be? An nap in the sun or a swim in the creek? Five ducks contemplate their decision.

"Pleased to meet you," the geese honked. Then he rushed forward to give Daniel Ober, Manheim, a welcoming peck, which Daniel did not appreciate.

Creeks offer cool relief from the summer sun. Jamie and Daniel Ober, Manheim, cool off while older sister, Angela, keeps an eye on them.

Arm Strength

Play Tug-of-War

■ Try a 2-person tug. Use a soccer ball. One player tires pulling the ball out of the other player's hands.

■ Try these tug-of-wars using a rope.

—A one-handed tug-of-war.

— A tug-of-war where everyone stands on tip toes.

— A backwards tug-of-war where everyone faces away from the middle.

Paddle a Canoe or Row a Boat

Play Hang Tag

You are safe as long as you hang by your arms from something. You can hang from a jungle gym or a tree. "It" can tag you if you are not hanging by your arms.

Try Group Pull-Ups

You'll need 4 people. Sit on the floor in a circle. Everyone holds hands. Together pull yourselves up to a standing position.

Once 4 of you can do it, add 2 more to the circle. Experiment on the best way to get up.

Twirl Ribbons or a Baton

Arm Wrestle

Swing from Playground Rings or across a Horizontal Playground Ladder

Play Tug-of-Peace

You'll need about 10 people. Sit in a circle. Place a thick piece of rope inside the circle in front of your feet. Tie the ends of the rope together to make a tight knot. Everyone holds the rope and pulls at the same time. You all should be able to rise to a standing position together.

Stomach Strength

Try Toe-Touches-For-Two

Lie head-to-head with a partner. Hold your partner's wrists. Raise your legs until you touch each other's toes. Then return to the starting position. As you get better, increase the distance between your heads.

Do an Eskimo Roll

Practice somersaults. When you get good, try an eskimo roll with a partner. Work on a mat or soft grass. Lie on your back with your feet in the air. Your partner stands near your head. Hold on to your partner's ankles as your partner holds yours. Your partner does a somersalt. You should end up trading places with your partner.

Try Hanging Leg Raises

Hang by your arms from a jungle gym. Lift your legs up to your waist. Once you can do that, lift your legs up to the bar.

Leg Wrestle

With a partner, lie on your backs with your feet together. Raise your feet about 2 feet off the ground. Push against your partner's feet. Push until one of you can straighten your legs.

Swim without Your Arms

Hold onto a kickboard with your arms out in front of you. Move yourself by just kicking your legs.

Do Half Sit-Ups

Lie on the floor on your back. Your feet are flat. Bend your knees. Fold your arms across your chest. Raise your shoulders so you sit up about halfway. Hold for a couple of seconds. Lie down. Repeat this several times.

Stretch Like a Cat

Animals know how important stretching is. Watch a cat or dog stretch when it gets up. Then imitate the animal. Watch how a cat pauses and then stretches by sliding its paws forward. Then do it yourself.

With an elegant nod, the ostrich greets visitors. Summer is not complete without a trip to the zoo.

Play Stretch Catch

Sit with several people on the floor in a circle. Stretch your legs in front of you. Spread your feet about 2-3 feet apart. One person stands in the middle. The middle person throws the ball to each person in the circle. Each person in the circle must catch the ball and throw it back to the middle person. Each person gets a chance to be in the middle.

Grab a book and forget that summer is almost over. After a trip to the library, Angela, Daniel and Jamie didn't wait until they reached home to read.

Cook's Question

ANSWER — Josephine Rudy, Hummelstown, requested a recipe for chocolate chip cookies that stay moist and do not hardened after they are baked. Thanks to Priscilla Grube of Mohrsville for the following recipe.

Soft Chocolate Chip Cookies

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup butter
4 cups flour
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 cups chocolate chips

Cream sugars and butter. Add egg and milk. Mix. Add flour, baking soda, and chocolate chips. Drop onto cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees, for 12 to 15 minutes until lightly browned.

ANSWER — V. Martin, Springfield, VA; requested recipes for frozen yogurt and ice cream. Thanks K. Miller of Dever, DE; for sharing yours. Also check the featured recipe on page B6 for a prize-winning ice cream recipe.

Frozen Strawberry Yogurt

3 ounces strawberry gelatin
¾ cup sugar
1 cup water

Heat gelatin, sugar and water until gelatin is dissolved.

Add:

1 pint strawberries, pureed

Stir in:

2 cups yogurt
1 cup whipping cream

Churn in ice cream freezer. Makes ½ gallon.

ANSWER — Dot Weiland, Bath, requested a recipe for Pretzel Dessert. Thanks to Terry Lerew, Gardners, and to Priscilla Gray, Clearfield, for answering. Priscilla writes that this is one of her husband's favorite recipes and that she always gets raves when serving it to guests.

Strawberry Pretzel Salad

2 cups crushed pretzels (not too fine)
3 teaspoons sugar
¾ cup melted margarine

Mix together ingredients and press into bottom of a 13x9-inch pan. Bake at 400 degrees for 8 minutes. Do not overbake.

Meanwhile, mix together:

1 large box strawberry gelatin
2 cups boiling water
2 10-ounce packages strawberries

Allow mixture to set while mixing the following:

8 ounces cream cheese
1 cup sugar, optional
8 ounces whipped topping

Spread on cooled pretzel crust. Top with gelatin mixture and place in refrigerator until firm.

ANSWER — Rodney Denlinger, Gordonville, requested a recipe for mint jelly. Thanks to Doris Dibert, Everett; and to Bea Borino, Great Meadows, NJ, for answering.

Mint Jelly

1½ cup firmly packed mint leaves and stems
3¼ cups water
1 box fruit pectin
4 cups sugar

Finely chop or crush mint leaves and stems. Place in large saucepan. Add water and bring to a boil. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes. Strain. Measure 3 cups of this liquid, adding a few drops green food coloring. Pour juice into heavy 6 or 8 quart saucepan. Measure sugar and set aside. Stir contents of pectin into prepared juice. Bring to a full boil, stirring constantly. Immediately stir in sugar and bring to a full rolling boil that cannot be stirred down for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim off foam; ladle immediately into hot jelly jars. Seal with paraffin or cover with hot lids, screwing bands on firmly. Yields: 4⅓ cups.

Veal Recipe Contest

HARRISBURG (Dauphin) — If cooking is your pleasure, grab an apron and get to work creating an exciting new recipe made with versatile veal. Recipes are now being accepted for the Pennsylvania Beef Council's Favorite Veal Recipe Contest.

The requirements for the contest are simple: one pound of veal prepared in a creative, good tasting and attractive manner. Any veal cut is eligible, so you may choose chops, cutlets, ground veal, shanks, round steak, veal for stew or your favorite veal roast.

When developing your recipe, the contest judges will be looking for innovative ingredient combinations and streamlined preparation methods. Something as simple as an unusual twist to a basic recipe is more apt to catch the judge's eye than a complicated recipe which requires a number of hard-to-find ingredients.

Entering is easy, and you may enter as often as you wish. Send entries to: Pennsylvania Beef Council FAVORITE VEAL RECIPE CONTEST, P.O. Box 10642, Harrisburg, PA 17105. Entries must be postmarked by September 15, 1989, and received by September 20, 1989.

Prizes totaling more than $500 will be awarded to the winning recipes. For a complete set of rules, send a self-addressed, stamped #10 envelope to Veal Rules at the above address.

Beware Of Misleading Labels

SOUTHAMPTON — Choosing foods from the grocery store shelves has become a complex process. According to Dairy Council, Inc., shoppers are no longer merely buying favorite brands or looking for the best bargain. They are reading labels and box panels for information on fat, calorie, sodium, cholesterol, calcium and fiber.

Federal regulations require that a food label must show such information as name and address of the manufacturer and the list of ingredients in descending order by weight.

Products which make nutritional claims must include serving size, servings per container and per-serving amounts of calories, fat, protein, carbohydrate and sodium. U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances must also be provided. These include protein, five vitamins (niacin, riboflavin, thiamine, A, C) and two minerals (calcium and iron).

Some manufacturers have begun to use terms and nutritional claims, although intended to inform, may confuse and mislead the consumer. Below are terms found on food labels which the consumer should be aware of.

• "Lite"/"Light"- With no standard definition, "light" or "lite" can refer to color, texture, calories, taste, sodium or weight. It may be no more nutritious than the regular version of the food.

• "Organic"- This term implies that the product is free of synthetic pesticides, fertilizers or fungicides. However, no federal law currently enforces this definition.

• "Leaner," "Lean," "Extra Lean"- Used to describe meat products, "leaner" means the food contains at least 25 percent less fat by weight than the original product. "Lean" products are no more than 10 percent fat by weight; "extra lean" products contain no more than five percent fat by weight.

• "Unsalted"/"No Salt Added"/"Salt-Free"- Foods with any of these claims on their labels have no salt added in processing. However, the food may be naturally high in sodium, or contain sodium from added sources.

• "Reduced Sodium," "Low Sodium," "Very Low Sodium," "Sodium-Free"- "Reduced Sodium" foods have at least 25 percent less sodium than the original product. "Low Sodium" foods have 140 milligrams of sodium or less per serving. "Very Low Sodium" foods have no more than 35 milligrams of sodium per serving. "Sodium Free" foods contain no more than five milligrams of sodium per serving.

• "Reduced Calorie," "Low Calorie"- "Reduced Calorie" foods contain one-third fewer calories than the product it most resembles. Meat and poultry labeled this way contain 25 percent fewer calories than similar products. "Low Calorie" refers to foods with no more than 40 calories per serving.

"Dietetic"/"Diet"- These terms indicate that at least one ingredient in the food has been changed, substituted or restricted. It does not necessarily mean the food is low in calories.

Ten Fashionable 4-H'ers Named To Honors Group

Ten girls from around the state were named to the Honors Group at the state 4-H fashion revue held during 4-H State Days. An annual event, the contest features regional finalists competing for a spot in the honor group. Each girl modeled an outfit constructed as part of a 4-H project.

The judges based their selection on quality of garment construction, degree of construction difficulty, fit, and the contestant's modeling skill.

The honors group members now are eligible to complete a form on their 4-H activities for final judging. The combined scores from the fashion review and report judging will determine the state fashion review winner.

The state winner will represent Pennsylvania at the National 4-H Congress in Chicago held in early December.

The purpose of the 4-H fashion revue is to build self-confidence and poise, and encourage youth to acquire clothing construction, personal grooming, and design skills. This program is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Cooperative Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Penn State University.

Dana Flowers of New Alexandria is the 16-year-old daughter of Robert and Betty Flowers. She modeled a Monaco blue wool coat, fuschia jacquard blouse, plaid wool skirt, and matching plaid scarf.

Sherri Carlson, 17, is the daughter of George and Ginny Carlson of Turtlepoint. She modeled a Woolrich wool jacket, trimmed in light blue suede, and a matching suede skirt.

Christine Horvath, is the 17-year-old daughter of Anthony and Florence Horvath of Nazareth. She modeled a metallic silver prom gown.

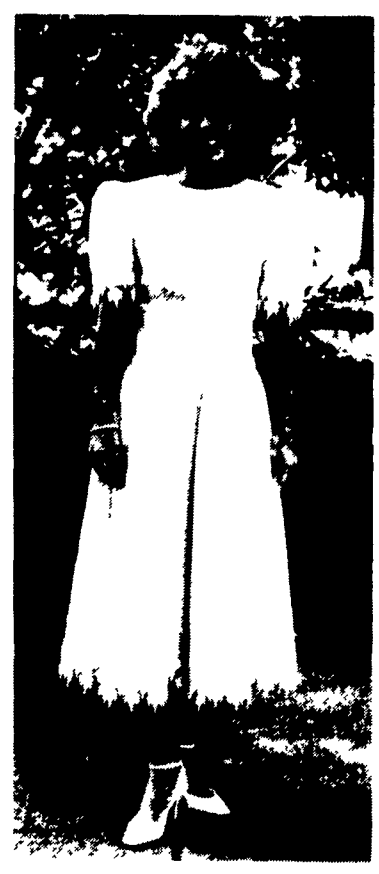
Sandy Howe, 16, of Alexandria is daughter of William and Inez Howe. She modeled a pink wool jacket, patterned challis skirt, and a Victorian blouse.

Amy Remaley, 14, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Remaley of Middleburg. She modeled a tailored red suit accented with a black velveteen collar and black buttons.

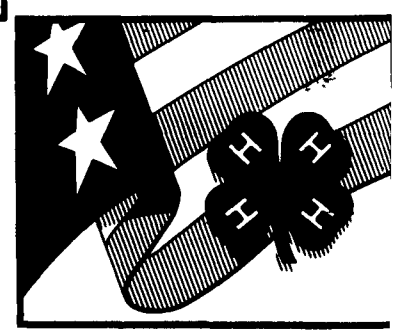
Jennifer Stairs, 17, is the daughter of Jess and Joan Stairs of Acme. She modeled a raspberry-colored wool coat, black straight legged pants, teal charmouse blouse, and coordinating vest.

Colleen Klazas, 18,is the daughter of Joseph and Leona Klazas of Lititz. She modeled a three-piece skirt, blouse and jacket ensemble and made a corded belt to match.

Tara Yuhas, the 15-year-old daughter of Dennis and Frances Yuhas of Scotrun, modeled a black linen jacket, black and white checked skirt and white batiste blouse accessorized with a yellow and black polka-dotted handkerchief.



Alissa Hoober, 18, the daughter of Mervin and Ruth Hoober of New Holland, modeled a white linen tea-length dress trimmed in lace.



Stacy Ann Reaver, the 18-year-old daughter of Viola and William Reaver of Gettysburg, modeled a wool coat and slacks and blouse ensemble mixing and matching green, black and purple.

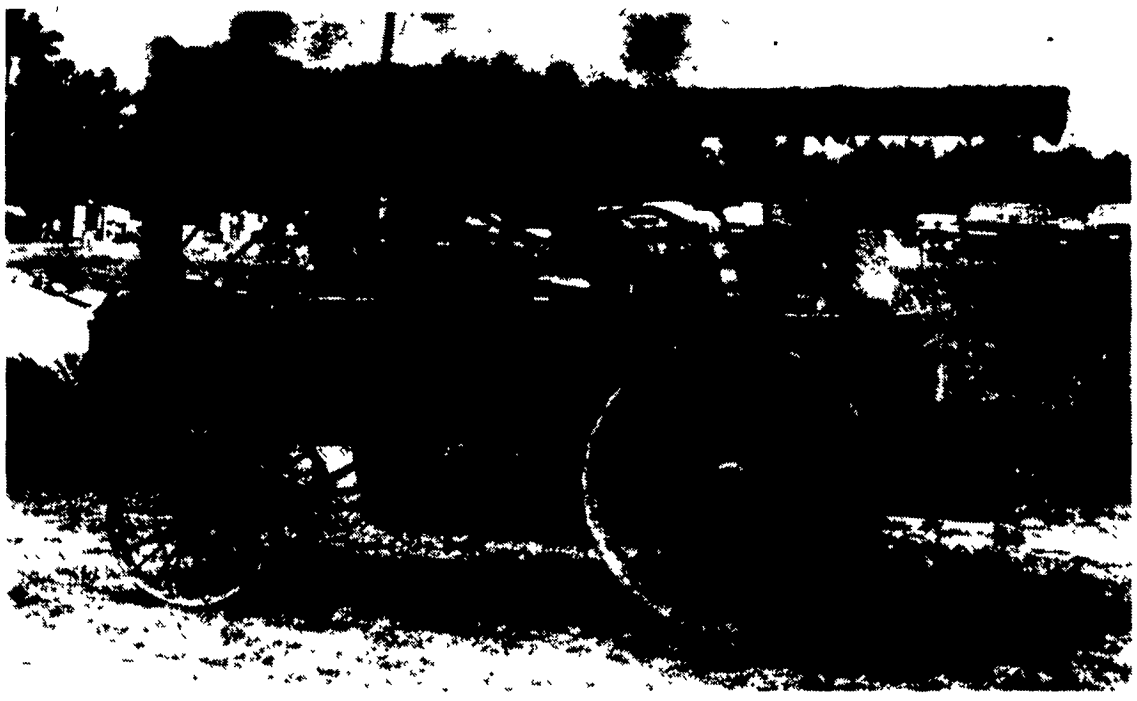
Sights, Sounds And Smells Take Folks Back In Time



Even the ladies get involved: Marilyn Malz of Andover, OH, at the controls of a 20 HP 1922 Aultman & Taylor engine.

BY RANDY WELLS
Indiana Co. Correspondent

To anyone who lived near a farm half a century ago, the clouds of black, sooty smoke and the shrill, ear-piercing shriek of whistles unmistakably belong to steam engines. Lots of steam engines.

And just as you did when you were threshing grain on a hot summer afternoon in the 1930s, you have to be careful where you stand when you visit Portersville in August. If you don't, you might find tiny red sparks from a steam engine smoke stack burning holes in your shirt.

Each summer one of the largest collections of antique farming machines gather in this small Butler County town just west of Interstate 79 for the Northwest Pennsylvania Steam Engine and Old Equipment Association's annual steam show. When this year's four-day show adjourned on August 6, association president Harold Bupp, announced the 27th annual meet had been the biggest yet, with more spectators than ever, and with 15 working steam engines and 220 other old tractors on display.

A commonly-heard remark was that the sounds and sights and smells "really take you back." And for many the names did too. Names like Aultman & Taylor, Port Huron, Orr & Sembower and Huber.

The black engines, with eight-foot high metal spoke wheels, chug around the grounds looking like railroad locomotives searching for their tracks. One would expect some type of rumbling thunder to accompany their bulky mass, but there is only an oddly quiet "shhhhhhh" as an operator opens a throttle and an engine picks up speed. Despite their size and weight, some appear to accelerate with surprising ease. A driver releases a combination of blasts through his steam whistle, and from across the show grounds another engine imitates him in a slightly different pitch.

The steam show is n ot a static display. There are engines running threshing machines, shingle-making machines, stone-crushing machines and grinding meal.

Bill Henry, Jr.'s 25-horsepower Frick engine was running a saw mill, and when a heavy log started into the blade and put a load on the engine, it provided lots of those hole-burning sparks.

Although the Frick looked much like the other engines chugging around the grounds, it is not self-propelled. It is referred to as a portable steam engine. In its working days a cast iron seat was attached to the front of the engine where a driver held the reins on a team of stout horses which pulled the engine to the next work site.

Steam engines are described by two different horsepower ratings, typically providing much more power off a belt than they do from a drawbar when the engine must carry its own massive weight. Wendell Bintrim of Harmony said his 1911 Case tractor developed 36 horsepower at the belt, but only 12 horsepower from the drawbar.

A 1921 Port Huron operated by Kevin Small of Portersville generated 65 horsepower at the belt, but when it had to move its own bulk, only 19 horsepower was available at the drawbar.

For some, the love of the old engines is a family affair. At the parade of steam engines Friday afternoon at the show, Jim Malz of Andover, Ohio, showed his 20 horsepower Aultman & Taylor engine. In line a short distance behind him was his wife Marilyn, driving a rare Huber steamer.

And not all of the interesting machines at the show were puffing steam. One of the most unusual looked more like a custom hot rod you would find at a car show in a shopping mall than a tractor you would see in a corn field. The 1938 Minneapolis Moline UDLX "Comfortractor" was built with the driver in mind. It featured an enclosed cab with windows all around and windshield wipers. All four wheels were covered by automobile-type fenders and there was a chrome bumper in back. To top it off, the body was a rakish orange.

Minneapolis Moline believed all tractors would soon have cabs, the public address announcer said at the parade, but the car-like Comfortractor was way ahead of its time.

"You could farm all week," the announcer said, "and if your son wanted a car on Saturday night, he could drive it to town. It had a road speed of over 40 mph."

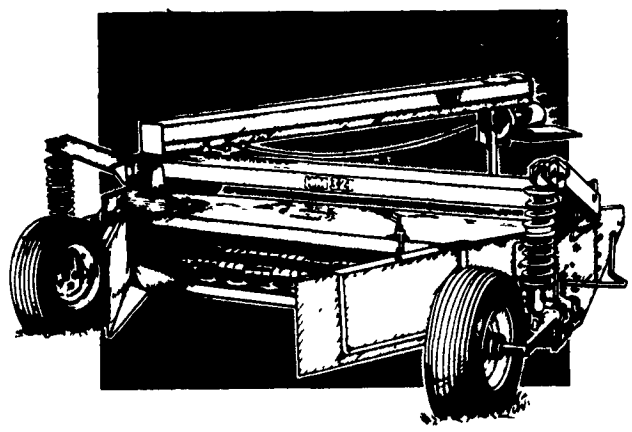
When visitors were ready to take a break, they could refresh themselves at a stand where a resourceful exhibitor used a tractor belt to turn the cranks on four 20-gallon ice cream freezers. Other diversions at the annual steam show included bluegrass music and square dancing, crosscut sawing contests, pony pulling contests and wood carving demonstrations.

On October 7 and 8 the association will hold its annual Fall Fling at the Portersville grounds where apple butter making takes center stage. On May 19 and 20, 1990, the Spring Gas-Up showcases old gas and diesel equipment.

But for those who enjoy the yesteryear sounds of hissing steam and smell of sooty smoke, August 2-5, 1990 are the dates to circle on long-range calendars. Those are the dates the big steam engines lumber back into the Portersville show grounds for the 28th annual steam engine show.

A working sawmill at the Portersville grounds is powered by a 25 HP Frick portable steam engine, owned by Bill Henry, Jr. of Fombell, Beaver County.

Fastest cut in the field



Get your hay in the windrow twice as fast as conventional systems with Vicon's KM mower conditioners.

High speed 3-bladed discs make 9000 cuts per minute lifting and slicing clean without plugging, even when hay is heavy and wet. Gentle, full width conditioning conserves leaves.

The patented drawbar and drive system lets you operate non-stop, cornering under full power without driveline vibration.

Want a faster harvest? Choose from four dependable KM models with working widths from 7'10" to 10'6", or the new 13' centrepivot unit.

Ag Progress Attendees Keep Their Cool With Ice Cream

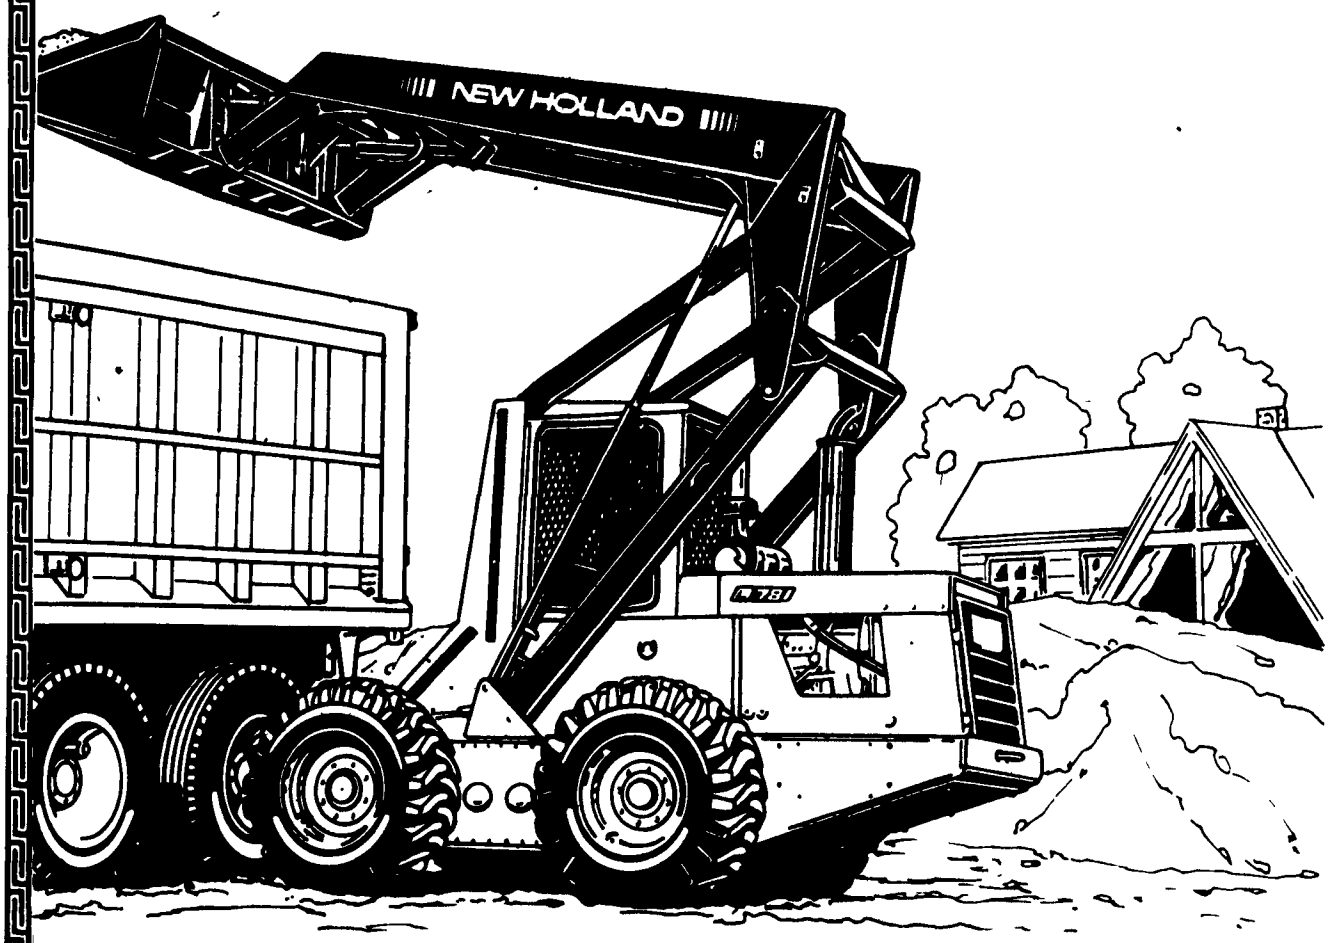
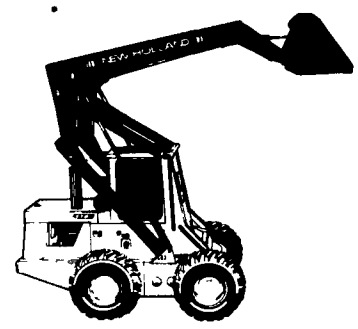
Reach for the sky!





Unmatched dump reach.

Get it done fast!

This loader does it all.

New Holland "Super Boom" loaders lift the payload forward as the boom rises. So you get more forward dump reach where you need it most. Extra dump reach means you can load the center of a tandem-axle dump truck.

Super Boom loaders also feature a longer wheelbase for increased stability and fast cycle times for more productivity.

Models range from 18 to 75 horsepower with SAE load ratings up to 2,050 pounds.

Ask us for a demonstration. You'll see how much better a skid-steer loader can be.

Tests on American Farms Prove Their Effectiveness

If you grow cherries, blueberries or sweet corn, you know what a menace birds can be. These remarkable bird-scare balloons, developed in Japan, and introduced to America three years ago, have passed the test with flying colors. In your garden, orchard, vineyard, or anywhere on your farm, these balloons from HESS AGRI MARKETING will do the job for you.

hillsboro

with flip-up beaver tail

Compare our quality and price!

Optional deck over the neck is 7½'x 8'

The FLIP-UP BEAVERTAIL raises and lowers in seconds -- slide out ramps are stored under the beavertail. The Hillsboro Flatbed features a full 96" deck width which is more value than the competition.

The Hillsboro Flatbed is available in two styles; the 20' and 24' trailer with standard neck, and the 28', 30' and 32' trailer with heavy duty neck.

VERSATILE — RUGGED — RELIABLE and REASONABLY PRICED!

The Hillsboro Flatbed Trailer with flip-up beavertail can be the one trailer that means lower cost for you. Here's why!!

VERSATILITY! That's what makes a Hillsboro trailer such a good investment. With the beavertail down it's an excellent trailer for moving wheeled equipment. Flip the beavertail up and it adds an extra four feet of deck space for hauling hay and other bulky loads.

HERE'S WHAT HILLSBORO QUALITY MEANS - All Hillsboro trailers are manufactured in precise jigs and fixtures which assures excellent alignment of axles, a better pulling trailer, a level and square trailer.

HILLSBORO WORKMANSHIP INCLUDES-Exceptional weld quality, material that is chemically cleaned, two coats of high quality paint, material strength engineered into the best flatbed value.

NOW IN STOCK... 12 DIFFERENT HILLSBORO TRAILERS TO CHOOSE FROM

All Trailers Come With A One Year Limited Warranty

SUPER HOPPER

NEW REDESIGNED 1989 TIMPTE GRAIN HOPPER

Got Grain? Then get the trailer that is Timpte tough... the Super Hopper. It's not only built to take it...it's also built to cut fuel costs. The Super Hopper is lightweight and aerodynamically designed to reduce wind drag. When there's grain to be hauled, Timpte does the haulin' best and pulls a lot easier than the rest.

ALUMINUM GOOSENECK TRAILERS

EBY BLUE BALL, PA

20' Gooseneck Trailer

A versatile, lightweight, Eby aluminum stock trailer is built to provide years of maintenance free service. An Eby trailer is custom built to fit your individual hauling needs - No mass production! We use only quality components and strong alloy aluminum to manufacture what may be the last trailer you'll ever buy.

- LIGHTWEIGHT - Eby stock trailers are 25-35% lighter than comparable steel trailers. Less weight means better fuel mileage or increased payload.
- MAINTENANCE- Eby aluminum trailers won't rust. Welding and painting can cost you dollars in down time and repairs.
- DURABILITY - Eby trailers are built tough. Quality components and 6061 alloy aluminum provide the ruggedness required in a livestock trailer.

ABS Sire News

Transmitting ability is one-half of each animal's Breeding Value or Genetic Merit. An animal's Breeding Value is the sum of the genetic effect of all of the genes received from both parents.

Since offspring receive a different sample of genes from each parent, transmitting ability measures the average effect of the genes transmitted by a parent to its offspring. The Breeding Value of an individual can be estimated as the sum of both parents' Transmitting Abilities or one-half of both parents' Breeding Values.

Mogens Stendal, Executive Secretary of the Danish Jersey Cattle Society, makes the following observations about TOP BRASS daughters in Denamrk:

- TOP BRASS has the highest breeding index for protein yield ever achieved by a Jersey sire in Denmark (at 93% repeatability).

The Danish Jersey breed is world renowned for protein production and takes considerable pride in the 3.94% protein average for the breed. At 93% repeatability 29 J2793 TOP BRASS has the highest breeding index for protein ever achieved by a Jersey sire in Denmark.

Genetic research clearly indicates that selection for high milk production will produce more protein than selection for high percent protein test.

New Percentile Ranking

Beginning with the July 1989 sire and cow evaluations, the percentile ranking will be based on PTA protein dollars, which considers the production of milk, fat, and protein.

Two key points can be drawn from these statistics. First of all, it again demonstrates the superiority of U.S. dairy genetics as compared to the genetics available from Canada (difference = 809 pounds). Secondly, it shows that the best available U.S. sired bulls are from the U.S. A.I. organizations.

Cow Longevity

Researcher, Brian Van Doormaal studied the length of time a cow stayed in its herd of origin in Canada and reached the following conclusions:

1. Milk, fat yield, protein yield, and final classification score are of equal importance in predicting the length of herd life in herds of purebred breeders.

2. Type traits had much less influence on longevity in commercial herds.

3. Mammary traits had the strongest relationship to longevity followed by feet and leg traits.

4. Stature, size, and rump traits are not good predictors of longevity.

July 1989 Calving Ease Changes

The 1989 Calving Ease Summary has arrived. 1,448 new bulls were summarized for the first time and 12,868 bulls were resummarized. The resummarized bulls had remarkable stability in their summaries. 12,613 (98%) changed by one point or less in percent difficult births. Only 255 bulls changed by more than one point and only 33 bulls changed by more than three points in comparison with the 1988 summary. All of the bulls that changed by more than 3 points had fewer than 75 calvings in their 1988 summary. Bulls with a large number of calvings changed very little in their evaluations. Dairymen can have confidence in evaluations of calving ease when a bull has an adequate number of calvings. ABS considers evaluations on less than 200 calvings to be preliminary. Calving ease ratings are obtained by statistical analysis of calving scores recorded by dairymen in ABS progeny test herds.

Ross Appointed Interim RCMA Head

BATAVIA, NY — Ed Anna resigned from the position of executive director and general manager of the Regional Cooperative Marketing Agency (RCMA), effective August 11, 1989. Carmen L. Ross was appointed interim executive director by RCMA's Board of Directors during the board's August meeting.

Ross brings 31 years of experience in the dairy industry to the director's position. He formerly was employed with the New York-New Jersey Market Administrator's Office, where he was chief auditor in charge of audit progarms and enforcement.

Anna served two years as RCMA's director during the formative period when RCMA expanded. He cited personal reasons for his resignation.

RCMA now serves 22,000 dairy farmers in 11 Northeastern states. RCMA collects, from the marketplace, a Class 1 fluid milk differential over the minimum Class 1 price set by the government, and RCMA returns this money in the form of "over-order premiums" to all its farmer-members. For the period from September 1987 through May 1989, RCMA has paid ou $66 million to its member farmers.

Dairy Kids Kick Off All-American September 25

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — It'll be heartbreak or high fives for some 3500 Pennsylvania dairy youth this summer on the road to the Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show September 25 at the Farm Show Complex, Harrisburg.

Future Farmers qualify their animals at six FFA regionals.

Over 4,000 4-H and FFA animals are expected to be shown in local and regional shows this summer, the dairy extension specialist says. He predicts less than 1,000 will reach the finals.

In 1988, Specht reports, 595 Pennsylvania farm kids qualified a record 975 cattle for the junior finals at the All-American. The young showmen can exhibit a maximum of three animals.

Three judging rings will operate simultaneously in the Large Arena this year, it also is noted. This to break the logjam of entries in the six dairy breeds.

"Judging just dragged out too long in recent years," Specht explains.

Special honors again will go to the highest ranked animals bred and owned by the junior showman, he says.

The Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show, now in its 34th year, is under the direction of the Penn State Cooperative Extension Service and State Bureau of Vocational Education. It has been held in conjunction with the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show since 1964.

July Milk Production

(Dauphin Co.) — Milk production in the state during July totaled 799 million pounds, 5 percent below July 1988, according to the Pennsylvania Agricultural Statistics Service (PASS).

The number of milk cows in the state during the month averaged 692,000 head, 2,000 more than June but 23,000 fewer than July 1988, PASS reported.

Production per cow averaged 1,155 pounds, 25 pounds less than June and 25 pounds below July a year ago.

BEILER ENGINE SERVICE
280 PENNSY ROAD, NEW PROVIDENCE PA 17560
LOMBARDINI · BRIGGS & STRATTON · Kawasaki
SALES-SERVICE-ENGINE DISTRIBUTOR

This twin 20 hp is becoming very popular for hay balers and other applications traditionally equipped with 2 cylinder Wisc. engines and can also replace the older 4 cylinder engines on some applications.

Works very well to run corn pickers, crimpers and mower crimper units. We can mount your Wisc. clutch reduction for $1495 or sell the engine with used Wisc. reduction for $1995. Price includes picking up your clutch and delivery of completed unit to you. (Lancaster County Only)

We offer in the field emergency service on baler engines.
Call Hoover Diesel at 717/786-7943 and they can contact us or our driver.

In Stock! Models 60RS And 72RS - Rear Mounted

The Models 60RS and 72RS are 3-point hitch mounted finishing cut mowers designed for Case IH tractors in the 15 to 40 PTO hp (11.2 to 29.8 kW) range.

Both 60RS and 72RS feature heavy duty gear box, shielded PTO drives, "B" section V-belt, blade spindle drive with strong loaded idler, and free-floating three-point lift system.

Three-spindle, high lift blade design provides smooth operation. Heavy gauge steel deck promotes long life. Two rollers and full pivoting gauge wheels are standard.

Case IH 60RS and 72RS mowers are easy to attach and control, easy to service and built for quality mowing, year after year.

60RS and 72RS SPECIFICATIONS

Width of cut ..... 60RS-60 in. (1.52 m)
..... 72RS - 72 in. (1.83 m)
Cutting height ..... 1¼ in. (31.75 mm) to 6 in. (152 mm), easily adjustable without tools in ½ in. (12.7 mm) increments.
Number of blade spindles ..... three heat treated spindles, rotating in precision ground ball bearings, for long life. Regreasable.
Blade overlap: 1 in.(25.4 mm) to avoid skipping, heat treated blades - high lift design, enclosed in deck housing.

TORQUE AMPLIFIERS & CLUTCHES

Over the past 8 years, we have sold thousands of T.A.'s to satisfied customers across the U.S. Some of our best customers are I.H. Dealers.

We do complete job or center housing while you wait or will sell you the parts.

Our prices on T.A.'s with the Dana Sprag, are now $645.00 with a 2 year warranty.
We also have units and parts available to rebuild old style T.A.'s, including Ramp & carrier sets for $300.00

Clutches, Pressure Plates PTO Drives & Water Pumps

We have clutches available for most all IH tractors; including many heavier than original. We also have clutches for many other brands.

- Compare Our Prices -

All clutches & T.A.'s will ship U.P.S. and are sold on an exchange basis. Core charges Apply.

QUALITY USED PARTS

We specialize in IH tractors but we also have Case, Oliver, White and Massey tractors in our inventory.

1st LAW Of Hoober Reconditioned Axial-Flow Combines

SEVEN (7) YEARS OLD IS NOT EQUAL TO (≠) WORN OUT

Because of the simple design of the CASE IH Axial Flow Combines, they can be reconditioned by Hoober's expert combine mechanics to like new condition, so they will provide 2nd and 3rd owners years of satisfactory and profitable operation.

2nd LAW Of Hoober Reconditioned Axial-Flow Combines

2500+HOURS PLUS (+) HOOBER RECONDITIONING EQUALS (=) YEARS OF DEPENDABLE SERVICE.

2500+ hours on a conventional combine usually means it will be too much trouble to be dependable. Axial-Flow Combines with 2500+ hours reconditioned by Hoober's have proven to run for years when bought by farmers in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and New York.

3rd Law Of Hoober Reconditioned Axial-Flow Combines

A CASE-IH AXIAL-FLOW COMBINE SERVICED BY EXPERT HOOBER COMBINE MECHANICS EQUALS (=) LITTLE OR NO DOWN TIME DURING HARVEST.

When Hoober's expert combine mechanics service Axial-Flow Combines in the off-season, they run trouble-free through the season.

ÖVERUM REVERSIBLE
PLOUGHS

Överum semi-mounted reversible plough 4–6 furrows

Överum's largest ploughs, the semi-mounted reversibles, have many features to allow high output and easy operation. Furrow widths are adjustable between 14", 16" and 18"

1. The semi-mounted reversible plough has been designed to give maximum maneuverability - it has a low centre of gravity and in transport position the plough follows directly behind the tractor.
2. The plough hitch frame is attached to the tractor's three point linkage. There are 3 different height positions to give the optimum weight distribution between plough and tractor in order to get the best traction and steering conditions. The design of the hitch frame and the large distance between the rear wheels of the tractor and the front furrows enables tight turns to be made without the plough tilting, thus reducing the size of headland necessary. Both of the turnover cylinders are double acting during rotation of the plough. First they lift the plough bodies over centre after which they slow the rotation to give a smooth positive turnover.
3. Overum's well-proven hydraulic stone release systems allow all bodies to be deflected both vertically and laterally. The hydraulic system can be adjusted to suit all soil conditions.
4. When turning the large rear wheel automatically aligns itself to the correct position. Because of the position of the wheel it is possible to plough very close to the edge of the field. When reversing the plough can be steered by moving the plough partially, to one side or the other, on the turnover mechanism.

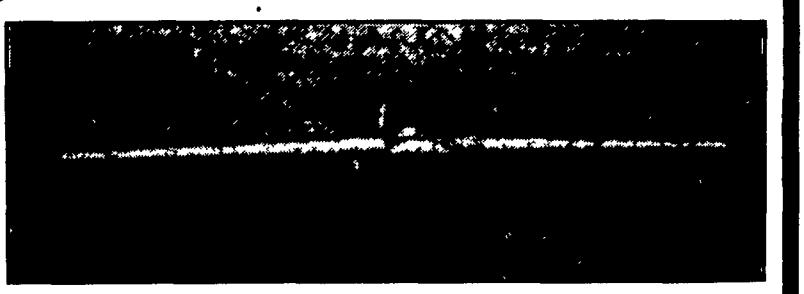
HARDI NEW

SEE THE NEW HARDI TWIN SYSTEM SPRAYER!



Air assistance for crop protection

Ongoing research by HARDI into improved methods of spraying has produced the TWIN SYSTEM air assisted sprayer.

The name "TWIN" indicates that the machine has the capability of spraying in either of two ways - traditionally, or with air assistance.

Results from the TWIN SYSTEM are:

- Increased spraying capacity using a lower application rate
- Better and more dependable results from your chemical
- Better coverage and more complete penetration
- Considerable reduction of wind drift
- Less dependency on weather conditions

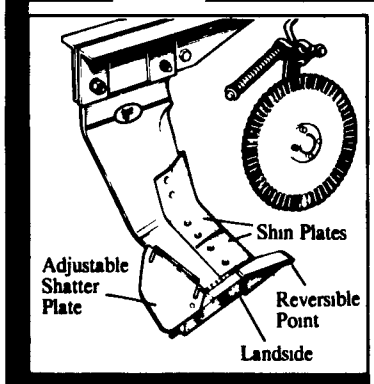
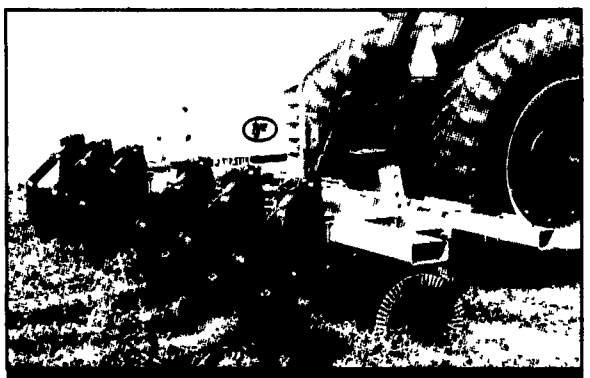
BREAKS UP SOIL COMPACTION, INCREASING YIELDS.



Proven Paratill leg design



One pass with a Paratill and you're ready to plant with higher yield potential.

Wide leg spacing for zone loosening. From 24"-40" rows.

Paratill®, the proven deep-tillage tool:

- Increases root growth by deep soil loosening.
- Preserves surface residue.
- Improves soil tilth and water intake.
- Improves fertilizer utilization.
- Breaks up compaction and plow pans to 14"-16" depth.
- Works in NoTill, RidgeTill and MinTill.
- Rugged, heavy-duty tool bar and frame construction.
- Choice of 2,4,6 & 8 leg models.
- Deep nutrient placement.
- Shear pin or safety-trip leg protection.

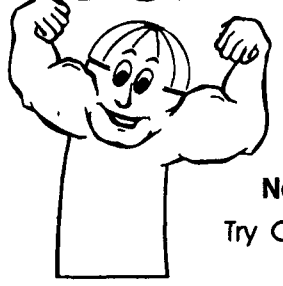
POLY SILO LINERS
for Upright Silos



If Your Silo Needs New Life...
Try Our Poly Silo Liners

- THE ADVANTAGE OF A POLY LINER -
- Spoilage is reduced around doors.
- Feed is exposed to less oxygen - better fermentation.
- Allows storage of high mositure grains or dry grains in a conventional silo.
- Delays repair or replacement of corroded silos.
- Prevents corrosive acids from contacting silo wall - extends silo life.
- Quick installation.
- Effectively seals silo from air and weather.

Ruff-Tuff Poly Silo Liners Come In Standard Lengths Of 40, 50, 60 and 70 Feet. The Liners Are Manufactured To Fit Most Standard Diameter Silos.

S & S SILO SERVICE

ATTENTION FARMERS
Strengthen And Reseal Your Silo With Shotcrete

S & S Silo Service Has Experience
Over 500 Silos Have Been Relined With Shotcrete

S&S Silo Service prepares the silo surface by using a 3,000 lb. pressure washer, thus making the silo moist, making a much better surface to bond shotcrete. After shotcreting, S&S always takes away any roughness by applying a steel trowel finish.

The excellent bonding of shotcrete to the silo will keep out moisture and prevent mold from growing on the side of the silo.

WARNING, ALL SILO OWNERS

Check Your Silo Now For Rotten Staves. If You Have Been Using Your Silo For 10 To 15 Years For Either Corn Silage Or Haylage, It Is Time To SHOTCRETE.

WARNING! DETERIORATING CONCRETE FROM CORN JUICE!

If you have a 15 year old silo... get it fixed or insure it better! But don't wait until the last minute to have it repaired because we may not be able to fix it if you wait too long.
REMEMBER your silo will not fall over when it's empty - it will fall over when it's full. It cannot stand on deteriorated concrete...

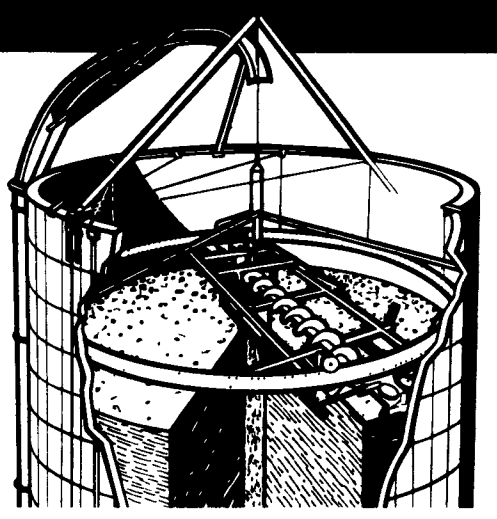
FACT: BIG JIM BEATS BOTTOM UNLOADERS COLD!



The Jamesway Big Jim system unloads silage from the top, then discharges it down a big preformed center hole and out the bottom. Result: You can store high moisture silage—with more total feed value than low moisture silage—without cold weather worries. And without the big price tag of oxygen-limiting, bottom-unloading systems See us soon for details.

WOW!! Can you believe this weather? Many areas that experienced "too dry" in '88 are now experiencing "too wet" in '89.

The weather has caused delays in most all activities relating to agriculture and construction. The weather is also causing forages to grow "like never before." We have been extremely busy all spring and summer and the interest for fall silos is at a very high level.

IN ORDER TO MEET THE EXPECTED DEMAND, WE ARE ADDING EVEN MORE CREWS, BUT, DON'T DELAY MUCH LONGER OR IT MAY BE DIFFICULT TO MEET YOUR SCHEDULE FOR A POURED CONCRETE SILO. WE'LL DO THE BEST WE CAN TO MEET YOUR NEEDS. PLEASE CALL SOON!!

Remember, we don't have used silos, rebuilt silos or pre-owned silos. The SOLLENBERGER SILO is all new, poured in place on your farm and built for generations of use.

Stressfighter.®

To Keep Your Cattle Up and Running.

Every time you upset your cattle's daily routine, they suffer stress. Weaning, shipping, receiving—all of these activities contribute to appetite and weight loss. Which means you lose profits.

But with the Master Mix® Stressfighter program, you can battle the devastating effects of cattle stress.

Specially formulated after years of research, Stressfighter feeds contain a palatable mixture of select roughages, proteins and energy to encourage healthy gains. And since stressed cattle often lose vital nutrients, Master Mix adds extra fortification of niacin and B-vitamins to Stressfighter feeds to return your calves to top condition.

Cattlemen across the country credit the Master Mix Stressfighter program for keeping their cattle "up and running." You can, too. Contact us for more information.

Schuylkill County 4-H Livestock Auction Nets $20,000

BY VAL VAN TASSEL
Berks Co. Correspondent

SUMMIT STATION (Schuylkill Co.)— "Don't watch her, watch me," auctioneer Ralph Zettlemoyer told one prospective buyer at the 6th annual Schuylkill County 4-H/FFA Livestock Show and Sale. More than 200 people crowded under the tent Saturday night at the Schuylkill County fair to see 47 youth projects auctioned off to the highest bidder. "Ladies, we can get you one of those lambs. You don't even have to take it home," he teased some women while they admired the woolly animals. Despite good-natured cajoling, Zettlemoyer didn't have much of a job getting more than $20,000 for the youngsters' animals. More than 50 bidders attended the event and 44 had a chance to buy.

Cressona Agway and Schuylkill Haven Agway Petroleum went together to buy the champion market steer owned by Mike Otto of the Blue Mountain FFA. Mike received a price of $1.75 a pound for a total of $1,995. The reserve, owned by Heather Moll of the Stampede 4-H, was sold to Keystone Farm Credit for $1.25 per pound or $1,512.50. Moll's steer had a rate of gain of 3.04 pounds per day.

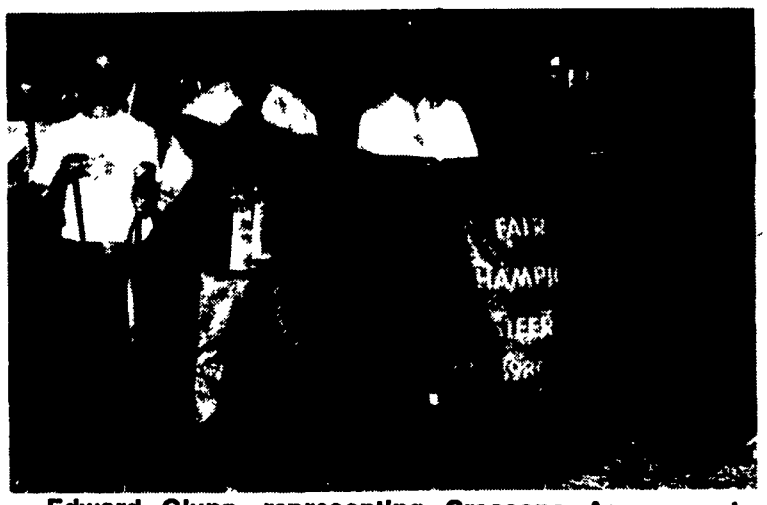
Shelia Stoffregen, another Stampede 4-H member, had the champion lamb, which was purchased by Lehr Feed and Farm Supply of Pine Grove. "Shelia bought her feed from us so we really wanted to support her here at the sale," Mark Lehr explained. While the family already has one sheep, Lehr said that the champion was going to a livestock auction for resale. The reserve, owned by Tony Shadle of the Tri Valley FFA, was bought by Steve Frantz and Steve Lowell of New York Life Insurance for $4.70 a pound or $385.40. Elizabeth Cornman of the Stampede 4-H had the number one rate-of-gain lamb coming in at .73 pounds a day. The lamb also was purchased by New York Life for $1.70 a pound or $197.20 total.

Two more Stampede 4-H members, Jonathan Flynn and Sara Evanchalk, had the top market swine. South Jersey Biological Farm of Pine Grove purchased both animals. Gregory Fedechko explained that the farm raises research animals, including swine, and that the pigs would be going home with them. Flynn received $3.20 a pound for his 218-pound pig and Evanchalk got an even $2 per pound for her 248-pound pig. The reserve was also the top animal in the rate-of-gain contest, putting on 2.6 pounds a day.

Flynn had an exceptionally good evening selling his champion swine, two additional pigs and a market steer. His first purchase with his bountiful windfall was the Schuylkill Fair's 1989 shawl for $130. The shawl, put together the day before by the Fiber Friends Craft Guild of Schuylkill County, traditionally is made from scratch at the fair, but Friday's rain moved the event off the fairgrounds to a drier location. It measured 20x70-inches and was made by the same group that was grand champions at the Farm Show three years ago. "It's a real bargain now. Remember the shawl went for $1,200," Zettlemoyer extolled the group.

Flynn outbid a number of would-be purchasers for the prize, and in front of the crowd put it around his mother's shoulders. His mom, Judy Flynn was one of the fair's officials and she had tears in her eyes.

A number of businesses also bought animals and donated them back to the fair, raising over $700 for the group.



Edward Glunz, representing Cressona Agway and Schuylkill Agway Petroleum, purchased the grand champion steer from Mike Otto for $1,995.

New York Life agents Steve Frantz and Steve Lowell bought the reserve champion lamb owned by Tony Schadle for $385.40.

No hog producer questions the importance of the boar. For a given mating, the boar contributes half of the genetic make-up in the offspring. But when you realize that the number of female replacements in a herd from one boar can number in the hundreds, it's easy to understand that a herd boar can hurt you as easily as he can help you. Let's take a brief look at the boar—not only from a genetic point of view, but from a management perspective as well.

Boars, for the most part, are handled the same as any other baby pig through the weaning period. The exception to this is the time of castration. Commercial producers normally get the castration chore out of the way before the pigs reach three weeks of age. Seedstock producers wait until pigs are at least six weeks old to allow more time to evaluate the boars.

But the decision to castrate or not to castrate should probably be made long before the newborn pigs

Yorkshire Association Plans Show

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — The Pennsylvania Yorkshire Association is holding their summer show and sale on September 8 and 9 at the Lebanon Area Fairgrounds. The association has invited the Pennsylvania Duroc and Pennsylvania Hampshire associations to participate in the event.

On Friday, September 8, at 1:00 p.m., there will be adult and junior judging contests open to anyone. An educational program will be conducted by Mike Cherchuck of Swine Imnprovement Services. Cherchuck will demonstrate his up-to-date scanning machine and tell of the importance of scanning and purebred hogs for genetic improvement. All hogs exhibited will be scanned for backfat and loin eye.

At 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, there will be a swine show with the sale to begin at 6:30 p.m. The top breeders in the state will be exhibiting their animals, giving commercial or purebred breeders the oppoortunity to buy top-quality animals hit the ground. In other words, if the mating was based on records of the sire and dam, and the intention is to sell boars from this mating, then there should be no reason to castrate unless there is a problem. When will you recognize the problem? For some abnormalities such as hernia (rupture) or poor underline, the producer can often spot them shortly after birth. For other traits such as structural soundness or conformation, the seedstock producer must wait weeks or even months to make a good evaluation. By that time, the boars may be too old to castrate without anesthesia.

WEANING TO MARKET WEIGHT

During this period of growth, at least two factors make boar management different from that of a typical market hog—nutrition and housing.

Early in life boars begin to secrete the male hormone testosterone. This hormone keeps the boar leaner and it makes him grow faster and more efficiently. To reach his growth potential, a more concentrated diet is needed—more protein, calcium and phosphorus. During the grower phase (40 to 125 pounds), boars should be fed a ration containing at least 18 percent crude protein (.95 percent lysine), .90 percent calcium and .70 percent phosphorus. From the 125 pounds to market weight, protein level can be reduced to 16 percent (.80 percent lysine), but calcium and phosphorus levels should remain at .90 percent and .70 percent.

Boars should be housed on concrete in conditions similar to that of the market hogs. And rather than growing the boars with barrows and gilts, they should be grown with other boars (in fenceline contact with gilts) to increase aggressiveness. The number of boars per pen varies from one seedstock producer to another. But keep in mind, the fewer boars you have in the pen, the further you're getting from what a market hog puts up with during the grower-finisher phase. Raising 20 boars together, in addition to the concrete surface, will quickly separate the rugged boars from the timid ones. That's what the commercial producer wants. After the boar takes on his intended duties, he will be less apt to develop problems. And theoretically, his offspring will be hardier.

MARKET WEIGHT TO BREEDING AGE

Once the boar reaches 230 pounds, the seedstock producer should be able to make a reasonable evaluation of structural soundness, carcass characteristics and hardiness. Boars that are unsound at this weight probably will not improve and should be sold. Other guidelines include the following:

- Litter size: At least 10 born live, 8.5 weaned.
- Age at 230 pounds: 155 days or less.
- Underline: 12 or more evenly spaced teats.
- Feed/gain: 2.75 or less.
- Daily gain: 2.00 pound per day or more.
- 10th rib fat: .70 inches or less (probe or ultrasonic).

Any questionable boars should sent for slaughter since the price at this weight is not discounted nearly as much as it is at the heavier weights. Boars hopefully are showing interest in breeding by time they reach 230 pounds, but they shouldn't be considered fertile until they're at least seven months old (usually 300 pounds or more).

HANDLING THE NEWLY PURCHASED BOAR

Boars, by state law, must be negative for brucellosis and pseudorabies before being sold for breeding. If the boar's final destination is Pennsylvania, he must be retested within 30 days. Boars should be purchased 30 to 45 days in advance of the breeding season to allow time for health checks, acclimation and test-mating. Younger boars should not be used until they reach at least seven and a half to eight months. Keep the boar isolated from the rest of the herd. Test-mating can be done soon after arrival, but it should be performed on a market gilt destined for slaughter to avoid any disease transmission before health status is confirmed.

BREEDING MANAGEMENT

Researchers and intensive operators are both teaching us lessons on boar power. We're discovering that anytime you use a boar more than once a day or more than six times per week, you risk a drop in conception rate and litter size. That guideline applies to mature boars. For young boars, three to four services per week would be a good maximum to shoot for. As a rule of thumb, when weaning a group of sows, provide one boar for every two to three sows.

Dry concrete with a light broom finish makes a practical breeding surface. Woven wire can also work. And some producers even use artificial turf, rubber mats or sand. Whatever the surface is, keep it dry. And if possible, keep the pen empty except when it's used for breeding.

HANDMATING VS PENMATING

The two drawbacks to handmating are, of course, time and space. But if you can take the time, you'll potentially overcome the typical problems observed with penmating—boar overuse, sows missed, and poor matings. If handmating is just not possible for your operation, then provide the next best thing by rotating boars at least once per day.

A ratio of one boar for 10 sows over a four-week breeding period is normally adequate. In other words, don't wean a group of 10, and expect one boar to get all the sows settled.

EFFECTS OF HIGH TEMPERATURE

Boars with only a one degree elevation in body temperature, can have a 70 percent reduction in sperm output. Recovery time is six to eight weeks. Putting drip coolers in the breeding barn will go a long way toward reducing summer infertility problems.

MISCELLANEOUS

Take the sow to the boar or the boar to the sow? It probably doesn't make much difference as long as you're consistent. The worst case is taking the boar to sow when he's used to the opposite. He may spend as much time exploring the pen as he does breeding the sow.

Remove tusks? Not humane and for most boars unnecessary. If the boar is mean and dangerous, the solution is not the bolt cutters or even a 2x4. Send him to the livestock auction.

What to do with problem boars? Contact the breeder. This should be done within 90 days of purchase. If the boar has a problem (slow to mount, poor mating ability, etc,), bring it to the breeders attention even if you're not ready for an adjustment. That way he's aware of the situation, he knows you're trying to correct the problem, and he'll be a lot more receptive to adjusting several months down the road if things don't work out. The usual adjustment policy is a new boar, and sending the first boar to slaughter with the check going to

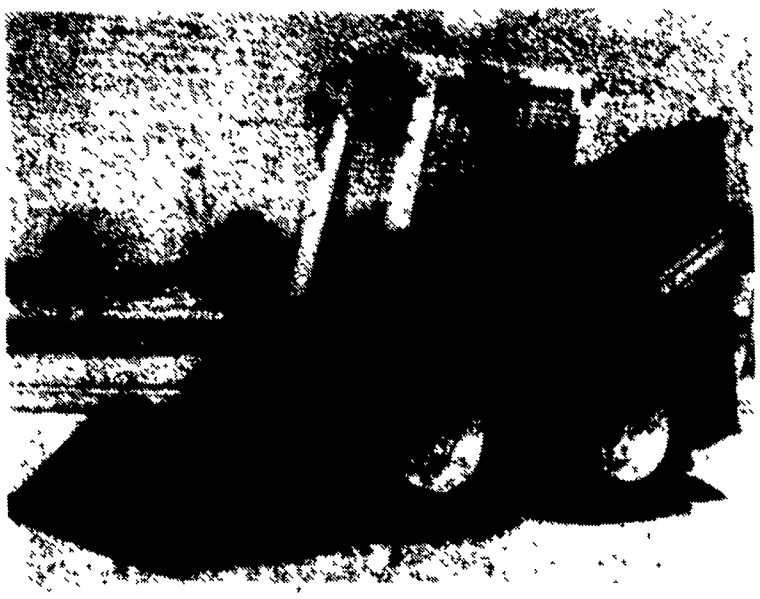
Gehl Offers 1,700-Pound-Capacity Skid Steer Loader



This skid steer loader accepts a large selection of Gehl attachments and has a 1,700-pound lift rating and 120-inch lift height.

WEST BEND, WI — The Gehl Company now offers its new 5620 skid steer loader with a 1,700-pound A.S.A.E. lift rating and 120-inch lift height.

"This 56-horsepower machine extends our comprehensive skid loader line to match our customers' needs even better," says Brad Boncher, Gehl product manager. "For those looking for a rugged, durable loader with more muscle, the 5620 has it."

The 5620 accepts a large selection of Gehl attachments and is ideal for handling manure, feed, fertilizer, seed, pallet work, snow, and construction projects.

Gehl offers skid loaders to match your needs in models ranging from 20 to 60 horsepower with A.S.A.E. operating capacities ranging from 750 to 2,050 pounds.

For more information contact Richard Burckardt, Gehl Company, 143 Water Street, West Bend, WI 53095, phone: 414/334-9461.

Thomson Publishes Pesiticide Book

FRESNO, CA — Answering the need for a single source of reliable information about pesticides, "The Pesticide Book," recently released by Thomson Publications, examines all aspects of pesticide — from their chemistry, mechanisms, and biological actions to their handling, storage, and disposal. Authoritative and practical, this comprehensive work covers such important topics as the advantages and disadvantages of employing chemical control and determination of risk-benefit ratios. Additional information on the application of pesticides also is supplied, augmented by valuable lists of basic manufacturers and restricted, suspended, canceled or banned pesticides.

This third edition is based on author George W. Wares' previous studies and is both an up-to-date appraisal of current research and a perceptive look ahead at pesticides for the future, conveying a new appreciation for this advanced segment of the chemical arts. This book is of special value to those preparing for applicator certification and licensing in the field of pesticide usage.

THE PESTICIDE BOOK is available through Thomson Publications for $27 plus tax and handling. Contact: Thomson Publications, P.O. Box 9335, Fresno, CA 93791; 209/435-2163.

New Electric Fencer Introduced

BARBOURSVILLE, VA — The long-time problem of reliably powering electric fences may now be a thing of the past, announced Bill Hess, of Sheepman Supply Co., in Barboursville.

Farm Products Group has introduced a new line of American-made electric fence controllers, designed to provide the same high quality as import brands, but at a much lower price.

In fact, they guarantee the quality.

"The Range Rider Model 50 is about half the price of comparative import models, can power over 50 miles of fence, and it costs about 25 cents a month to operate, but I think its best feature is that it comes with a two year warranty, which the imports don't have," said Hess, who has been in the sheep supply business since 1937, and whose company, Sheepman Supply Co., is marketing the new fencers.

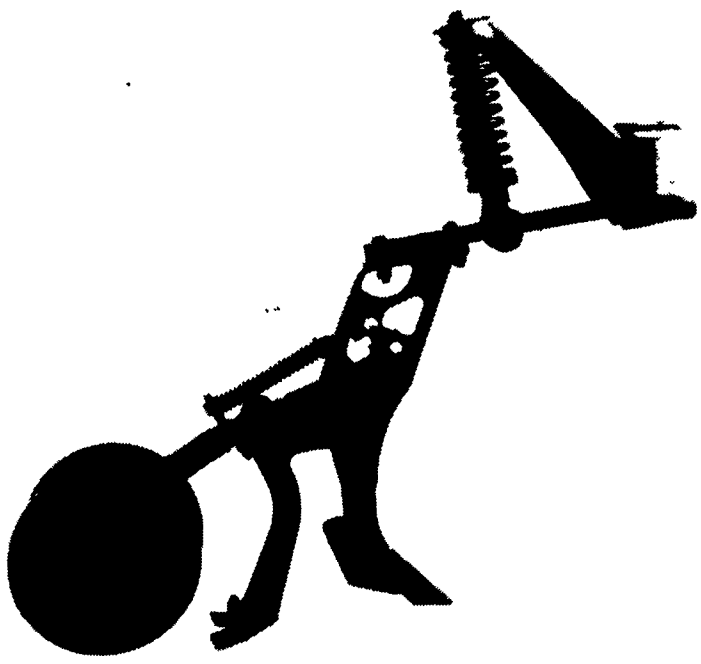
The Range Rider 50 has an advantage over conventional electric fence controllers because it's designed to maintain an effective voltage level as the fence load increases. This is accomplished through a special design curcuitry and transformer. Due to this increasing energy output, the low impedance unit is able to power longer, more heavily weeded fences. "I think the two year warranty should tell you that the company has confidence in this product," said Hess. "It can be hooked up to the existing fence in an instant, and it's ideal for confining sheep, goats, hogs and cows. It's also effective as a deer fence."

Another feature unique to the Range Rider Model 50 is its built-in, easy-to-read bar graph, which measures output voltage on fence wire. "You might have a tree down on your fence where you can't see it," said Hess. "The bar graph tells you there's a problem somewhere, so you don't have to find out about it the hard way."

Joining the Range Rider Model 50 in Sheepman Supply's new line is the Captivator Super 1200, an American-made portable 12-volt battery fencer, ideal for temporary fences or for fences away from an electricity source.

The Super 1200 outperforms other battery controllers because of its low impedance circuitry. The specially designed system allows the controller to supply more energy to heavier fence loads, and allows it to power longer (up to 20 miles), more heavily weeded fences.

For information, contact Sheepman Supply Co. in Care of Mary Johnson Advertising, 128 Belleview Ave., PO Box 844, Orange, Va. 22960.



New double-shoot opener with deep banding knife, when used with the John Deere 610 seeding tool, allows seeding and fertilizing at two separate levels in one pass over the field.

Deere Seeding Tool Has New Furrow Openings

MOLINE, IL. — Two new furrow openers for the John Deere 610 seeding tool allow farmers to seed and fertilize simultaneously (double-shoot), thus eliminating one pass over the field. The furrow openers, compatible only with the heavy-duty deep-banding opener, are available in 12 or 15 inch opener shank spacings.

On 12-inch spacing, the opener uses a 16-inch wheatland sweep. The seed is placed in two bands six inches apart with a split-row seeder opener. On 15-inch spacing, the opener uses an 18-inch wheatland sweep and the seed is placed in alternating rows of six and nine-inch spacing.

Fertilizer is laid separately at the same level between the two bands of seed. The wheatland sweep provides thorough tillage and 2x13 inch press wheels provide good seed-to-soil contact.

A new trailing V-opener, using a deep-banding knife, places the seed in split rows five inches apart. The deep-banding knife allows the farmer to seed and fertilize at two separate levels. The fertilizer is laid between and below the two rows of seed in the root zone.

With 15 inch spacing, the seed is placed in alternating rows of five and 10 inches and with 12 inch spacing, the seed is placed in alternating rows of five and seven inches apart. The opener and knife provide minimum tillage and the depth is gauged by 2x13-inch press wheels.

Conversion bundles are available to convert the 750 pounds heavy-duty deep-banding opener and double-shoot openers from one to the other.

The new furrow openers will be available November 1989.

Wind Diverter Protects Exhaust Fans

OSBORNE, KS — Wind pressure against unprotected exhaust fans can greatly reduce the actual day-to-day performance of ventilation fans. Recent research at Kansas State University, partially sponsored by Osborne Industries, Inc., has shown that such wind effects can be particularly devastating to the output of unprotected variable-speed fans. Research at KSU was directed toward performance analysis of an Osborne invention, the agri-aide wind diverter. The wind diverter was found to effectively protect fans from on-coming winds without severely restricting normal output. Test results also showed that fan protection provided by the wind diverter was significantly superior to that afforded by conventional weather hoods.

To test the wind diverter, KSU researchers placed a fan test-chamber (constructed by Osborne and instrumented at KSU to AMCA standards) into a university wind-tunnel which directed an artificial wind against various combinations of wind diverters and fans. Wind speeds were varied up to about 25 mph at various angles to the fan with and without protection.

The results show that ventilation rates can be severely effected without fan protection. Overall fan efficiency was improved in all cases. In some instances improvement was found to be as much as 50 percent with the wind diverter. The wind diverter also was found to be about 10 percent more effective than typical weather hoods at most wind speeds.

Osborne has recently been granted a U.S. Patent for the wind diverter concept. Wind diverter kits (WDK) are currently available for fans with up to 24-inch orifice diameter. The WDK comes complete with instructions for proper mounting to protect any exhaust fan.

For more information concerning the wind diverter and/or its evaluation tests, contact the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Kansas State University, Manhattan, KS, or Customer Service, Osborne Industries, Inc., P.O. Box 388, Osborne, KS 67473; 800/255-0316.

Evaluate the semen? You can. But the best and final test is whether the boar can breed and settle sows.

What to pay for a boar? The most important thing to remember is that the boar can take your herd forward or backward. For example, if you buy a boar that's too fat and he adds .1 inch of 10th rib fat to your market hogs, he's costing you at least a dollar a head for every hog you sell in the Hatfield grading program. If he improves the feed/gain ratio by .1 pound, he saving you at least $1.25 per head for each of his offspring on the finishing floor. So how much is the boar worth? That depends on how many sows you have, how well the boar works—and most importantly, whether or not he improves your genetic base.

SUMMARY

•1. Getting the boar to breeding age is different than raising a market hog to 230 pounds. The boar needs a higher level of protein and minerals. He needs to be raised under conditions that will permit a sound evaluation of his ability to withstand concrete and confinement conditions. And his performance records need to be documented. That helps the seedstock producer market the boar. And it helps the commercial producer understand what he's buying.

•2. When the newly purchased boar arrives at the commercial operation, he should be retested for brucellosis and PRV, and he should be test-mated. But you should keep him in isolation for at least 30 to 45 days.

•3. When weaning sows as a group, keep at least one boar for every two to three sows. Handmating is ideal. Penmating can work, provided boars are rotated often when sows are in heat.

•4. Remember that a cheap boar can cost you thousands in lost profit if he adds backfat, reduces feed efficiency or slows the growth rate in your market hogs.

Pennsylvania Angus Association Holds Field Day

Schuylkill County Dairy Show Is A Family Affair

BY VAL VANTASSEL
Berks Co. Correspondent

SUMMIT STATION (Berks Co.) — The Schuylkill County Open Dairy Show held Friday at the fairgrounds turned out to be a real family event. Of the 147 animals exhibited in the open show, 54 were trucked in by Harry and Fern Kurtz for themselves, their children and grandchildren and another 36 came in with the Miller family of Tamaqua.

"I have 12 grandchildren showing here today," Mrs. Kurtz said sitting on a bale of hay sorting out ribbons. Mrs. Kurtz and her daughter, Eileen Hostetter of Annville, skillfully managed to keep youngsters and their animals in the ring at all the right times and even came up with enough handlers to manage the group classes.

"We have animals in all six breeds at the fair," Brad Kurtz, one of her grandsons, explained proudly.

"The Schuylkill Fair is our main event. Of course we'll be bringing the youngsters that are old enough back for the 4-H District Show. Some of the younger ones don't win many prizes in the ring, but the experience is important and that's why we're here. This is a fine family fair and I hope it stays this way." Mrs. Kurtz said.

The number of Kurtz family animals is up significantly from last year's 36 and may go higher in the future. "I still have four grandchildren which aren't old enough to show and when the time comes I guess we'll be bringing more animals for them."

"She'll have 11 grandchildren in 4-H at the same time," daughter Eileen added.

The Millers of Tamaqua brought animals in four breeds including a couple of grand champions and some of the nicest looking bred-and-owned Holstein young stock of the show. Heidi Miller also had the grand and reserve champion Holsteins of the 4-H Show held the day before.

But it was Neil Rex of Andreas that exhibited the grand champion of the Holstein Open Class. "She is well put together with a fine spring or rib and she is walking on a good set of feet and legs. And most important she has an udder I just love," said judge Robert Kauffman. Kauffman picked the junior 2-year-old over a 3-year-old dry cow owned by Megan Moyer of Schuylkill Haven. "The reserve is an extremely clean cut animal, but she would have to be in milk to compete with the grand champion today," Kauffman explained.

Windmill Farms, a Brown Swiss operation in Pine Grove, had an excellent day at the fair. Allen Daubert, was owner and breeder, of the grand champion Wind Mill Hawkeye Elita, an aged cow. Reserve went to a 3-year-old, Wind Mill Titan Isie, owned and bred by William Daubert. Adam Spittler, a Daubert grandson, had the junior champion, a senior calf, and William Daubert had the reserve, a summer yearling.

It was much the same for Mildred Seeds of Downingtown in the Jersey category. Top-O-Hill Milestone Cutie, a 4-year-old bred and owned by Seeds, was selected as the grand champion. "This animal has a great udder and lots of stretch," Kauffman said explaining his choice. The reserve, a senior 2-year-old, and the junior champion, a senior yearling, were both bred and owned by Seeds. The junior reserve, a junior yearling owned by Glenn and Linda Curtis of Pine Grove, was also bred by Seeds.

Carl Miller of Tamaqua had the unusual fortune of having two grand champions in the same day. His 11-year-old Ayrshire, My Victory's Maden Karisma, was named grand champion. She also was honored as the oldest cow at the fair. While Karisma's udder was hanging a bit low her beautiful back line and dairy character convinced Kauffman to pick her over the reserve champion, a 3-year-old also owned by Miller. "There are few cows that will be in the herd as long as this 11-year-old," Kauffman said.

Miller's 4-year-old Guernsey, Liester Fayvor's Pet, was named as the top of her breed closely followed by a stylish 3-year-old owned by Cheryl Kutz of Pine Grove. Kutz also bred and owned the junior champion a junior yearling Miss Playboy Gem's Thomasina. Bradley Kurtz's intermediate calf was the reserve junior champion.

Craig Hostetter, Kurtz's cousin, found a way to have it all with only one animal. His senior calf, Pinesedge W.C. Carita, was the grand and junior champion of the Milking Shorthorn breed. It was also the only shorthorn at the show. While Hostetter took a lot of good natured joshing for his entry, Carita was a fine looking animal and she could have stood some competition.

Record-Breaking Lamb Sale Held

GOSHEN (Chester Co.) — The sixth annual Chester County 4-H market lamb sale held at the Goshen Fairgrounds easily broke all Chester County sales records this year as the grand champion lamb, shown by senior member Donna MacCauley, was bought by Brandywine Savings and Loan Association of Downingtown for $4.20 per pound. The bank, the purchasing bidder from 1985 to 1989, has strongly supported the 4-H sheep clubs of Chester County. The reserve grand champion lamb was shown by Kevin Smoker and also broke all previous records by selling to Walter M. Dunlap, Inc., for $3.25 per pound.

Donna MacCauley sold her grand champion market lamb to Gerry Williams of Brandywine Savings Bank.

The overall average of the sale broke all Chester County 4-H livestock sales records at $2.13 per pound on all 18 lambs sold, breaking the previous record by almost 50 cents per pound. Aquilante's Meat Market of Berwyn was the volume buyer of the evening, and very much appreciated by the 4-H'ers. Walter M. Dunlap, Inc., from the Lancaster Stockyards, and represented by Ken Smoker of Parkesburg, also has been a very strong supporter since 1985. Other local businesses represented were Brandywine Savings Bank of Downingtown, Cedar Grove Environmental Labs of Downingtown Creutzburg, Inc., of Paradise, Croppers Farm Market of Guthriesville, Downingtown National Bank of Downingtown, Keystone Farm Credit, ACA, of Avondale, Med-Trans Ambulance of Parkesburg, Ration Maker Premixes of Atglen, and Horace D: Wilson of Kimberton.

Susquehanna County 4-H 'Dairy Roundup

HARFORD (Susquehanna Co.)— A large and enthusiastic crowd was on hand on August 5 at Harford fairgrounds for the annual 4-H dairy roundup. Dick Packard, a well-known Bradford County dairy farmer, served as type judge for the day. John and Leslie Rhoades from Wyoming County judged showmanship and fitting respectively. Fifty-one 4-H members exhibited 78 head of dairy calves, heifers and cows.

Jody Williams of North Jackson Ag showed the senior and grand champion of the 57 Holsteins that were exhibited. Her aged cow, Gays Home Sheik Ambey, is a daughter of Puget Sound Sheik. Melinda Garner of the DES 4-H club had the reserve senior/reserve grand champion with her junior two-year-old Twogether Calypso Cindy, a daughter of Applenotch Valiant Calypso-ET. Trophies for these both were donated by Northeastern Farm Credit in Tunkhannock.

PULVI-MULCHER

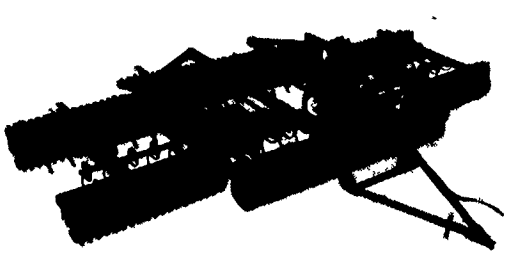
NEW WL SERIES



PULVI-MULCHERS

Brillion's Pulvi-Mulchers are one-pass secondary tillage tools that provide clod-free seedbeds

The front rollers of the Pulvi-Mulcher break up surface clods. "C" shaped ribbon teeth or "S" spring tine teeth break up the soil to six inches in depth and pull clods to the surface. The rear roller wheels then crush those clods and convert the soil into a firmed, mulched seedbed that locks in moisture at the root level.

The result is a uniformly firmed and tilled seedbed from top to bottom, but not compacted. You get the full benefit of the capillary action of the soil for better germination, better moisture condition and faster decomposition of trash.

ROLLER WHEELS

The fact that Brillion leads the industry in the sale of Pulverizers and Pulvi-Mulchers is because all Brillion Roller Wheels are made in Brillion's own modern foundry. This directly affects the cost and quality of these machines and gives Brillion a considerable advantage over the competition.

Brillion's newest design, a 20", six spoke ductile iron notched wheel, carries a five-year limited warranty against breakage. (Contact Brillion for details.)

junior two-year-old daughter of Modik Valiant Count-ET.

Senior and grand champion awards in the Jersey breed went to Melinda Quick of Rushville 4-H Club. Her four-year-old cow, D-Mar Janet FW Joyce, was sired by Rence Fascinator Woody. Reserve senior and grand champion Jersey honors went to Mark Supancik of North Jackson Ag for his aged cow, G R Jan Exceller Butternut sired by CBF Exceller. The junior jersey award also went to Mark Supancik for his summer yearling heifer, Sandy Bold Venture Sara, daughter of Bold Venture. Another summer yearling captured the reserve honors. This one was exhibited by Timothy Empet of North Jackson Ag. His heifer, Sunni Hope Top Saint Ruthie, was sired by Top Saint.

In the Brown Swiss breed, Mandy Van Kuren of DES Dairy was awarded the junior and grand champion awards for her senior calf, High Spruce Commander Jackie O, daughter of R Hart Eve T Commander. Melanie Carpenetti of the Deckertown 4-H club was named reserve junior and grand champion with her intermediate yearling, Brownie sired by Ventures ESP Babaray.

Ayrshire honors also went to Melanie Carpenetti, this time for her junior yearling heifer, Soteria Vera Lad Chastity, a daughter of Magic-Meadows Klondike's Lad. She was named both junior and grand champion in the Ayrshire show.

The senior and grand champion Guernsey awards went to Joseph Paolucci of the Deckertown 4-H club. His junior two-year-old, PR Casey Marlene Oakes, is sired by Martin Oaks MB Merv.

One of the major highlights of the day was the competition for the champion showman and fitter awards. Those 4-H'ers that received blue ribbons in either category are eligible to compete for that respective award. In the junior division Jennifer Sartell of North Jackson Ag was named both junior grand champion fitter and junior reserve champion showman. Mandy Van Kuren of the DES club was named junior grand champion showman. Mike Hubbard also of DES was named the junior reserve champion fitter for the day. Receiving a halter for third-place junior showman was Michelle Pavelski of North Jackson Ag.

In the senior division, Mark Supancik of North Jackson captured both the senior grand champion fitter and senior reserve champion showman awards. Tara Nayor of DES captured senior grand champion showman honors and Cathy Pavelski of North Jackson was named the senior reserve champion fitter. Rob Gustin of DES was selected for third-place senior showman receiving a halter.

Those that sponsored the showing and fitting champion awards were: Narrowsburg Feed, Dimock Feed Center, CS Catering and Photography, Dr. Helen Sheldon Longacre, Pease Farms, Da-Mar Jersey Farm, Harold and Jerome Hartt, Peoples National Bank of Montrose, Kilmer Insurance of Wyalusing and the Susquehanna County Holstein Club.

Soteria Vera Lad Chastity, a junior yearling heifer owned by Melanie Carpenetti, was named the grand champion Ayrshire. Offering her congratulations was Becky Hoover, Susquehanna County dairy princess.

Berks Holstein Club Holds A Black And White Night

BY VAL VANTASSEL
Berks Co. Correspondent

MYERSTOWN (Berks Co.) — Attending the Berks Co. Holstein Club's annual picnic Friday night was like taking part in a black-and-white fashion show. Holsteins on skies, Holsteins on the beach and Holsteins with big eyes decorated brightly colored sweatshirts. Entire herds strolled acrossed sweaters. There were hand painted Holsteins, Holstein hats, necklaces and pins not to mention the numerous Pa. Holstein jackets. Berks breeders just love their animals.

It was soon evident that the farmers knew their breed well. The group had the opportunity to judge three classes of Holsteins on the George and Mary Troutman farm, Myerstown. Men, women and youths compared sizes, examined udders and checked backlines while official judges Duane Stump and Gary Bicksler made their choices. In the crowd were a number of outstanding former 4-H and FFA judges as well as the folks which had trained them.

In the end the difference between the first and sixth place was miniscule, four points for the men, six points for the women and eight points for the youths. All three first-place winners scored 148.

Leading the pack for the men was Todd Miller of Hamburg, closely followed by David Pool, 147; David Schuler, the club's 145.5, Martin Getz, 145 and Nelson Troutman, 144.5.

Martha Heffner, Kutztown, was the top judge for the ladies followed by Barbara Bicksler, 146.5; Phoebe Bittler, 146, Barbara Lentz, 143.5; Kathy Schantz, 143, and Barbara Richard, 142.

Martha's daughter, Lynette took the top judging honors in the youth division followed by Chris Wagner, 146, David Lentz, 142.5, Dwight Stoltzfus, 142. Kirk Sattazahn, 141 and Jennifer Neiman, 140.

After the judging the members then had a chance to look over the Troutman's new parallel parlor.

The Blue Diamond parlor with Germania milkers has cut the time to milk the Troutman's 75 animals from 2½ hours to 1½ hours. The Troutmans have had the one side of the parlor for two months and the other side for a month and are happy with it.

After the milking demonstration the group headed to the hay storage barn which had been set up for a catered dinner in different to the rainy weather. The meal was followed by a slide show of Duane and Gary's European Judging Trip.

Among the youth winners at the Berks County Holstein Club Picnic was Lynette Heffner in first, Kirk Satazahn in fifth and Jennifer Neiman in sixth (right).

Only four points separated the top six judges in the Berks County Holstein Club cattle judging in the men's category. Todd Miller won the contest with a 148. David Pool, left, was a close second with a score of 147. Elwood DeLong was a point and a half behind Pool and came in

The ladies also had a good night with Barb Bicksler in second, Martha Haffner first, Kathy Schantz fifth, and Phoebe Bittler in third. Only six points separated first from sixth place.

Denver Fair Planned For September

DENVER (Lancaster Co.) — The 1989 Denver Fair will be held from Tuesday, September 12, through Saturday, September 16, at the Denver Memorial Park, rain or shine. Throughout the week there will be displays including: arts and crafts; agricultural; horticultural; canned and baked goods; commercial displays; and 4-H exhibits.

The fair will open on Tuesday at 5:00 p.m. Among Tuesday evening's events will be a baked goods auction beginning at 6:30 p.m. The Fair Queen Coronation will be held at 7:00 p.m. A Jello-Eating Contest will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday evening is also "Buddy Night". Bring your friend and the two of you can do the rides for the price of just one person. The recreation center will be closed for judging. Bingo will be held throughout the week, beginning Tuesday evening through Friday evening from 6-10 p.m., and on Saturday from 1:00 p.m. until closing, in the bingo tent on the main midway. "Buddy Night" is also from 6-10 p.m.

The annual parade, which is growing each year, will be held Wednesday, September 13, beginning promptly at 7:00 p.m. The rain date will be September 14 at 7:00 p.m. Trophies will be awarded in the following categories: commercial floats; non-commercial floats; youth group floats; baton groups; with and without drum lines; high school bands, including best drum major and best band front; a special entry trophy, a special entry with music trophy; and a miscellaneous category (anything not covered in above categories). Two judge's trophies will also be awarded. This year's parade will also include someone both the young and young at heart will enjoy — Ronald McDonald with his very own stage show! Anyone interested in our spectacular parade, may contact the Denver Borough Office at 267-2831, Monday through Friday, or write the Denver Fair Committee at 501 Main St., Denver, PA 17517. Come on down to the fairgrounds after the parade and see what's happening.

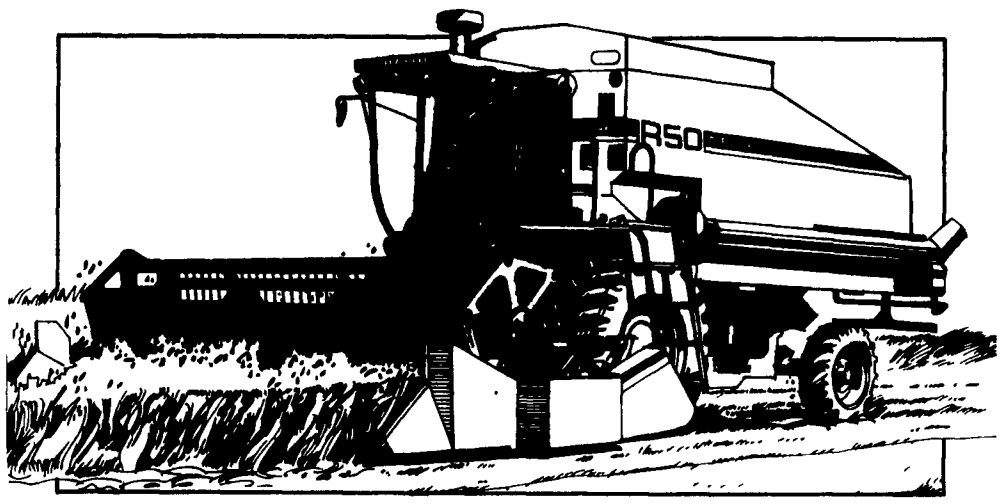
Thursday, September 14, will be "Family Night" from 6-10 p.m., sponsored by Groff's Snack Foods. Each person can ride all the rides for one low price. There will be entertainment on the midway provided by the Washtub Circus; America's biggest one-man circus. The sheep show will be held starting at 6:30 p.m. A Look-Alike Lip Sync Talent Show will begin at 7:00 p.m. If you enjoy entertaining your family and friends and have always dreamed of being on the stage, here's your chance to strut your stuff!

Friday, September 15, there will be free entertainment provided by Country Freedom from 7-10:30 p.m. The beef show will begin at 7:00 p.m. with an auction of fat steers following the show.

Saturday, September 16, we have a day filled with activities for all ages. We begin with a first-time treat--- a rabbit show with judging beginning at 9:00 a.m. Our ever popular Cow Chip Poker is back again beginning at 12:00 noon. The pet show, sponsored by Purina Mills, will begin at 12:00 noon. There will be an afternoon matinee, sponsored by the Reinholds VFW, from 1-5 p.m. Enjoy the rides during this time for just one price. The baby parade begins at 2:00 p.m. A new special event this year is the Smelly Sneaker Contest beginning at 3:30 p.m. Saturday evening get ready to roll back in time and rock the night away with free entertainment by Big Wheeley and the Whitewalls from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Come on down with a 1950's attitude dressed in your 1950's attire and you may be eligible for a prize!

Come and join us in celebrating our annual fair at the Denver Memorial Park on Main Street. There is free admission, free entertainment, free displays, delicious variety of foods, rides, kiddie rides, and much, much more. There will be access to offstreet parking both at the Pine Street entrance to the Park and in the Denver Borough lot on Main Street across from the Denver Memorial. Parking in either location is a $1.00 donation. Handicapped parking will be available upon request, which can be made at the Denver Fair office. No alcoholic beverages will be permitted on the fairgrounds. Remember, the fair will be held from September 12, through September 16, rain or shine.

Introducing the new-size rotary Gleaner combine.



R50

This is your kind of combine—rotary productivity for the price of a conventional combine.

This new-size rotary is just right for medium-to-large farming operations. Built with the best of Gleaner rotary technology. Built tough to stay on the job 'til harvesting is finished. Built for easy maintenance and handling. And powered by the world-famous Deutz air-cooled engine.

Here's your chance to improve harvesting efficiency. To put more clean grain in the bin. To give yourself a profit edge with more reliable harvesting.

Come in and get the full details. We can order one to meet your needs exactly.

Cumberland County Dairy Herd Improvement records show that 5,144 cows in 82 herds were on production testing in June according to Duane G. Duncan, County Agent.

Of the 67 official programs, 62 herds had an average fat production of 600 pounds. During the month 113 cows completed their 305 lactation with 650 lbs. of butterfat. DHIA Supervisors working with the dairymen to improve efficiency include Harold Boldosser, 130 Old Gap Road, Carlisle, PA; John Rolar, R.D. #2, Box 97, Newville, PA; Owen McCulloch, R.D. #2, Box 333, Newville, PA; and Shane Henry, R.D. #4, Box 917, Newville, PA. The following are the highest of actual butterfat in 305 days or less in the county during the month. The age listed is her age at the time of freshening.

Cumberland County Junior Dairy Show Champions

FFA grand champion was shown by Todd Rabert of Mechanicsburg. The winner was a senior 2-year-old, Berkheimer Wiseman Wanda. The FFA reserve grand champion was exhibited by Robert Smith of Shippensburg with R & M Acres Polly Revelation.

Milking Shorthorn Carlisle Fair and 4-H champion title was captured by Christine Young of Newville and her junior calf, Three Springs Shasta. Young's intermediate calf took the reserve junior championship, Three Springs Ashley. FFA junior champion was Three Springs Joy, also shown by Young.

Grand champion of the 4-H and fair was Young's 5-Years-&-Over, Three Springs BR LIL. Bryan Jones of Mechanicsburg took the reserve title with his 3-year-old, Pinesedge Solo 3D. FFA grand champion was Young's senior chalf, Three Springs Joy.

Grand champion was a senior-2-year-old, Toll-Gate-Ayr Magic Kittie owned by Mary E. Deaven. Reserve grand went to Deaven's 4-year-old, Flashy Princess of LDA.

Guernsey junior championship went Jeffrey McCullough of Newville and his summer yearling, McCulloughs Fayette Robin. Grand champion of the show went to a McCullough's dry cow senior 2-years & over, Summit Farms Janells Jessie. Reserve grand champion was McCulloughs junior 2-year-old, McCulloughs

Jeannie Cohick, Newburg, was named the Senior Division Inexperienced Dairy Showmanship winner at the Carlisle Fair 4-H Roundup. Shown with Jeannie is Galen Smith, who presented the award for Smithdale Farm.

Craig Walton, Carlisle, won the Experienced Dairy Showmanship Contest held at the Carlisle Fair on August 10. The award was sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative. Shown with Craig is 4-H leader, Galen Smith, Shippensburg. Craig also exhibited the Champion 4-H animal at the 1989 Cumberland County Roundup.

Todd Rabert, Mechanicsburg, is shown with his FFA champion Holstein along with Mark Naugle, president of the Cumberland County Holstein Club. The Holstein Club sponsored both the 4-H and FFA champion trophies presented at the Carlisle Fair.

Mary Ellen Deaven, Newburg, was a double winner at the Carlisle Fair and 4-H Dairy Roundup. From L-R are Mary Ellen with the Ayrshire grand and senior champion, Toll-Gate Ayr Magic Kittie, and the reserve grand and senior

Matthew Day, Shippensburg, won the Experienced Dairy Showmanship Contest held at the Carlisle Fair on August 10. The award was sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative. Shown with Matt is 4-H leader, Galen Smith

Youth Shine At Dauphin County Fair

The 4-H clubs of Dauphin County held their annual three-day fair August 10-12. The show features all aspects of 4-H. Champions were selected in all areas that 4-H offers projects. These champions compete in round-robin competition against the other champions to determine the winners of the Clover Awards. The Clover Award indications the champion with the most complete background. This year's winners in the family living division were Valerie Messick, Middletown, and Lisa Romberger, Millersburg. In the general division, they were Suzannah Hoover, Middletown, and Jesse Romberger, Millersburg. The livestock division winners were Malinda Schildt, Elizabethville, and Chad Lebo, Halifax.

A partial list of the winners in the different project areas follows.

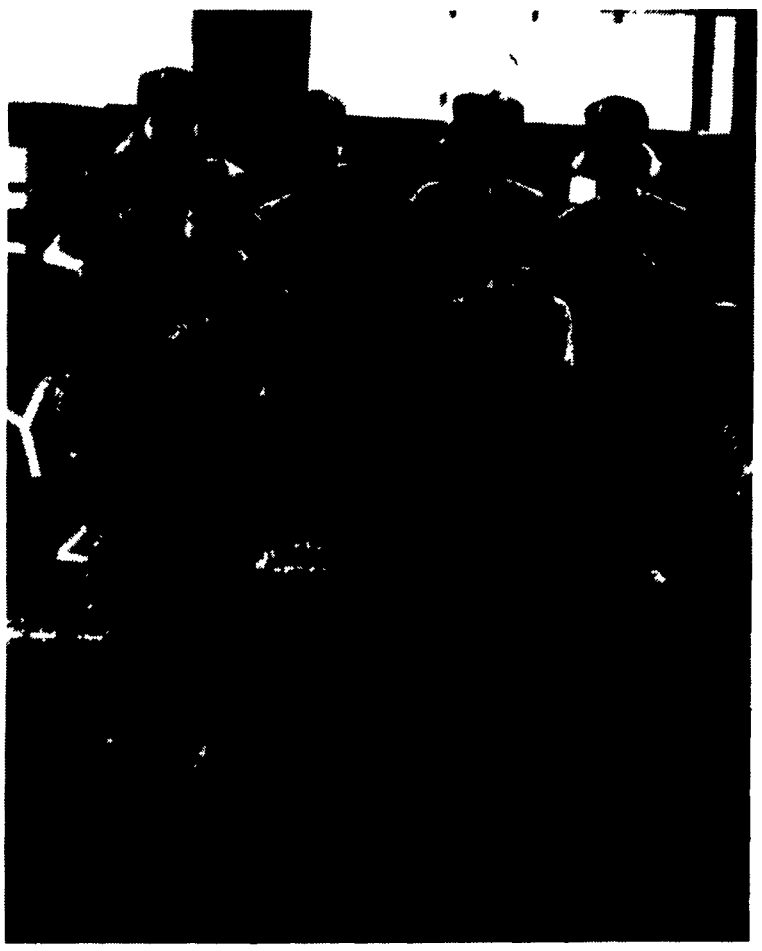
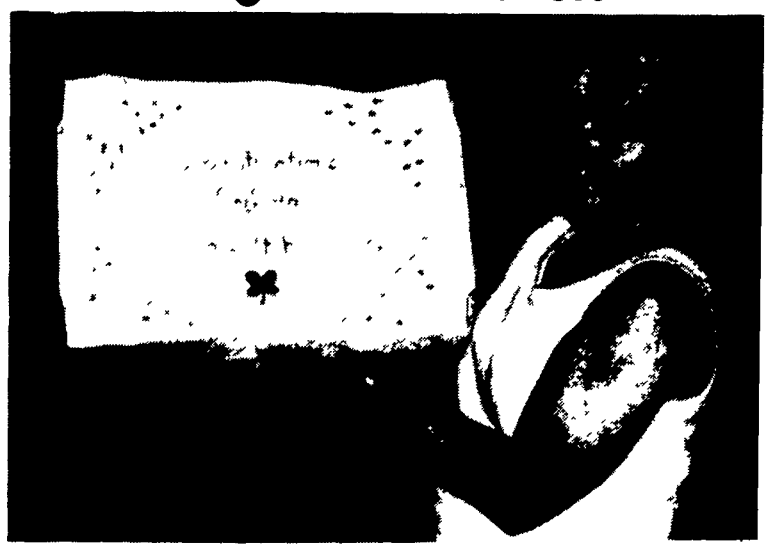
York County Lamb



The York County 4-H Lamb Club recently held its annual preview show during the York County 4-H Fair at the York fairgrounds. The members competed in showmanship and fitting classes. The following members received first place in their divisions. Back row, from left, Lisa Dechristopher, Adam Sellers, Jodi Dutrey, and Julie Kern; middle row, Steven Dechristopher, Drew Bankert, Jarrod Schiding; front row, Tabby Ebersole and Michael Klinedinst. The champion fitter and showmanship award went to Mike Klinedinst.

Progressive Clovers



Sylvnia Miller displays a cake that the Progressive Clovers 4-H Club members gave her for her dedication to 4-H.

Sylvia Miller is honored by members of the Progressive Clovers 4-H Club for her 20 years of service, dedication and many hours of volunteer work to the 4-H program. Everyone in the club is very proud to have Sylvia as their leader.

Eight year club member, Club President and 1989 Carroll County Dairy Princess, Miss Cindy Starner stated, "I would like to say, how good she (Sylvia) works with the kids (4-H'ers). The dedication and time she takes for all of us (members)."

On Sunday, July 23, 1989 Sylvia Miller was recognized for all her efforts at the Progressive Clovers 4-H Club's annual club picnic held at the Carroll County Agriculture Center in Westminster, Maryland. Where club members, parents and other members of their family enjoyed Hamburgers, Hot Dogs, variety of covered dishes and an Ice Cream Cake (see photo) decorated special for honoring Sylvia.

1989 BARN PAINTING
Latest Developments

1. PREPARATION - High volume water blasting at 1,000 lb. pressure re-surfaces barn siding into a smooth (like new) appearance!
   a. Performed by professionals quickly at reasonable cost.
   b By yourself with your own or rented equipment.
   c. Or other more conventional methods
2. APPLICATION - To insure better adherence to this super prepared surface, use the best fine bristle brush in four directions to evenly distribute the recommended mil thickness of seal coat coverage.
3. SPECIALIZATION - Every barn is different but generally it's best to use a high quality mildew resistant product, specially formulated to meet the requirements of this partially weathered wood that was and will be weather stressed.
4. WARNING - The modified oil latex is less effective as a wood preserver and actually increases nail & metal deterioration. Deal with home people. At their rates, I could double mine.

Soybean Meeting Scheduled

GRATZ (Dauphin Co.) — On Wednesday, August 30, from 1:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m., a field meeting will be held near Gratz, in Dauphin County on soybean production. The site is the location of three soybean demonstrations: Soybean varieties including dwarfs, determinant growth types, and indeterminant growth types, row width establishment, and soybean herbicides. John Yocum will present a discussion on soybean weed control options and new materials. Elwood Hatley will discuss fall management of the 1989 soybean crop and provide varietal evaluation comments. Pesticide recertification points will be available. For additional information, contact your Extension Office at 717/921-8803.

PURINA

Dairy Tips By Dr. John Clark

Purina Mills Dairy Consultant

FERMENTABLE FIBER

For over 100 years, crude fiber analysis was the only laboratory method used for determining fiber content of feeds. Now, we have two more modern chemical analysis methods that more accurately determine fiber content of forages. These are acid detergent & neutral detergent fiber (ADF & NDF).

Detergent fiber can be further classified into fermentable & non-fermentable fiber. The fiber that is digested in the rumen is referred to as fermentable fiber.

Fermentable fiber helps the rumen function better resulting in higher efficiency for milk & butterfat production.

MAKE MONEY WITH PURINA DAIRY DE-WORMERS

That's right! A regular de-worming program is profitable because it can add 500+ pounds of milk during a cows lactation. This means an additional $50.00 to $65.00 of milk income per cow with a cash outlay that takes less than two weeks to gain back. With our FALL "worm em ALL" pricing it is also most economical to worm heifers with the same product. This simplifies worming for you and means you only have to purchase one product for all your needs
